

Twenty-third Year

Eight Pages—Wednesday Morning May 7 1902—Eight Pages

One Cent

CONFERENCE OF GOVERNORS

Mutual Tariff Preferences to Be Used to Develop Trade With Australasia.

LINE OF SUBSIDIZED STEAMERS

This Scheme Meets With the Approval of Sir Wilfrid—No Special Plan Laid Down.

Ottawa, May 6.—In the House tonight, on the votes of $800 for the Premier's expenses at the coronation, and $12,000 for the Ministers, Dr. Sproule asked the nature and scope of the conference.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier replied that there would be a conference of the self-governing colonies after the coronation. There would also be a conference between Canada, Australia and New Zealand, at which the Dominion would be represented by Hon. Messrs. Fielding, Mulock and Paterson.

In view of the fact that these colonies and their requirements, he believed there was a hopeful field for Canadian exports in these countries. He believed the most promising means of developing trade with them was by the establishment of a line of subsidized steamers, calling at South Africa.

The Premier had great hopes of trade with South Africa when peace was restored, which he believed was not very far off. No special lines will be laid down in regard to the colonial conference. Suggestions would be given and received, the only object in view being the development of trade by means of mutual tariff preferences and subsidized steamship lines.

Replying to Dr. Sproule, the Premier said he had not changed his mind in regard to his unwillingness to discuss a general scheme of Imperial defence.

Mr. Brock thought that a more important matter was our own domestic trade. He wanted to know how we could expect to be large exporters of manufactured goods to the Antipodes when we had not the control of our own home market.

The Premier replied that Mr. Brock's remarks would not throw cold water on his enthusiasm in this matter. Canada had shown that she could export agricultural implements and cotton. Mr. Brock's high protective policy were carried out, Sir Wilfrid wanted to know how any scheme of preference, even with England, could be worked.

Mr. Brock thought that a more important matter was our own domestic trade. He wanted to know how we could expect to be large exporters of manufactured goods to the Antipodes when we had not the control of our own home market.

The Premier replied that Mr. Brock's remarks would not throw cold water on his enthusiasm in this matter. Canada had shown that she could export agricultural implements and cotton. Mr. Brock's high protective policy were carried out, Sir Wilfrid wanted to know how any scheme of preference, even with England, could be worked.

SIR MACKENZIE BANQUETTED

Sir Wilfrid's Sacrifice of Canadian Interests is Exposed.

Ottawa, May 6.—The veteran statesman, Sir Mackenzie Bowell, was banqueted to-night in the Senate restaurant by the Conservative Senators, with Sir John Carling in the chair. There were also present of the Commons, R. L. Borden, the opposition leader; Messrs. A. W. Carleton and E. Guay Fortin.

The keynote of Sir Mackenzie's speech was the policy of statesmanship demanded by the present circumstances, and in connection with it he criticized Sir Wilfrid Laurier's sacrifice of Canadian interests in 1891, which he declared this country wanted no return for the British preference, and deprecated the Premier's practical refusal to discuss the general question of Imperial defence at the forthcoming conference.

R. L. Borden, in the course of his speech, in reply to the topic of the Parliament of Canada, spoke enthusiastically of the prospect of a visit to the Conservative party through the Dominion.

Mr. Carleton, in the course of his speech, in reply to the topic of the Parliament of Canada, spoke enthusiastically of the prospect of a visit to the Conservative party through the Dominion.

Mr. Guay Fortin, in the course of his speech, in reply to the topic of the Parliament of Canada, spoke enthusiastically of the prospect of a visit to the Conservative party through the Dominion.

Mr. Carleton, in the course of his speech, in reply to the topic of the Parliament of Canada, spoke enthusiastically of the prospect of a visit to the Conservative party through the Dominion.

Mr. Guay Fortin, in the course of his speech, in reply to the topic of the Parliament of Canada, spoke enthusiastically of the prospect of a visit to the Conservative party through the Dominion.

Mr. Carleton, in the course of his speech, in reply to the topic of the Parliament of Canada, spoke enthusiastically of the prospect of a visit to the Conservative party through the Dominion.

Mr. Guay Fortin, in the course of his speech, in reply to the topic of the Parliament of Canada, spoke enthusiastically of the prospect of a visit to the Conservative party through the Dominion.

Mr. Carleton, in the course of his speech, in reply to the topic of the Parliament of Canada, spoke enthusiastically of the prospect of a visit to the Conservative party through the Dominion.

Mr. Guay Fortin, in the course of his speech, in reply to the topic of the Parliament of Canada, spoke enthusiastically of the prospect of a visit to the Conservative party through the Dominion.

Mr. Carleton, in the course of his speech, in reply to the topic of the Parliament of Canada, spoke enthusiastically of the prospect of a visit to the Conservative party through the Dominion.

Mr. Guay Fortin, in the course of his speech, in reply to the topic of the Parliament of Canada, spoke enthusiastically of the prospect of a visit to the Conservative party through the Dominion.

Mr. Carleton, in the course of his speech, in reply to the topic of the Parliament of Canada, spoke enthusiastically of the prospect of a visit to the Conservative party through the Dominion.

Mr. Guay Fortin, in the course of his speech, in reply to the topic of the Parliament of Canada, spoke enthusiastically of the prospect of a visit to the Conservative party through the Dominion.

Mr. Carleton, in the course of his speech, in reply to the topic of the Parliament of Canada, spoke enthusiastically of the prospect of a visit to the Conservative party through the Dominion.

Mr. Guay Fortin, in the course of his speech, in reply to the topic of the Parliament of Canada, spoke enthusiastically of the prospect of a visit to the Conservative party through the Dominion.

Mr. Carleton, in the course of his speech, in reply to the topic of the Parliament of Canada, spoke enthusiastically of the prospect of a visit to the Conservative party through the Dominion.

Mr. Guay Fortin, in the course of his speech, in reply to the topic of the Parliament of Canada, spoke enthusiastically of the prospect of a visit to the Conservative party through the Dominion.

Mr. Carleton, in the course of his speech, in reply to the topic of the Parliament of Canada, spoke enthusiastically of the prospect of a visit to the Conservative party through the Dominion.

Mr. Guay Fortin, in the course of his speech, in reply to the topic of the Parliament of Canada, spoke enthusiastically of the prospect of a visit to the Conservative party through the Dominion.

Mr. Carleton, in the course of his speech, in reply to the topic of the Parliament of Canada, spoke enthusiastically of the prospect of a visit to the Conservative party through the Dominion.

CORONATION CONTINGENT.

Strong, Half Infantry Half Cavalry.

Ottawa, May 6.—From a hint dropped by the opposition whip when the House rose at 1 o'clock, it was expected that the military members would have a field day of it during the afternoon on the vote of $30,000 for the coronation contingent. There was, however, very little discussion. The Minister explained pretty much what has already been published as to the composition of the force. He said it would be 600 strong, officers and men, one-half infantry and the other half cavalry. The Mounted Police and Strathcona's Horse would be represented in the cavalry. The district officers commanding will choose the men, four from each cavalry corps and one from each of the smaller infantry corps and two from each of the larger infantry corps.

There will be 22 officers, and the force will sail from Quebec on June 7. The War Office will supply the horses on the other side.

THIRD REGIMENT INSPECTED

Gen. O'Grady-Haly Much Pleased With Col. Williams' Command.

Halifax, May 6.—The 3rd Regiment of the C.M.R. Col. Williams in command, was inspected to-day by Major-General O'Grady-Haly, who expressed himself as much pleased with the men's appearance.

The Centrian may not be able to get away by Thursday. It is thought she will not be ready till Friday or Saturday. The ship will be provisioned for forty days, and large refrigerators have been built for the fresh meat. Three and a half pounds of meat, salt and fresh, for each man is the allowance, and, accordingly, about 100,000 lbs. of fresh water for the trip will be taken on board, so that it will not be necessary to use condensed water. The meals will all be cooked on board every day, a big staff of cooks having been engaged.

LONG SERVICE DECORATIONS

List of Toronto Officers Who Will Receive the Medal.

Ottawa, May 6.—The following officers of Toronto regiments will be conferred upon them the long-service officers' decoration: Lieut-Col T Cowan, Queen's Own; Lieut-Col J Gray, Toronto Field Battery; Lieut-Col W C Macdonald, 48th; Paymaster and Hon Captain A B Lee, Q O B; Lieut-Col E E King, 10th; Capt A R Bennett, 10th; Capt J G Gorman, Q O B; Sergt R Lea, 10th; Sergt E W Mishaw, 48th; Sergt N S Young, 10th; Corp M Ryan, 10th; Pte T E Brickenenden, 10th; Pte W J Brickenenden, 10th; Pte W J Jackson, 10th; Pte H A Pye, 10th.

Mr. Bennett declared that Mr. Germain had dealt a serious blow to Hon. J. R. Stratton. The Trent Canal had been that gentleman's political stock-in-trade in Ontario for years. Mr. Bennett attributed Mr. Germain's hostility to jealousy on account of his interest in the Welland Canal.

Mr. Germain retorted that Mr. Stratton could take care of himself without the aid of the Trent Canal, and no more be compared to the Welland than a mule to a racehorse.

Then the band struck up "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." The crowd quickly took up the air, stamped their feet and cheered for all they were worth, and for several moments the opposition leader was kept busy smilingly acknowledging the shouts of his countrymen, which he truthfully said was seldom equalled, even in old Ontario.

Mr. Germain gave way for W. R. Smith, the candidate for Algoma. He spoke in a confident strain, and, in turn, was succeeded by F. D. Monk, M.P.

Mr. Monk speaks in French for half an hour or more with a Frenchman's characteristic grace and eloquence, and from his compatriots, as well as his English-speaking fellow countrymen, he received a respectful, attentive hearing.

Then the band struck up "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." The crowd quickly took up the air, stamped their feet and cheered for all they were worth, and for several moments the opposition leader was kept busy smilingly acknowledging the shouts of his countrymen, which he truthfully said was seldom equalled, even in old Ontario.

Mr. Germain gave way for W. R. Smith, the candidate for Algoma. He spoke in a confident strain, and, in turn, was succeeded by F. D. Monk, M.P.

Mr. Monk speaks in French for half an hour or more with a Frenchman's characteristic grace and eloquence, and from his compatriots, as well as his English-speaking fellow countrymen, he received a respectful, attentive hearing.

Then the band struck up "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." The crowd quickly took up the air, stamped their feet and cheered for all they were worth, and for several moments the opposition leader was kept busy smilingly acknowledging the shouts of his countrymen, which he truthfully said was seldom equalled, even in old Ontario.

Mr. Germain gave way for W. R. Smith, the candidate for Algoma. He spoke in a confident strain, and, in turn, was succeeded by F. D. Monk, M.P.

Mr. Monk speaks in French for half an hour or more with a Frenchman's characteristic grace and eloquence, and from his compatriots, as well as his English-speaking fellow countrymen, he received a respectful, attentive hearing.

Then the band struck up "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." The crowd quickly took up the air, stamped their feet and cheered for all they were worth, and for several moments the opposition leader was kept busy smilingly acknowledging the shouts of his countrymen, which he truthfully said was seldom equalled, even in old Ontario.

Mr. Germain gave way for W. R. Smith, the candidate for Algoma. He spoke in a confident strain, and, in turn, was succeeded by F. D. Monk, M.P.

Mr. Monk speaks in French for half an hour or more with a Frenchman's characteristic grace and eloquence, and from his compatriots, as well as his English-speaking fellow countrymen, he received a respectful, attentive hearing.

Then the band struck up "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." The crowd quickly took up the air, stamped their feet and cheered for all they were worth, and for several moments the opposition leader was kept busy smilingly acknowledging the shouts of his countrymen, which he truthfully said was seldom equalled, even in old Ontario.

Mr. Germain gave way for W. R. Smith, the candidate for Algoma. He spoke in a confident strain, and, in turn, was succeeded by F. D. Monk, M.P.

Mr. Monk speaks in French for half an hour or more with a Frenchman's characteristic grace and eloquence, and from his compatriots, as well as his English-speaking fellow countrymen, he received a respectful, attentive hearing.

Then the band struck up "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." The crowd quickly took up the air, stamped their feet and cheered for all they were worth, and for several moments the opposition leader was kept busy smilingly acknowledging the shouts of his countrymen, which he truthfully said was seldom equalled, even in old Ontario.

Mr. Germain gave way for W. R. Smith, the candidate for Algoma. He spoke in a confident strain, and, in turn, was succeeded by F. D. Monk, M.P.

Mr. Monk speaks in French for half an hour or more with a Frenchman's characteristic grace and eloquence, and from his compatriots, as well as his English-speaking fellow countrymen, he received a respectful, attentive hearing.

Then the band struck up "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." The crowd quickly took up the air, stamped their feet and cheered for all they were worth, and for several moments the opposition leader was kept busy smilingly acknowledging the shouts of his countrymen, which he truthfully said was seldom equalled, even in old Ontario.

Mr. Germain gave way for W. R. Smith, the candidate for Algoma. He spoke in a confident strain, and, in turn, was succeeded by F. D. Monk, M.P.

Mr. Monk speaks in French for half an hour or more with a Frenchman's characteristic grace and eloquence, and from his compatriots, as well as his English-speaking fellow countrymen, he received a respectful, attentive hearing.

Then the band struck up "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." The crowd quickly took up the air, stamped their feet and cheered for all they were worth, and for several moments the opposition leader was kept busy smilingly acknowledging the shouts of his countrymen, which he truthfully said was seldom equalled, even in old Ontario.

Mr. Germain gave way for W. R. Smith, the candidate for Algoma. He spoke in a confident strain, and, in turn, was succeeded by F. D. Monk, M.P.

Mr. Monk speaks in French for half an hour or more with a Frenchman's characteristic grace and eloquence, and from his compatriots, as well as his English-speaking fellow countrymen, he received a respectful, attentive hearing.

Then the band struck up "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." The crowd quickly took up the air, stamped their feet and cheered for all they were worth, and for several moments the opposition leader was kept busy smilingly acknowledging the shouts of his countrymen, which he truthfully said was seldom equalled, even in old Ontario.

Mr. Germain gave way for W. R. Smith, the candidate for Algoma. He spoke in a confident strain, and, in turn, was succeeded by F. D. Monk, M.P.

Mr. Monk speaks in French for half an hour or more with a Frenchman's characteristic grace and eloquence, and from his compatriots, as well as his English-speaking fellow countrymen, he received a respectful, attentive hearing.

SUBURBY GREETED WHITNEY

Two Brass Bands With an Immense Crowd Welcome Tourists at the Train.

WHOLE COUNTRYSIDE GETS A HOLIDAY

Strong Feeling Against Government and in Favor of the Opposition is Shown.

Suburby, May 6.—"Standing as we do, just at the threshold of New Ontario and fully realizing its grievances and its needs, we the more heartily welcome you and we feel that the coming 20th day of May will be a red letter day in the annals of this fair province, and that honesty, candor and business capacity will succeed corruption, deceit and mismanagement."

This was one of the sentences from an address of welcome presented to Opposition Leader Whitney when he and his party arrived here to-day. Hundreds listened when it was read and hundreds cheered when they heard it.

Marked Difference. There seems to be a strong feeling against the government and in favor of the opposition, and this is borne out by the fact that when the Ministerial party visited the town they were met by a handful of people, while to-day the town was on feet in honor of the visit of the leaders of the opposition. Flags are flying everywhere and across the principal streets hang streamers, and from the surrounding countryside many have come to town purposely to welcome and to hear Mr. Whitney and his colleagues. When the train pulled in with the visitors aboard a drizzling rain was falling, but it did not dampen the enthusiasm one iota.

Two Brass Bands on Hand. Two brass bands and an immense crowd were there. A procession was quickly formed, and away drove the party in carriages, and followed by hundreds of men marching two by two, and each wearing a badge with the words "Vote for Cochrane." A halt was made at the public square, and an address of welcome presented to Mr. Whitney and his colleagues by J. S. Cleary, president of the local association. In the afternoon some of the members of the party called on the schools, and the occasion will be remembered, for the pupils were all given a holiday in honor of the event. A reception was also held by the opposition leader, and many came to pay their respects. At the hotel where the party was staying there was an almost continual stream of people to meet them.

Crowded Hall. In the evening a meeting was held in Lennan's Hall, and the town is a unit in declaring that it was the largest ever held. Every seat was taken. The aisles were packed, and so were the approaches to the platform. Flags were everywhere in profusion, and mottoes in both French and English lined the walls. "Open up the townships free for settlers, fewer government officials and more money for roads," was conspicuous and another was "Justice for all, leave enough firewood for the settlers," and still another, "Have settlers get justice from the Ross government? If not vote for Cochrane." There were many more, and together they told all the grievances the people have against the Ross administration.

New Ontario Needs. J. S. Cleary made an excellent presiding officer, and Mayor Frank Cochrane of Suburby, West Nipissing's candidate, gave the first of a series of addresses that will be remembered as the greatest enthusiasm, for they dealt particularly with the requirements of the people, and will answer, not as the Conservative candidates, but as the "people's" candidates, the questions that will be asked. He was a model of brevity, but made a decidedly favorable impression.

Mr. Cochrane gave way for W. R. Smith, the candidate for Algoma. He spoke in a confident strain, and, in turn, was succeeded by F. D. Monk, M.P.

Mr. Monk speaks in French for half an hour or more with a Frenchman's characteristic grace and eloquence, and from his compatriots, as well as his English-speaking fellow countrymen, he received a respectful, attentive hearing.

Then the band struck up "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." The crowd quickly took up the air, stamped their feet and cheered for all they were worth, and for several moments the opposition leader was kept busy smilingly acknowledging the shouts of his countrymen, which he truthfully said was seldom equalled, even in old Ontario.

Mr. Germain gave way for W. R. Smith, the candidate for Algoma. He spoke in a confident strain, and, in turn, was succeeded by F. D. Monk, M.P.

Mr. Monk speaks in French for half an hour or more with a Frenchman's characteristic grace and eloquence, and from his compatriots, as well as his English-speaking fellow countrymen, he received a respectful, attentive hearing.

Then the band struck up "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." The crowd quickly took up the air, stamped their feet and cheered for all they were worth, and for several moments the opposition leader was kept busy smilingly acknowledging the shouts of his countrymen, which he truthfully said was seldom equalled, even in old Ontario.

Mr. Germain gave way for W. R. Smith, the candidate for Algoma. He spoke in a confident strain, and, in turn, was succeeded by F. D. Monk, M.P.

Mr. Monk speaks in French for half an hour or more with a Frenchman's characteristic grace and eloquence, and from his compatriots, as well as his English-speaking fellow countrymen, he received a respectful, attentive hearing.

Then the band struck up "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." The crowd quickly took up the air, stamped their feet and cheered for all they were worth, and for several moments the opposition leader was kept busy smilingly acknowledging the shouts of his countrymen, which he truthfully said was seldom equalled, even in old Ontario.

Mr. Germain gave way for W. R. Smith, the candidate for Algoma. He spoke in a confident strain, and, in turn, was succeeded by F. D. Monk, M.P.

Mr. Monk speaks in French for half an hour or more with a Frenchman's characteristic grace and eloquence, and from his compatriots, as well as his English-speaking fellow countrymen, he received a respectful, attentive hearing.

Then the band struck up "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." The crowd quickly took up the air, stamped their feet and cheered for all they were worth, and for several moments the opposition leader was kept busy smilingly acknowledging the shouts of his countrymen, which he truthfully said was seldom equalled, even in old Ontario.

Mr. Germain gave way for W. R. Smith, the candidate for Algoma. He spoke in a confident strain, and, in turn, was succeeded by F. D. Monk, M.P.

Mr. Monk speaks in French for half an hour or more with a Frenchman's characteristic grace and eloquence, and from his compatriots, as well as his English-speaking fellow countrymen, he received a respectful, attentive hearing.

Then the band struck up "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." The crowd quickly took up the air, stamped their feet and cheered for all they were worth, and for several moments the opposition leader was kept busy smilingly acknowledging the shouts of his countrymen, which he truthfully said was seldom equalled, even in old Ontario.

Mr. Germain gave way for W. R. Smith, the candidate for Algoma. He spoke in a confident strain, and, in turn, was succeeded by F. D. Monk, M.P.

Mr. Monk speaks in French for half an hour or more with a Frenchman's characteristic grace and eloquence, and from his compatriots, as well as his English-speaking fellow countrymen, he received a respectful, attentive hearing.

Then the band struck up "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." The crowd quickly took up the air, stamped their feet and cheered for all they were worth, and for several moments the opposition leader was kept busy smilingly acknowledging the shouts of his countrymen, which he truthfully said was seldom equalled, even in old Ontario.

Mr. Germain gave way for W. R. Smith, the candidate for Algoma. He spoke in a confident strain, and, in turn, was succeeded by F. D. Monk, M.P.

Mr. Monk speaks in French for half an hour or more with a Frenchman's characteristic grace and eloquence, and from his compatriots, as well as his English-speaking fellow countrymen, he received a respectful, attentive hearing.

Then the band struck up "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." The crowd quickly took up the air, stamped their feet and cheered for all they were worth, and for several moments the opposition leader was kept busy smilingly acknowledging the shouts of his countrymen, which he truthfully said was seldom equalled, even in old Ontario.

Mr. Germain gave way for W. R. Smith, the candidate for Algoma. He spoke in a confident strain, and, in turn, was succeeded by F. D. Monk, M.P.

Mr. Monk speaks in French for half an hour or more with a Frenchman's characteristic grace and eloquence, and from his compatriots, as well as his English-speaking fellow countrymen, he received a respectful, attentive hearing.

Then the band struck up "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." The crowd quickly took up the air, stamped their feet and cheered for all they were worth, and for several moments the opposition leader was kept busy smilingly acknowledging the shouts of his countrymen, which he truthfully said was seldom equalled, even in old Ontario.

Mr. Germain gave way for W. R. Smith, the candidate for Algoma. He spoke in a confident strain, and, in turn, was succeeded by F. D. Monk, M.P.

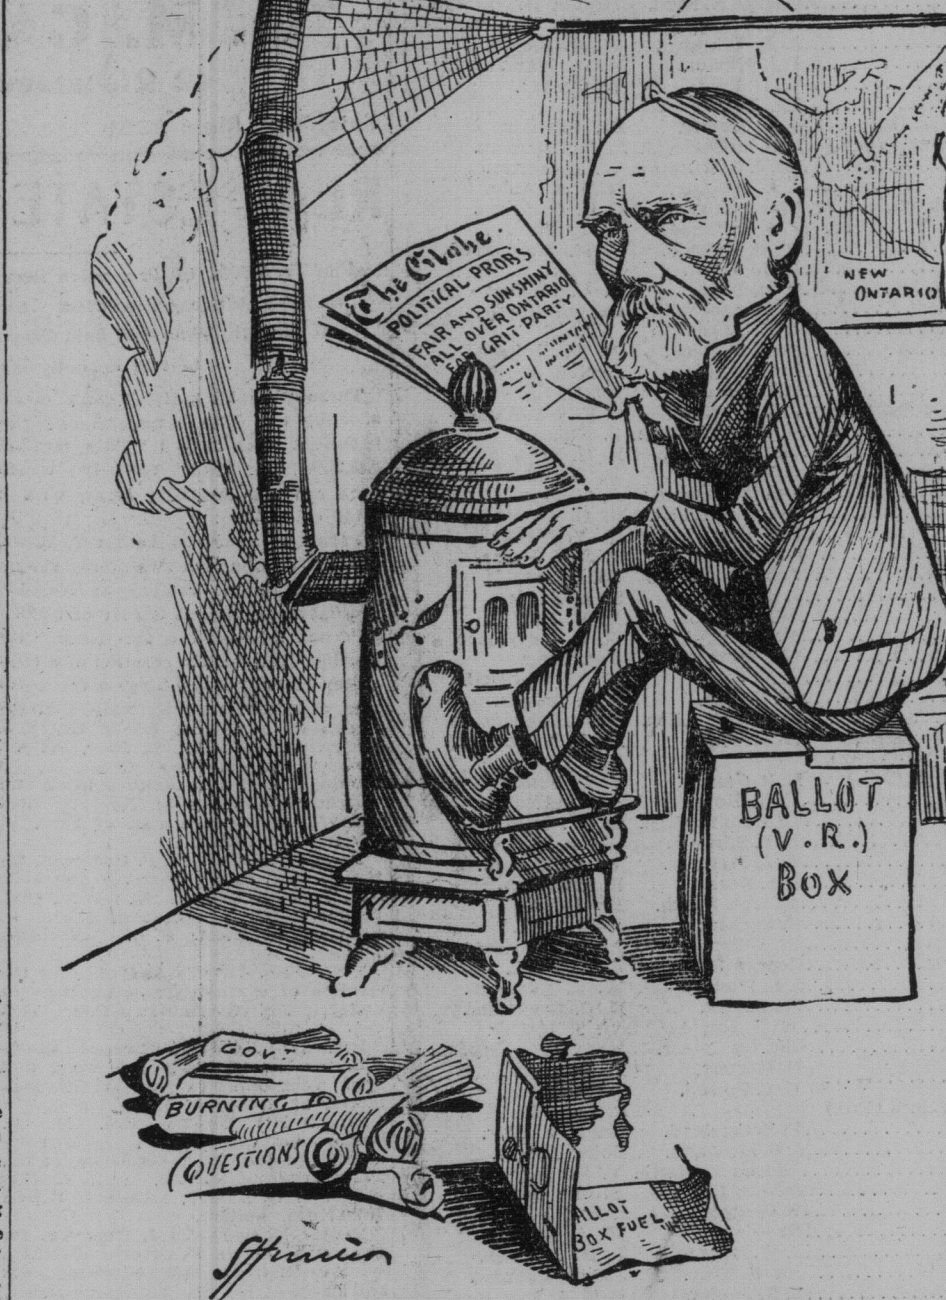

Mr. Monk speaks in French for half an hour or more with a Frenchman's characteristic grace and eloquence, and from his compatriots, as well as his English-speaking fellow countrymen, he received a respectful, attentive hearing.

Then the band struck up "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." The crowd quickly took up the air, stamped their feet and cheered for all they were worth, and for several moments the opposition leader was kept busy smilingly acknowledging the shouts of his countrymen, which he truthfully said was seldom equalled, even in old Ontario.

Mr. Germain gave way for W. R. Smith, the candidate for Algoma. He spoke in a confident strain, and, in turn, was succeeded by F. D. Monk, M.P.

DISTRUSTFUL OF THE GLOBE PROBS.

Party Hugging "Office" Stove: Just the same I'd like to see Elihu Davis hustling out the pulp woods and getting in a jag of campaign funds just to sorter put us over May, like.

Party Hugging "Office" Stove: Just the same I'd like to see Elihu Davis hustling out the pulp woods and getting in a jag of campaign funds just to sorter put us over May, like.

THE TRENT VALLEY CANAL

Mr. Blair Will Complete the Work Between Lake Simcoe and Balsam Lake.

NOT DECIDED ABOUT REST OF ROUTE

Would Cost in All About $6,500,000, Half of Which Has Been Spent.

Ottawa, May 6.—In the House, this afternoon, Mr. Kemp asked if it were the intention of the government to complete the Trent Valley Canal thru from Lake Ontario to Georgian Bay.

Mr. Blair replied that it was now in contemplation to complete the work between Lake Simcoe and Balsam Lake; but, as to the remainder of the route, between Lake Simcoe and Georgian Bay, he would not like to say definitely that it would or would not be completed. It was estimated the canal would cost $6,500,000 in all, about half of which had been expended. The section from Lake Simcoe to Georgian Bay would cost $1,500,000.

Mr. Germain said that the money would be absolutely thrown away, whether the canal was finished or not. It was started by the Tories to control the Midland Counties, and was doing so yet.

W. H. Bennett declared that Mr. Germain had dealt a serious blow to Hon. J. R. Stratton. The Trent Canal had been that gentleman's political stock-in-trade in Ontario for years. Mr. Bennett attributed Mr. Germain's hostility to jealousy on account of his interest in the Welland Canal.

Mr. Germain retorted that Mr. Stratton could take care of himself without the aid of the Trent Canal, and no more be compared to the Welland than a mule to a racehorse.

Then the band struck up "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." The crowd quickly took up the air, stamped their feet and cheered for all they were worth, and for several moments the opposition leader was kept busy smilingly acknowledging the shouts of his countrymen, which he truthfully said was seldom equalled, even in old Ontario.

Mr. Germain gave way for W. R. Smith, the candidate for Algoma. He spoke in a confident strain, and, in turn, was succeeded by F. D. Monk, M.P.

Mr. Monk speaks in French for half an hour or more with a Frenchman's characteristic grace and eloquence, and from his compatriots, as well as his English-speaking fellow countrymen, he received a respectful, attentive hearing.

Then the band struck up "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." The crowd quickly took up the air, stamped their feet and cheered for all they were worth, and for several moments the opposition leader was kept busy smilingly acknowledging the shouts of his countrymen, which he truthfully said was seldom equalled, even in old Ontario.

Mr. Germain gave way for W. R. Smith, the candidate for Algoma. He spoke in a confident strain, and, in turn, was succeeded by F. D. Monk, M.P.

Mr. Monk speaks in French for half an hour or more with a Frenchman's characteristic grace and eloquence, and from his compatriots, as well as his English-speaking fellow countrymen, he received a respectful, attentive hearing.

Then the band struck up "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." The crowd quickly took up the air, stamped their feet and cheered for all they were worth, and for several moments the opposition leader was kept busy smilingly acknowledging the shouts of his countrymen, which he truthfully said was seldom equalled, even in old Ontario.

Mr. Germain gave way for W. R. Smith, the candidate for Algoma. He spoke in a confident strain, and, in turn, was succeeded by F. D. Monk, M.P.

Mr. Monk speaks in French for half an hour or more with a Frenchman's characteristic grace and eloquence, and from his compatriots, as well as his English-speaking fellow countrymen, he received a respectful, attentive hearing.

Then the band struck up "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." The crowd quickly took up the air, stamped their feet and cheered for all they were worth, and for several moments the opposition leader was kept busy smilingly acknowledging the shouts of his countrymen, which he truthfully said was seldom equalled, even in old Ontario.

Mr. Germain gave way for W. R. Smith, the candidate for Algoma. He spoke in a confident strain, and, in turn, was succeeded by F. D. Monk, M.P.

Mr. Monk speaks in French for half an hour or more with a Frenchman's characteristic grace and eloquence, and from his compatriots, as well as his English-speaking fellow countrymen, he received a respectful, attentive hearing.

Then the band struck up "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." The crowd quickly took up the air, stamped their feet and cheered for all they were worth, and for several moments the opposition leader was kept busy smilingly acknowledging the shouts of his countrymen, which he truthfully said was seldom equalled, even in old Ontario.

Mr. Germain gave way for W. R. Smith, the candidate for Algoma. He spoke in a confident strain, and, in turn, was succeeded by F. D. Monk, M.P.

Mr. Monk speaks in French for half an hour or more with a Frenchman's characteristic grace and eloquence, and from his compatriots, as well as his English-speaking fellow countrymen, he received a respectful, attentive hearing.

ANOTHER CANADIAN DIES

Trooper Ernest Hugh Paton, a Toronto Man, Passes Away at Pretoria From Enteric.

WILLIAM BROCK OF NEWMARKET ILL

Pte. Murphy of Peterboro and Pte. Pearson of Toronto Are Still in the Hospital.

Ottawa, May 6.—The following casualties have been reported to His Excellency the Governor-General by the Casualty Department in South Africa: William Brock, South African Constabulary, dangerously ill