

- Flint*, "Geography of the Mississippi Valley" quoted, ii. 185, 186.
Flinter (Lieut.-Gen.), his work on Portorico, i. 39.
Foreign trade, theory that it is less advantageous than colonial, considered, i. 225; ii. 311—316.
French colonies, Lect. II. National peculiarities, i. 57. 78. System of government, 52. Administration, 60. Statistics, 66. Report on the emancipation of slaves, 322.
Georgia, its original constitution, i. 91.
Gipps (Sir George), his opinions respecting the sale of land in Australia, ii. 74, 75.
Governments of the British North American Colonies, of three kinds,—Royal, Charter, and Proprietary, i. 89.
Greek colonies, theory of Mr. Wakefield respecting density of population in them, ii. 82.
Grey (Captain), his proposal respecting the extension of British law to natives in Australia, ii. 167.
Guaranis, reductions of the Jesuits among, i. 278. (See Missions, Paraguay.)
Guatemala, or Central America, statistics, i. 31. Ruined cities, ii. 220.
Guiana, British, statistics, i. 95. 329. Its economical condition at the period of emancipation, and effects of that measure, 309. Great demand for labour there, 310. Abandonment of old land there, 317. Natives, ii. 157. Rates of wages and prices, 246.
Gurney (Mr.), his "Winter in the West Indies" quoted, i. 307, 308.
Hayti (St. Domingo), its great prosperity under the French, i. 62. Statistics, 65. Decay of civilization, 313.
Head (Sir Francis), his project for removing the Indians of Upper Canada to the Manitoulin Isle, ii. 176.
Heeren, i. 45. 83.
Horton (Sir Wilmot), i. 136. 141.
Hottentots, increase of population among, ii. 210.
Humboldt (Fou), i. 269. 275. 289; ii. 157. 189. 224. His account of the state of Mexico at the period of his visit, i. 20. His views respecting the economical prospects of the British sugar islands, 63.
Indented servants, in the old English North American colonies, i. 92; ii. 28.
Indians of Spanish America, legislation respecting, i. 4. 270. Ancient civilization, i. 269. Their general condition under the government of Spain, 273. Perpetual minority, ib. Character of officers appointed for their protection, 275. Condition of, under missionary government, i. 281—291.
Indians of Brazil, i. 46. 286.
Indians of North America, their general character, ii. 156. Policy of this country and the United States towards them, in respect of reservations of land for their use, 171—181. Their highly religious character, 185—190. Their diminution, 208.
Indians of Guiana, ii. 157.