

CONTENTS

CHAPTER IV

DR. JOHN BAYNE, "FATHER OF THE FREE CHURCH" PAGE

One of the most remarkable men I ever met—Rev. John Bayne, D.D., the "Father of the Free Church" in Canada—His characteristics and career—"Evidences of Design in the Works of Creation"—Curious interview with the Doctor—His preaching recalled the old pictures of John Knox preaching before Queen Mary—Calvinism vs. Arminianism when the battle was hot—Personal anecdotes—Dr. Bayne visits Scotland—Leads the Disruption Movement in Canada—His sudden death

39

CHAPTER V

GEORGE BROWN IN AN OLD-TIME ELECTION

The press of Canada in early days—The Browns and the Globe—Haldimand election—Divisions in the Reform party—Old-fashioned Canadian elections as seen in Kent and Lambton—Amusing incidents of the contest—Highland hospitality—Donald Mactavish wants "no Tinklers to sit in Parliament"—Hincksites vs. Brownites—David Christie, M.P.P., to the rescue—The battle of Glenmorris—Political banquet in Galt—George Brown as he appeared at thirty-four

49

CHAPTER VI

CAREER AND FALL OF THE HINCKS MINISTRY

Public opinion crystallizing against the Hincks Administration—Their failure to settle the Clergy Reserves and Seigniorial questions—Meeting of Parliament in 1854—Defeat of the Ministry—Lord Elgin dissolves Parliament—Sir Allan McNab and William Lyon Mackenzie join hands in a turbulent scene—The general elections prove a political muddle—The Waterloos as an illustration—The Foley-Macdougall contest—The appeal to the people most singular and unsatisfactory

61

CHAPTER VII

UNEXPECTED TURN OF THE POLITICAL CRISIS.

The new Parliament called—The Hincks-Morin Ministry beaten and resigns—Lord Elgin in a difficult position—Unexpected turn of the political crisis—The Hon. John A. Macdonald the rising hope of the Tory party—A sharp curve to office—