PROPRIETOR AND PUBLISHER.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 30, 1909.

Owing to a mishap to our machinery necessitating a delay of considerable time for repairs the Monitor-Sentinel is delayed several hours in going to press, and the following day being a holiday we are unable to reach any but local readers at the usual time. We trust our subscribers will pardon the typographical deficiencies of this issue.

The West is drawing largely upon the East for its trained workmen and the depletion is being felt in the industrial field of the maritime provinces. The trained man has an immense advantage over his untrained brother, in that he can face any new field of labor and be sure of an opening and a welcome in the ranks of the world's workers. While the professions are over-crowded there is always a demand for skilled honest labor.

The young man or boy leaving school now can make no mistake in taking up some good trade. The demand in the various departments of artisan life was never greater nor is there any danger of the field becoming over-crowded. But do not start in with the idea that you can get a smattering of this or that trade and then claim the rewards due honest labor. The careless, superficial, imperfect workman is soon recognized and wins no prizes in the industrial world. Whatever you do learn to do, do it well and thoroughly from the start and your own self respect as well as the respect of others will reward you, not to speak of the material remuneration the good workman is sure to acquire.

The Farmers' Excursion

The Farmer's Picnic to Truro to visit the Experimental Farm on Saturday of last week was a grand success. Over 2,500 people took advantage of the excursion and joined the "farmers" in sight seeing. The most eastern point from which the excursionists left was Bridgetown, where about 135 tickets were sold.

After dinner was served to the excursionists a stock exhibition was given in a large ring in front of the College, Professor Cumming addressing the crowd from the platform, after which Lieut. Governor Fraser who was also on the platform was called upon to deliver an address, and he was followed by B. E. Ferrow Professor of Forestry of the Toronto University. Mr. A. S. Barnstead followed next with a short speech. The many points of interest in the beautiful town of Truro were visited through the day, by most of the excursionists, including Victoria Park, which is one of the prettiest natural parks to be found in Canada.

How Truro Will Celebrate Its Old Home Week

Already those who have had experience in anniversary celebrations have made suggestions, all of which are suitable and most of them practical, says the Sun. The favorite idea seems to be to open up on Tuesday morning with a trades procession with calthumpian, polymorphian and historical adjuncts. The balance of the day will be devoted to visiting and getting acquainted, while various attractions will be presented to those who desire them. Wednesday is the day usually set aside for the Firemen's Tournament. That the program will prepare and present a program that will be second to none of its kind is axiomatic to those who have acquaintance with the genial "chief" and his lieutenants. For the other days there is talk of a Provincial Baseball Tournament, a Provincial Tennis Tournament, a Provincial Golf Tournament and a Junior Bisley on the new rifle range. These different contests could be going on simultaneously so that those who didn't care for one branch of sport could gratify their wishes by witnessing another. A monster promenade concert in Victoria Park is an attraction that has been received without a dissenting protest. The prevailing sentiment seems to be to make this such a grand illumination and musical treat that even the heart of James D. will be content. A proposal to invite the M. P. A. A. to hold their annual championship in Truro on this occasion has been received with approval in varying degrees. At any rate there will doubtless be other sports in addition to those provided by the firemen. In all probability there will be electric light sports on the Athletic Club grounds. Other attractions of less general interest have also been proposed, so that by adopting only a portion of the suggestions a wide variety of entertainment will be provided, whereas if all were endorsed visitors would not have an idle moment, and this The Sun has no doubt will be the aim of the committee. Let all who visit Truro in 1910 know they have been there.

Winfield Scott Tucker Removes to Springfield, Mass.

The Contract, of Hartford, Conn., thus refers to Mr. W. S. Tucker, a son-in-law of the late Solomon Chute:—

"Professor Winfield Scott Tucker, instructor in manual training, in the public schools, is to tender his resignation to Superintendent S. H. Holmes of the public schools today. He has just been elected to teach in the vocational school to be conducted in Springfield. The plan is to select fifty boys from the 200 or more who have applied for admission to the school during the first year. Twenty-five of these boys will be taught by Professor Tucker and the other twenty-five by C. J. Sanborn, who is to be associated with him in the school. The first year nothing very elaborate will be undertaken by the school. There will be two three hours sessions a day as well as a half day Saturdays. The morning sessions will be held in one or two of the grammar schools, and the afternoon session in the technical high school. The work in the morning will be academic and the afternoon for technical instruction. Professor Tucker will have a splendid chance to follow out the line of special work in which he has been so deeply interested. He has taught for the past six years in the local schools, and has given excellent satisfaction. He came here from Winchester, Mass. He is a graduate of the New York Technical School. He is worshipful master of Centennial Lodge, F. and A. M., and his many Masonic friends will be pleased to hear that he will serve his year out as presiding officer of the lodge coming here from Springfield at considerable personal sacrifice to attend the lodge."

The more a man denies himself, the more he shall obtain from God.—Horace.

The worst education which teaches self-denial is better than the best which teaches everything else, and not that.—John Sterling.

There never did and never will exist anything permanently noble and excellent in a character which was a stranger to the exercise of resolute self-denial.—Sir Walter Scott.

No man has come to true greatness who has not felt in some degree that his life belongs to his race, and that what God gives him He gives him for mankind.—Phillips Brooks.

Upper Granville

Mr. Harry Miller, late purchaser of Mr. D. B. Phinney's fine farm, has removed his family thither, where he purposes permanently residing.

A peep into a shady nook on Mr. Fred Stone's premises reveals mammoth 'potato tops,' corn, lettuce and other varieties in garden culture. This out of 'town limits' is worthy of notice.

The roads are receiving their annual overhauling and repairing, it is to be hoped with good results. Granville with all its natural beauty cannot attain perfection until road improvement is secured.

Robert Walker, son of the late Albert Walker, is again domiciled in Granville, after two or three years absence from his native soil, having purchased part of what was once known as the Israel Longley farm.

The sweet June days are waning and cloudless sunshine has been almost daily ours. Continued dry weather is causing some uneasiness as to fruit and hay crops, but we trust timely and welcome showers will be shortly at hand.

Belle Isle

Mrs. Frank F. Bent entertained a small party of lady friends at tea on Wednesday afternoon of last week.

Mrs. Samuel C. Churchill and son, Gordon, of Marlboro, Mass., are visiting her father, Mr. Israel Longley.

Mrs. Fred E. Covert and daughter, Ruth, of Somerville, Mass., are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George R. Gesner.

Mr. and Mrs. Borden Chapman, of Amherst, are spending a few days here, the guests of Mrs. Chapman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Israel F. Parker.

The Ice-Cream Social held at the new Hall on the 14th, by the young ladies of the choir of St. Mary, was quite a success financially, the sum of $14.00 being netted.

The Rev. H. W. Cunningham, rector of St. George, Halifax, officiated at the Church of St. Mary on Sunday last. He preached most impressively from Joshua, 1st chapter, 6th verse. It has been eighteen years since he was rector of this parish. He spoke very feelingly of the many who had gone down into the "Valley of Silence" since then.

June Weddings

23rd, when their eldest daughter, Rachel Viola, was united in marriage to Melbourne Slocumb, of Mount Hanley.

As the Wedding March was rendered by Miss Lettie Marshall, cousin of the bride, the contracting parties entered the room and took their places under an arch of evergreen embellished with white flowers.

The ceremony was performed in the presence of about sixty guests.

The bride was becomingly attired in a suit of blue broadcloth.

After congratulations were extended a bountiful repast was served and a very pleasant evening spent.

The bride was the recipient of many valuable and useful presents, including silver, glass, and quite a sum in money, showing the esteem in which the bride was held.

Mr. and Mrs. Slocumb will reside in Mount Hanley. Their many friends unite in wishing them a happy and prosperous future.
