MEET OF THE HOUNDS.

The hounds will meet at Todmorden tomorrow at three o'clock Tuesday.

Charles A. Comiskey, president of the White Sox, has issued an official notice that he will retire and let some one else direct the activities of his club next season.

"After the Sox make the trip around the world this winter I will be thru with baseball," said the "old Roman." "Beginning with the trip, I shall have a real vacation, and somebody else will have to look after the team."

Thursday will be Frank Chance Day in Chicago, when friends of the former leader of the Cubs will turn out by thousands to greet him in the uniform of New York. No doubt, the "fame" of Frank Chance and then not for the White Sox, but it is whispered that Ray Keating will be moved for that auspicious occasion, in which case the Yankees are sure to put their best foot forward.

When the Boston Braves defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates for the fourth straight time on Friday it was the first time in thirteen years that Boston has won a full series from Pittsburgh in the Pirates' visited Boston for a series of five games and were beaten five in a row.
