STUDENTS' EYES AND THEIR NEEDS

University men and women should be very particular about their eyes. If vision is poor, or reading tires, or eyestrain is suspected, the matter should be looked into at once and a remedy found. Time and nervous energy should not be wasted in student days.
Don't let matters simply take their course-do something-the finest service is at your command at the "Potter" optical house. Call if you will and Mr. Petry will advise with you-will answer your questions freely and help in every possible way
Let him test your eyes and supply glasses-the test will be conducted with the utmost care and accuracy, and the glasses will be made as well as it is possible to make them anywhere.
There is a discount to students from the regular prices (twenty ## sKating carnival

The coming Saturday evening will see a transformation scene in the big Stadium Rink. The fancy-dress Carnival which is to take place under the Auspices of the Hockey Club of the University will be an unprecedented event in University circles. Spectators, as well as contestants for the prizes for best costumes, will enjoy a feast for sore eyes. There will be lifelike representations and possibly charicatures of every known celebrity from Henry VIII to Maurice Hutton and Ramsay Wright. And whether funny, original or historical, the 12 best costumed ladies and gentlemen will be honored and rewarded for their pains. The scene will surely be a blaze of color, beauty and ingenuity. The grand march for the judging of costumes comes at 9 o'clock. And from 8 to 10 o'clock the band plays.
Tickets are but general admission prices, single, 15 cents; double 25 cents.

QUERY: WHAT IS PORESTRY?

standing to-day on agricultural soils must eventually fall to the axe.
Curious as it may seem, many who believe in the practice of forestry have really forgotten that the ultimate result of forestry is the production of timber for the use of man. Those people look upon the cutting of virgin timber as some sort of a crime, and have to some extent led the lumberman to believe that we are not in sympathy with him but appear rather as his enemies. They either forget of do not understand that in virgin woods such as we find the lumberman exploiting to-day, there is no growth taking place, or at least no more than will be offset by the decay. It resembles the miser's gold-it is dead capital (if there is such a thing). In order to save this growth that is now merely offsetting decay, we must use the axe, cut away all but the normal stock and start a new crop. Indeed, Roosevelt in his first message to Congress said forestry was "the perpetua tion of the forest by its wise use." Of course we would like to see the lumber man's method improved, and, without doubt, it will be when he can financially see his way clear to do so. As Dr. Fernow has so often accentuated it is rather the knowledge of supply and demand than the fact itself that sets prices, and as soon as our people gain that knowledge prices will be such as to allow the lumberman to more closely follow our wish.
This, then, suggests the questionCan the lumberman practise forestry? The one element in the business that practically settles this is the "time". Under the most intensive methods it is going to take, in Canada, from 60-120 years to grow a crop of timber. Now as the lumberman is wholly concerned with the present, or at least with the near future, it is seen that he is barred. We can, of course, be of help to a man in the lumber business and he can to some ex tent practise forestry, but finally it is the will have to provide for the future. This is more than ever true when we come to realize that forestry means foregoing present revenues for the sake of increased revenues in the future. Therefore it is apparent that the present non-productive condition of the great bulk of our forests in the East is to be charged not to the lumberman so much as to the indifference of the provincial governments responsible for the welfare of the crown lands.
In my mind then the points to be dwe upon in an explanation of the question are--imber production for the use of man lived instifutions.
