

SHORT'S

STEEL BARB WIRE

Is adopted by railroads, stockmen and farmers on account of its SUPERIOR STYLE OF BARR, which passes between the two wires, then wound around both, and afterwards galvanized by a PATENT PROCESS, which prevents the barbs from rusting, and consequently when an animal is punctured it will heal quickly and not fester as is the case with rusty and ragged barbs.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

The few... which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, not equalled by any other medicine. It is the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their painful effects, that is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its early use in sudden attacks. Prepared by

THE CATHOLICITY OF THE Presbyterian Church,

By Rev. Professor Campbell, M.A., Presbyterian College, Montreal.

It is well reasoned throughout, contains passages of great eloquence, and proves its author to be a master in Ecclesiastical History. It is in the form of a neat little Pamphlet of thirty-two pages, being the first of a series of "Tracts on Presbyterian Topics" which the Publisher intends giving to the world, and he must say that he has made a good beginning. CANADA PRESBYTERIAN.

Scientific and Useful.

PENCIL marks can be rendered indelible by dipping the paper in skim-milk and ironing on the wrong side after drying.

CREAM CAKE.—Whites of four eggs, one cup of white sugar, two teacups of flour, one cup of sour cream, three teaspoonsful of baking powder and a pinch of salt. Flavour with vanilla.

When canning fruit have a cup of flower paste ready; if your rubbers are old, or the zinc rings or covers are bent a little, you may still make them air-tight with the paste. If you are at all doubtful about the condition of your can, it is a good notion to use the paste.

ANOTHER GROVE OF MONSTER TREES.—A grove of mammoth trees, ninety-three in number, and many over one hundred feet in circumference, has been discovered in California. These monsters are some eighty miles north of the big trees usually visited by travellers in the Yosemite route.

For general purposes on the farm kerosene oil, with a little kerosene added, is the best lubricator and preserver. For saws, mowers, huggles, and the like, this mixture furnishes more body with less gum than most other oils. The amount of kerosene, if any, to be added, must be governed by the purpose for which it was designed.

A FRENCH journal states that chloride of lime scattered about where rats and mice frequent will cause them to desert the spot. A solution of it brushed over plants will effectually protect them from insects. If scattered over ground infested with grubs, it will free it from them entirely. Bunches of cotton-wool smeared with a mixture of chloride of lime and hog's lard, and tied about in different parts of a tree, will guard it against the attack of insects, slugs, grubs, etc., and drive away those already in possession.

For beef croquettes take cold roast beef or veal, mince it first; chop up together a small onion, sweet marjoram, a little powdered cloves; moisten with beef gravy, and make up the whole mixture into oval shapes; dredge with bread crumbs, before moistening in yolk of egg after, to secure a crumbly surface; plunge in frying-basket for a few minutes until the outside is a golden brown. Remember that croquettes are always made of meat which has been previously cooked, and only need to be warm inside and brown without.

VARIETY IN MEALS.—Nothing is more unsatisfactory than to sit down day after day to the same bill of fare. There are houses where the mistress seems to have no inventive faculty, acquired or innate. Breakfast consists from Monday until Saturday of the same fried pork and potatoes, or sausage and cake. Remnants of things come on again and again, growing small by degrees, till one grows tired of seeing the dish of apple sauce or the saucer of prunes, and is tempted to give them to the dog or the pigs. All this can be remedied by a little plan. Manage for your own family as if you had guests, and vary the arrangements of your table and the articles of your diet. Health will be preserved thus, and dyspepsia averted.

THE LENGTH OF HUMAN LIFE.—Reasoning from analogy, men ought to live a century, as it seems to be a general law in the animal creation, that life should be five times the period required for growth. Many of the insect tribes mature and fructify in an hour and die before the close of the day. A dog grows for two years and lives eight; an ox grows for four years and lives sixteen; a horse grows for five years and lives twenty-five years; a camel grows for eight years and lives forty; a man grows for twenty years and should live to one hundred. It is a recognized fact in physiology that the longer a child is in getting its full growth, the longer it will live. "Early ripe, early rot" is almost a proverb. Children who grow rapidly are always weakly. In France the rich men average twelve years of life longer than the poor.

IT SAVED MY LIFE.

The value of human life is so supremely important that anything which tends to its prolongation is entitled to the highest consideration. Speaking to us recently on this subject, Charles Nelson, Esq., proprietor Nelson House, Port Hope, observed. I suffered so with rheumatism that my arm withered, and physicians could not help me. I was in despair of my life, when some one advised me to try St. Jacobs Oil. I did so, and, as if by magic, I was instantly relieved, and by continued use of the Oil entirely cured. I thank heaven for this wonderful remedy for it saved my life. I have also cured my wife.—Port Hope (Adm.) Can. Herald.
