WRECKED BY MAJEE GOLD

One View of British Political Crisis, Due to Redmond's Recent Tour.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.) LONDON, Nov. 13.—General election now is that the election will be in December. The Chronicle says it is certain that it will be fought and won by December 20.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—A cabinet meeting on Monday or Tuesday will decide what step the government will take to bring the political crisis to a focus. The plan most likely to be agreed upon is the immediate dissolution of parliament. While the government might send a bill embodying its veto proposals to the house of lords for consideration, the lords would certainly reject it, but probably would consume much time in its consideration, and discuss the general question of the reform of the upper house along the lines suggested by Lord Rosebery.

Premier Asquith returned yesterday from Sandringham, where he was in consultation with the King. He left quickly for a brief stay in the country. The other members of the cabinet are scattered in the provinces. No further steps in arranging the government's program are likely before the cabinet meets.

"Home Rule and Home Rule With American Money," "England's Debt," "The Two Hundred Thousand Dollars." These headings appear to-day in the Sunday Observer, which first started the campaign of the Conservative press in favor of the Nationalist.

Frederick Edwin Smith, M.P. for Liverpool, a prominent Conservative, speaking at Brockley last night, ridiculed Premier Asquith, as the successor of Chamberlain, declaring that he was powerless until the appearance of the unknown king of political mediocrity, with his pockets bulging with American gold.

REDMOND GIVEN GREAT RECEPTION ON LANDING

Irish Leader Spoke With Enthusiasm of His Welcome in America.

QUEENSTOWN, Nov. 13.—John E. Redmond, leader of the Irish parliamentary party, which has been on an extended tour of America, arrived here last night on the steamship Celtic, from New York. There was a big gathering of representatives of public bodies and political parties, as special interest attaches to Mr. Redmond's return, with reference to the Nationalist in the present political crisis. Replying to an address of welcome, Mr. Redmond dwelt with enthusiasm on his reception in America.

Like Parnell's Home Coming. CORK, Nov. 13.—No such demonstration has been witnessed at Corkhaven since Parnell returned from America on his tour in 1880, as the welcome given to John E. Redmond and other members of the Irish deputation, when the steamship Celtic appeared yesterday afternoon. Great bonfires burned on all the hilltops, salutes were fired and rockets sent up.

Blames Crisis on Redmond. DUNGARVEN, Nov. 13.—Mr. Redmond's American speeches were responsible for the present political crisis, according to William O'Brien, the leader of the faction of the Nationalists opposed to Redmond, in an address here last night. Mr. O'Brien declared that Mr. Redmond had repudiated his own words, and that this had wrecked the Tory party to revolt and wreck the Tory conference.

Cause of the Collapse. LONDON, Nov. 13.—(New York Sun Cable.)—The confusion from which American politics is just emerging is more than matched by the utter demoralization which now prevails in British public affairs. Ten days ago there was every reason to believe that a modus vivendi had been reached between the two principal parties by which a calm settlement might be reached on non-partisan lines of the great constitutional question of a second chamber in place of the present house of lords.

Mr. Balfour, Lord Lansdowne and Austen Chamberlain were ready to make an agreement at the cost of considerable concessions. Before giving final consent, however, Mr. Balfour thought it would be best to secure from the conference permission to consult with the members of the last Unionist cabinet in order to make sure that he was acting with the full support of his party.

The result was a threat of revolt by a sufficiently numerous section of the old guard to compel him to withdraw his assent to the compromise. Three more meetings of the conference were held, but no fresh basis of agreement could be found.

The members of the conference decided not to disclose the details of the negotiations or the cause of their failure, but it is well understood among the leaders of both parties that the collapse was due to a Unionist split as outlined above. It is also known that both sides equally resent Irish

U.S. Not Hopeful Of an Agreement

List of Articles Canada Offers to Admit at Reduced Rates is Found Disappointingly Small.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—The state department officials, while they have not yet been acquainted with the details of the three-day conference at Ottawa last week between Canadian and American conferees, looking to a reciprocity agreement, do not expect a general agreement as an immediate result of the conference. The interests of the two countries are too extensive to admit of the violent de-arrangement that might be expected to follow a sweeping readjustment.

It is understood that each side at Ottawa contended itself with submitting a very limited list of articles, upon which the principle of reciprocity might be tried. Included in the Canadian proposal were timber, grain, a whole line of agricultural products, and perhaps live stock and meats. Wood pulp may not be put on the free list, but in any event it is marked for a substantial reduction.

There is reason to believe that the list of articles that Canada offers to admit from America at reduced rates is disappointingly small.

SHERIFF BRODDY DIES AT HOME IN BRAMPTON

For 45 Years Sheriff of Peel—One of Last Officials Appointed Prior to Confederation.

BRAMPTON, Nov. 13.—(Special.)—Robert Broddy, for forty-five years sheriff of the County of Peel, died at his home here this evening. He was 82 years of age. Born in the County of Peel, he spent his whole life within its borders. As a young man he was division court clerk, before the separation of York and Peel. He was appointed sheriff by the old Conservative administration, and is said to be the last of the officials appointed prior to confederation.

Possessed of excellent judgment, cautiousness and strict integrity, for many years he was a central figure in the public and judicial life of the county, and had the confidence of a very large percentage of the people.

He was a member of the Methodist Church, foremost amongst the officials and active supporters of that denomination. He is survived by one daughter, wife of J. W. Duggan, manager of the Daily Estate. The funeral will take place on Tuesday.

THE LATE KING'S FRIENDS

They Seem to Have Dropped Out of Royal Circle.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—(N.Y. Sun Cable.)—A well-known and well-informed writer on society matters writes that he has not been publicly noticed, how completely the late King's set has dropped out of notice. People about whom everyone gossiped and chattered in the last reign have sunk into complete insignificance. No one notices them in print, and an odd thing is that most of them seem to have faded off the race courses and other such places where they used to be snapped up.

Meanwhile, the domesticity of the new sovereign is such that at Balmoral the royal pair invariably went to bed at 10.30, while the guests used to take her knitting with her when she went for a walk and pulled it out of her pocket whenever she sat down. There will be a fresh development of the revival of needlework for ladies.

CHICAGO IS GENEROUS

Gives Firemen and Police Ten Per Cent. Salary Increase.

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—Recognizing the merits of arguments advanced by policemen and firemen that the increased cost of living has left their salaries inadequate for their needs, Mayor Busse yesterday approved 10 per cent. increases for 1911. The salaries of pipemen, truckmen and drivers in the fire department and patrolmen in the police department are:

Fire—Half year, $75 month; 1 1/2 years, $88; 2 1/2 years, $96.25; thereafter, $103.75. Police—One year, $75 per month; 2 years, $83.52; 3 years, $100; thereafter, $110.

DIDN'T FEEL HIS CONTRACT

And Ontario Immigration Officer Orders His Deportation—Results in Important Case.

As a result of the imprisonment of Alex Harper, a Scotch immigrant, for alleged breach of contract with the Ontario Government, his counsel, John M. Godfrey, stated last night that he intended to test in the courts the power of the law in respect to such cases. Mr. Godfrey, who considers the man was most unfairly treated, lays the blame of responsibility upon Donald Sutherland, the provincial immigration officer, whom he charges with having adopted an unreasonable attitude.

The circumstances are these: Harper came to Canada on an agreement with the Dominion Government that, in consideration of its admitting him to the country without the sum of $25 ordinarily demanded to be shown by immigrants, he would take a job on a farm. He came to Toronto and got work with William Dalley, cartage agent.

Here he was visited by Robert Boston, a Dominion official, and ordered to pay $25. He didn't do so, and Mr. Sutherland, acting in co-operation with the Dominion Government, caused his arrest on Friday afternoon.

It was after a p.m. when Mr. Godfrey was asked to take action, and a writ of habeas corpus could not be obtained at Osgoode Hall, consequently Harper spent the night in custody but was released Saturday noon by bail. "I question the legality of the course taken," said Mr. Godfrey. "We are going to make the Ontario Government show that they have the legal right to do what they are doing. They claim Harper got into the country by false pretences, but I consider that he was guilty only of breach of contract."

"Mr. Sutherland was at the back of the business. Mr. Boston, the Dominion official, appeared reasonable, but not so Mr. Sutherland." "I don't know what Mr. Godfrey means by saying that I was unreasonable. He loaned Harper money to bring him out here, and asked the Dominion immigration authorities to admit him as he did not have the requisite $25 demanded by the regulations, and had promised to go to work on a farm. Harper would not go to work on a farm, but took work in the city and did not report to the provincial department. In fact, I believe, he tried to make trouble with other men who had received loans from us, and were paying them back. Harper told these men they were foolish. When nothing could be done with him, I recommended his being deported, not keeping his undertaking," said Mr. Sutherland.

PARIS IS THREATENED WITH SERIOUS FLOODS

Several Streets Already Inundated and River Continues to Rise Rapidly.

PARIS, Nov. 13.—The River Seine, swollen by continued rains, escaped its banks at the Quay d'Orléans in this last evening, and threatened to break through the levee at Pont Grenelle. Several streets in the lower sections are already inundated, and the sewers may be flooded, as the river continues to rise rapidly.

A clearer light is thrown on the situation so far as the responsibility resting upon the city to deal fairly with the company's shareholders is concerned, by the statement of ex-Mayor Oliver, that information supplied him two years ago, when the city was making an effort to effect a deal with the company, showed that on a basis of $138 a share every shareholder would get back his investment without loss.

The situation has altered since then, but the change has been all in the direction of lowering the average price. The shares have steadily declined, with an occasional upturn such as that of the past week. All purchases of shares since the negotiations of 1908 have been at a lower level than then prevailed, and a list of the present holders, with the price they paid, would be enlightening, as the ex-mayor says he has been informed on good authority that some blocks of shares changed hands at as low a figure as 95.

The River Marne has reached, at several points, the highwater mark set by the destructive floods of last January. It has carried away several bridges, and houses along its banks have collapsed.

CHARGED WITH MURDER

Football Player Struck Captain of Opposing Team a Blow on the Head.

WHEELING, Va., Nov. 13.—A warrant charged Thomas McCoy, right end of the Bethany College football team, with murder, in connection with the death of Captain Rudolph Munk, who was struck by a ball from the West Virginia University team, at a game between the two teams here Saturday, from which he died within five hours.

The testimony upon which the warrant was issued was furnished principally by Homer N. Young, a Pittsburg attorney, who umpired the game. Young testified that Munk was making interference, and was a few yards in front of the scrimmage line, when McCoy came up to the West Virginia captain and struck him in the head. Munk fell to the ground unconscious, and Young ordered McCoy from the game.

A PATIENT BIRD.

THE HATCHING OF A RECIPROcity EAGLET.

TOR. ELEC. STOCK IN 1908 HELD AT AVERAGE OF 135

This Fact May Help in Any Negotiations That May Emerge as to Civic Purchase.

If the city were to pay each shareholder of the Toronto Electric Light Co. a sufficient sum to recompose him in full for the amount given for his stock, the cost would be considerably under $138 a share, so that, at the maximum figure, it would mean expending $5,400,000 to enable the city to own the plant in entirety.

A clearer light is thrown on the situation so far as the responsibility resting upon the city to deal fairly with the company's shareholders is concerned, by the statement of ex-Mayor Oliver, that information supplied him two years ago, when the city was making an effort to effect a deal with the company, showed that on a basis of $138 a share every shareholder would get back his investment without loss.

GABINET REORGANIZATION RUMORS HEARD AT OTTAWA

No Unnecessary Opening of Constituencies, But a Ministerial Shake-up is Propheesied.

OTTAWA, Nov. 13.—(Special.)—There will be no seats unnecessarily opened in the house of commons henceforward. A program of reorganizing the Quebec section of the ministry, including the bringing in of Senator Dandurand by his resigning in the upper house and running for the lower chamber, has been held back. The opposition will certainly go after the administration of marine and fisheries and the printing bureau, presided over by Hon. Mr. Brodeur and Hon. Mr. Murphy.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier may think it better to keep Mr. Brodeur rather than let him out. "My troubles come mostly from my colleagues," is the way the chief puts it. Mr. Fielding's illness has also increased the prime minister's responsibilities. The minister of finance had the reciprocity negotiations in hand, also tariff revision, the Bank Act and the Insurance Act.

There is a suggestion of consolidating the departments of militia and navy into one department, that of defence, and putting it under the charge of a strong English-speaking member.

PINCHOT MAKES APPEAL DIRECT TO PRESIDENT

Says it is Impossible to Look For Unbiased Judgment From Interior Department.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Expressing the fear that the interior department will recommend the patenting of the Cunningham Alaskan coal land claims, which he believes fraudulent, Gifford Pinchot, former forester of the United States, has appealed to President Taft to allow him to submit a brief before any such action is given executive approval. Mr. Pinchot has written a letter to the president, in which he says it is unfortunately impossible to look with confidence to the officials of the interior department for an unbiased judgment in this matter.

Secretary Ballinger's connection with these claims, which have been before the interior department since he was commissioner of the land office, precipitated the so-called Ballinger-Pinchot controversy, and the congressional enquiry into the interior department and the forest service, which resulted therefrom.

Secretary Ballinger issued a statement last night, in which he declared that "wholly unfounded charges have been spread broadcast involving the attitude of the department officers toward these cases," and that in view of these conditions, he "deemed it of the highest importance that all these cases be transferred from the jurisdiction of the general land office directly to the special appeals of the district of Columbia for consideration and adjudication."

He indicated that he would recommend congressional authorization of this transfer in his annual message. Mr. Ballinger added that for several months at his own instance, these cases had been placed directly in the special direction of the president, with the view that no action should be taken without his special sanction.

CONFERENCE TO-DAY

To Talk Over Arbitration of G.T.R. Labor Situation.

A conference will probably be held in Ottawa to-day between Hon. Mackenzie King, minister of labor, and Vice-Presidents S. N. Berry and Jas. Murdoch of the conductors and trainmen's unions, with a view to arrange a plan to settle the difficulties between the unions and the Grand Trunk Railway, arising from the failure of the company to take back a number of the ex-strikers on the 2nd of November, as agreed in the strike settlement. This conference is consequent upon Hon. Mr. King's letter suggesting the appointment of a single arbitrator, preferably Judge Barron, to decide the matter. Mr. Murdoch was in Montreal last night.

A Montreal despatch says that President Hays had no statement to make last night, and Vice-President Fitzhugh is out of the city.

TRAVELERS NOMINATE OFFICERS

MONTREAL, Nov. 13.—(Special.)—The following nominations for the officers of the Dominion Commercial Travelers' Association took place last evening: J. Bevins Giles and Charles Gurd, for the presidency, and A. J. Brown and E. Duckett for vice-president, while Max Murdoch was elected treasurer by acclamation.

SEASONABLE FURS FOR MEN AND WOMEN

You can't put it off any longer. Winter has set in with a rush, and if you have not secured a set of furs for your wife, or a fur-lined coat for yourself, now is the time to call at the Dinesen store and make your selection. Dinesen's stock was never so complete and prices have been marked down to the lowest figure. Great care has been taken in selecting these furs, and then you have Dinesen's guarantee, which is absolute proof that they are all right. Call in when you are down town to-day. Write for the 50 page catalogue on furs.

SIR HUGH GRAHAM SUCCESSOR TO STRATHCONA

Veteran Commissioner in London to Retire Shortly—Highest Gift of Canadian Government to Go to Proprietor of The Montreal Star.

OTTAWA, Nov. 13.—(Special.)—It is stated in official circles here to-day that arrangements have almost been completed whereby Lord Strathcona, who has passed his nineteenth birthday, will resign the office of high commissioner of Canada at London, and that he will be succeeded by Sir Hugh Graham, proprietor of The Montreal Star.

It is understood that the appointment of Sir Hugh Graham has been made, because in the Liberal party there is no man of influence and wealth sufficient to adorn the position, while Sir Hugh has never been a Conservative of strict party adherence, a statement which may be made very general regarding the Conservative newspaper proprietors of Canada. At the last election Sir Hugh Graham did nothing to help the Conservative cause.

He is to accompany Sir Hugh. It is stated that B. A. McNab, who has just resigned the managing editorship of The Montreal Star, will assume a closer personal relationship with Sir Hugh Graham, in the position of high commissioner, which, it is said, the latter will take shortly.

Some time ago it was expected that Sir Frederick Borden would be given this position, which is the best in the gift of the Canadian Government, but it is learned that the minister of militia has expressed a desire to retire from active political duties entirely, and go into private life.

A Round Half Million. Lord Strathcona has given another $200,000 to fund the construction of physical and military training in Canadian public schools, thus making the total amount he gave this fund half a million. The whole amount is held in trust by the government, which pays interest of four per cent. A sum of $20,000 annually is now assured to the committee administering the fund.

The federal government is completing arrangements with all the provinces for the adoption in all public schools of a uniform system of physical training for the younger children, elementary drill for the older children, with rifle shooting added for pupils of advanced classes. Strathcona's gift of half a million will be used to supplement and stimulate the joint federal and provincial governments' efforts to have all children in Canada learn elementary drill, inculcating habits of alertness, orderliness, prompt obedience and patriotism.

LIGHT SHINES TO-MORROW EVE

Civic Service Will Give Demonstration if All's Well.

Citizens of Toronto may have their first opportunity to-morrow night to see how municipally lighted streets will look, but E. M. Ashworth, acting head of the electrical department, does not guarantee that the performance will take place, altho he has strong expectations.

The work of installing the lanterns on the cement poles on Charles-street and a section of Jarvis-street will begin this morning. In the interim there has been a delay owing to the lateness of their arrival.

Arrangements have been made with the Monarch Supply company for a supply of lanterns for the demonstration, which illumination is in store at Charles-street, from Yonge-street to Jarvis-street and Jarvis-street from Wellesley-street to Elgin-street. There are about 35 poles in all.

TO KEEP QUEBEC IN ORDER

Baptist Pastor Says Big Navy is Needed for This Purpose.

OTTAWA, Nov. 13.—(Special.)—The sooner we get a big navy to keep Quebec in order, the better for the Dominion," said Rev. Dr. A. Cameron in the course of his sermon in the First Baptist Church this evening. "For some years past we have been hearing murmurs of disloyalty from Quebec. Then recently, upon an election day, there came the lightning flash and the thunder clap which revealed a startling condition of affairs."
