

CATHEDRAL HAS NOTABLE EVENT

Three Saint John Priests, Brothers, Officiate at High Mass.

Six Postulants for Redemptorists Join Novitiate at St. Peter's Church

A spectacle unprecedented so far as is known in the ecclesiastical annals of Saint John was witnessed at the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception yesterday morning when Rev. Austin McGuire, C. S. R., son of Thomas and the late Mrs. McGuire, who was ordained to the priesthood at Esopus-on-the-Hudson a week ago, celebrated his first solemn high mass in his home parish with his two brothers, Rev. Leonard McGuire, C. S. R., of Quebec City, as deacon, and Rev. Henry McGuire, C. S. R., of Vancouver, as sub-deacon. Rev. Eugene Reynolds, acting rector of the Cathedral, and Father Leonard McGuire, the senior of the brother priests, each delivered a brief sermon.

GIVE BRIEF SERMONS.
Father Reynolds said the occasion was one of whole-hearted rejoicing. He spoke of the function of the priest as the intermediary between God and people and referred to the prayers on behalf of the people which every priest was obliged to say every day. He said that the love of one's parents stood next to the love of God and made an appeal to the congregation always to honor and respect their fathers and mothers.

Father Leonard McGuire spoke on the function of the priesthood. He took for his text Saint Paul's "The depth of the riches and knowledge of God; how incomprehensible His judgments, how unsearchable His ways."
Concluding, Father McGuire said the day was one of great rejoicing, first for the young priest himself, second, those near and dear to him, living and dead, third, for the congregation, fourth, for the whole church and for the whole world, and finally, even for God Himself. "God, the Father, Son and Holy Ghost, Amen."

At the service yesterday morning Rev. Melville Nichol was master of ceremonies and among the priests in the sanctuary were Rev. C. Boyd, Rev. S. Cronin, Rev. F. Walker and Father Reynolds.

At St. Peter's last evening the three young priests officiated at Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. There were large congregations at the services in both churches.

AT ST. PETERS.
C's young men joined the Congregation of the Most Holy Redeemer at the novitiate at St. Peter's here yesterday as postulants. They were William Jolly, Osgoode Hall, Ont.; Russell Conway, Alexandria, Ont.; Leo Hickmell, Salford, Ont.; Walter Hughes, Saint John's; Cecil Killingsworth, Toronto; and James Fahy, Montreal. All are graduates of St. Mary's College, Brockville, Ont.

The other postulants at St. Peter's last Congregation on Aug. 1 and the novices will make their profession on Aug. 2, the Feast of St. Alphonsus, founder of the Redemptorists. Rev. Peter Costello, C. S. R., is novice master.

FEAST OBSERVED.

Yesterday was the Feast of Our Lady of Perpetual Help and was solemnly observed at St. Peter's. Father Costello celebrated the solemn high mass with Rev. F. Hill, C. S. R., deacon, and Rev. Father Keough, sub-deacon. Rev. A. McBratney, of S.S. R., preached. The novena in honor of Our Lady of Perpetual Help was concluded last evening. Father Keough, who conducted the exercises during the nine days, preached. Father Hill recited the rosary and Rev. Austin McGuire, C. S. R., who was ordained last week, gave Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament, with his brother, Rev. Henry McGuire, C. S. R., as deacon, and another brother, Rev. Leonard McGuire, C. S. R., as sub-deacon. Father Keough gave the Papal and missionary blessings.

ON MISSIONARY WORK.

Rev. A. MacDonald, C. S. R., of St. Peter's, is in Prince Edward Island, Rev. Philip Quinn, C. S. R., in Nova Scotia, and Rev. F. Mullins, C. S. R., in Toronto on missionary work and

Vitamines in Fish

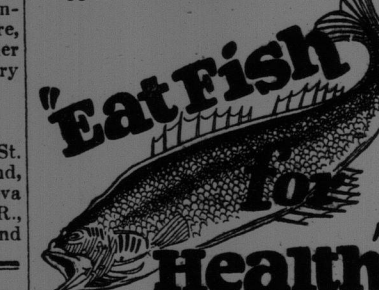

Besides being a tasty, nutritious and economical food, fish is rich in the very vitamins which are so necessary to good health.

Encourage the children to eat fish at least once a day. The vitamins in fish foods will promote growth and help to build strong, sturdy little bodies.

For business men — "inside workers" — fish is the ideal food. It keeps one feeling fit. It lends happy and healthful variety to the meals and, being very digestible, eliminates the heavy after dinner feeling.

Fish is preparable in a variety of tempting and appetizing ways. The free cook book which we will send you on request contains scores of recipes.

Our grandfathers knew the secret of avoiding indigestion. Remember that little bag of peppermints granddad used to carry in his pocket?

Now, in up-to-date fashion, you have granddad's peppermints reduced to modern, convenient form — Pep-o-mint.

Life Savers — those delicious little mint circles, so delicately flavored — are wonderful after meals. They often correct even very stubborn cases of indigestion.

MISSION CHURCH HEARS BISHOP

Patronal Festival of St. John Baptist Congregation Observed

Tablet Unveiled in Stone Church — Rev. J. H. Freestone at Centenary — Other Churches

The patronal festival of the Mission Church of St. John Baptist-St. John the Baptist's Day—which occurs next Wednesday, was observed yesterday by special and hearty services with large congregations. At 8 a. m. there was a plain celebration of the Holy Eucharist by Rev. J. V. Young, priest in charge, assisted by the Right Reverend the Lord Bishop. At the high celebration at 11 o'clock there was the usual procession with special hymns and music. The sermon was by the Venerable Archdeacon Crowfoot, who spoke of the duty of all church people to their church, and especially regarding the work of the congregation he was addressing. In the evening Festal Evensong was sung by Rev. J. V. Young, the preacher being the Lord Bishop, and the service concluded with a solemn Te Deum in station, as an act of thanksgiving for mercies to the church.

The Bishop took his text from the 19th verse of the first chapter of St. John. In commencing his sermon he congratulated the Mission Church on again celebrating their Patronal Festival, which it was a pleasure to him to attend, and hoped they would have many more.

He referred to the church as an example to all and commended the congregation for their zeal and devotion and their services. He then traced the life of St. John Baptist.

AT CENTENARY
Rev. J. H. Freestone, of Bridgetown, N. S., was the preacher in Centenary Church yesterday morning. He spoke on his impressions of the inaugural services of the United Church. He gave a description of the inaugural meeting in the Arena, when Rev. Dr. S. D. Chown retired in favor of Rev. Dr. George C. Pidgeon, M. A., moderator of the new church. The description was vivid in the word pictures used by Rev. Mr. Freestone. A point he emphasized was that the sentiment of the meetings throughout exemplified the precept "in honor preferring one another."

Miss Olive Rankin sang a solo in the morning and Percy Cookbank in the evening, with Miss Alice G. H. as organist leading the choir, which sang with unusual good taste and harmony. Rev. William Lawson and his daughter, Miss Mary Lawson, Burpee avenue, were hosts for Rev. Mr. Freestone while he was in the city. He was an associate of Rev. Mr. Small, son-in-law of Rev. Mr. Lawson, at Mount Allison University, when both studied there.

CONGREGATIONS UNITE
There was an inaugural service in celebration of the consummation of Church Union in the United Church in East Saint John last evening when representatives of the three uniting bodies were seated on the platform. J. W. Flewelling represented the Congregationalists, Alexander Magee, the Methodists, and Rev. W. J. Bevis, the pastor, represented the Presbyterians. Rev.

W. H. Spencer, former pastor of St. Matthew's church was the special speaker, and he gave an impressive account of the recent meetings in Toronto when the United Church came into being. Mr. Bevis gave a short address also. The special programme arranged by the General Assembly committee on Church Union was carried out and the choir sang with fine effect the anthem, "The Lord is My Shepherd." At the close of the service a congregational meeting was held and the decision to enter the United Church of Canada formerly made was ratified. The formal resolution passed on Feb. 25, 1925, was unanimously adopted. The resolution was to the effect that the United Church of East Saint John become a part of the United Church of Canada.

W. M. Townsend announced that the vote on church union would take place on Monday evening June 29, at 7.30. He said he had never spoken against church union. He said they of the continuing Presbyterian church were not animated by animosity or resentment towards the United Church. He had a great respect for the Methodist clergy men and people. To those of his congregation who wished to unite with the Methodists he wished God speed. The attitude of the continuing Presbyterian church is interference with no one—they wanted only to be left alone. Children from the N. B. Protestant Orphanage were present at the service and there was special music.
