We Solicit Examination by the Trade

We call attention particularly to the construction of FIRE POT. It will be noticed by an examination of the engravings that between the fire and the iron containing the water there is a lining of brick, by the use of which we obtain a perfectly bright fire on the outer edge as well as in the centre, which is the great defect in all other Boilers.

HEATING SURFACE.

On examining the engravings it will be observed that the products of combustion, gases, heat, etc., after leaving the fire pot section are carried through a number of tubes into an expansion chamber, where, striking the bottom of the next section above, they spread to find their exit through another series of tubes to another expansion chamber, where they are spread as before, thus striking successively the bottom surfaces of five sections before reaching the final exit at the pipe leading to the chimney flue.

It will be at once conceded that heat applied in this way is much more effective than though applied to the side surface of cast or wrought iron pipe, a familiar illustration of this will be afforded by suggesting the relative value of fire applied to the bottom of a tea-kettle or to its side.

An Old Soldier's EXPERIENCE.

"Calver, Texas,
May 3, 1882.

"I wish to express my appreciation of the valuable qualities of

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

as a cough remedy.
"While with Churchill's army, just before the battle of Vicksburg, I contracted a severe cold, which terminated in a dangerous cough. I found no relief till on our march we came to a country store, where, on asking for some remedy, I was urged to try AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.
"I did so, and was rapidly cured. Since then I have kept the PECTORAL constantly by me, for family use, and I have found it to be an invaluable remedy for throat and lung diseases.
J. W. WHITLEY."

Thousands of testimonials certify to the prompt cure of all bronchial and lung affections, by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. Being very palatable, the youngest children take it readily.
