In addition to these facts the inducements offered to any enterprising capitalist who will crect a first class hotel here are 1: that the North-vest land Co. offer four lots on Stephen avenue on the corner opposite the Hudson Bay Co's store, and the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. offer free transportation for all material to be used in the construction of the hote These terms, will doubtless be supplemented by others so that the offer can be said to be an uncommonly good one. We have at last succeeded in making the McLeod Gazette offer some kind of a reply to our criticismof its position on the leas question. The reply as might have been expected is a lame and characteristic one. It is a tissue of misrepresentation, vanity and persona ity. We could if we chose resort to the tu gouque argument but ever one knows that that kind of reason ing is only employed when there is an absence of facts and figures The way in which we have dealt with the Gazette is this: we have quoted from its own pages to expose its own glaring inconsistency in dealing with the lease question In giving the extracts we have neither garbled nor misrepresented We have placed side by side its own utterances, and if ever there was audacious inconsistency it has been displayed in the columns of our McLeod contemporary. was only the other day that one of the most prominent ranchemen in the country complained to us of the lack of consistency to be found in the columns of the Gazette on this very lease question. The Gazette is evidently bent on profiting by a few hints recently thrown out to its management if not to its editor, for in the leading article in its issue of the 20th inst which article professes to be a "crusher" we ex tract the following : "While the feelings of the Gazette on the subject of leasing lands or free ranging cattle, are well known and though we have struggled for two years for what we considered, and what we still consider, the best interests of the country at large and the development of the cattle business in particular the Government have fully determined that the present system shall be given a fair trial, and little further can be done un til its success or the reserve has experience. In all this the men Government must be protected in the Indian Department will profit, their rights." Precisely so. This a grain of common sense mixed with a great deal that is personal and self laudatory. No doubt that the "recent inspiration" which our rural contemporary has received has had a convincing effect. We are glad that it has been beneficial. By and bye the Gazette will Suitable for getting good colts for this droppits twaddle about itself and country. Stands at S. H. > The enumerator for this polling division with the assistance of two or three manipulators has managed to get out a list of voters that reflects the highest credit upon his partizan zeal. Between forty and fifty names of well known supporters of Mr. Geddes were left out and about wha of names were put on whom the enumerator must have been aware had no right to be inserted. Names such as Capt. Boynton, Owens, J. Foote, J. Mckelvie, M. G. McLean, H. Evans D. McDouga. Louis Beaupre and more than a score of others, were in continently left off the list. A man who takes an oath to discharge his duty faithfully and honestly and who has acted as Mr. Colvin has done leaves no room for any other conclusion than that he has acted contrary to what is just and proper. His appointment came from the returning officer, a fact which will account for the circumstance of his conduct A man who is incapable of doing the square thing as an enumerator should not have been appointed A meaner piece of business than this has not been transacted in the district. Such tactics show what might be expected were such men to have much authority vested in them. It is formunate that the law has a protecting clause in the in: terests of the voter. Had it not been for this there is no doubt that this precious returning board would have elected Mr. Oswald in advan

The Gazette ought to be reliable authority on the state of temperance in McLeod but when this contributer affirms that drunken rows are very common here it is endeavoring to exceed old Annanias himself.
