REDUCTION IN STEEL Classes Affected and the Probable Effect Here.

Chas. L. Bailey, representative of Wm. Jessop & Sons of Sheffield, Eng., expressed himself to The World last night in regard to the reported reduction on steel decided upon by the directors of the United Steel Corporation on Saturday last as follows:

"The reduction applies only to structural iron such as for angles, girders and heaves used for construction purand beams used for construction pur-poses and in the manufacture of agri-cultural implements. It might also apply to bar iron and rods of certain

He did not believe, however, that the proposed reduction would have any effect whatever on high-grade tool steel, nearly all of which comes from England.

S. Samuel of M. and L. Samuel, Benjamin & Co., said the reduction would apparently have only a sentimental effect on the Canadian market, as special exports prices were made for iron and steel coming into Canada. "The iron and steel market," he re-marked, "has undoubtedly been in a depressed condition. It is a question, however, whether this reduction is not made with a view to influencing the re-commendation of the forthcoming tartif commission in the hope of having the wage earners bear some portion of
