LONDON "OLD BOY" NEGRO WEDS WHITE GIRL OF 14, NOW HELD FOR BIGAMY

Dr. A. P. Reid Finds Only One of His Schoolmates. CHANGED PLACE, INDEED

Court House About the Only Thing Remaining From His Days in City.

Dr. A. P. Reid of Halifax, N. S., is an old boy in the real sense of the word, who has come to London for a brief visit, after an absence of nearly 64 years. That is quite a spell to live away from the city, and he is trying to locate some landmarks and old friends.

On his return to Canada, in 1853, he started the practice of medicine at the Harvester Company's plant in York street. He attended the school here, a private school by the way, where the two-foot rule was the only thing applied with any degree of force or enthusiasm.

When a young man, he started out of London on the first train that went out of this city to Detroit. Later he went to Edinburgh, where he studied the study of medicine. He followed this up by a trip through Europe, finally graduating in medicine at the University of Edinburgh, after a special course in Dublin, London and Paris.

He had been in London for a few years when he was married to a young girl named Mary. The marriage, it is claimed by the authorities, was the culmination of events that led to the girl becoming a delicate condition.

Up to the present time the first wife has not been located, but efforts will be made to obtain her address during the time Lawson is in London.

KAISER HAS NAMED MICHAELIS TO FILL HOLLWEG'S "SHOES"

British Admiralty Picks Up German Official Wireless. LONDON, July 14.—Dr. George Michaelis, Prussian under-secretary of finance and food commissioner, has been appointed to succeed Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, as chancellor.

The resignation of the chancellor being announced in the resignation of the imperial chancellor, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, and his indications serve to show that his resignation far exceeds that of the British admiralty. It is also said that the emperor accepted the resignation and named Dr. Michaelis to succeed him.

The political turmoil which has been convulsing Germany ever since Lusitania's first startling success on the resumption of her offensive has culminated in the present resignation of the imperial chancellor, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, and his indications serve to show that his resignation far exceeds that of the British admiralty.

The exciting climax to the meeting came when Mr. Verville was denouncing the Government's sponsorship of the military service bill. Mr. Verville, speaking in French, declared that there are many Canadian soldiers in England who are kept there to prevent their physical condition becoming known to the people in Canada.

At the same time the chancellor, by his declaration that Germany was desirous of peace, seemed to have been denouncing for his head imperial coalition ministry.
