

INTER-IMPERIAL CONSULTATION

Regular Meeting of Premiers
Urged by London Times.

Dominion Should be Represented in London by Political Ambassadors, Says
Manchester Guardian.

London, Aug. 8.—(Canadian Press)—Much of the week end comment on the Imperial Conference deals with the necessity of developing a system of inter-imperial consultation.

The Times says regular meetings are indispensable and that success depends on the discovery of a new method of swift transport, making an additional argument for the development of empire ship services.

The Daily Telegraph says that unfortunately a system of annual meetings cannot yet be put into execution but in the meantime the dominions will continue to enjoy the right to nominate cabinet ministers to represent them in London.

"While this course has its uses," the newspaper says, "it is obvious a minister so placed must himself suffer from the very institution it is his mission to remedy. These considerations show how well advised were the premiers in declining to advance on the path of formal federation."

The Manchester Guardian says that the dominions should not trouble themselves much with any purely constitutional questions. They know they can have any changes in the law for the asking. As for example, Canada asked for and will receive separate diplomatic representation at Washington.

The Guardian, regarding the resolution recommending the maintenance of direct communication between the premiers of the dominions and the premier of Great Britain says the intention was an exceptional and if it appears to assign a position rather more dominance to the British premier, it is not to be understood as in any degree superseding the proper authority either of the foreign office or the cabinet.

The newspaper adds that the dominions should be represented, not by agents of the type hitherto deemed adequate, but by political ambassadors able to keep their governments fully informed of developments of European and world policy, and warn them of beginnings of danger.

THE ROTARY CLUB. Ontario towns and cities are making in vocational training, the people becoming tending themselves to provide suitable buildings fully equipped, was told to the Rotary Club today by Rotarian Gavin of Winnipeg, who represents the Ontario educational department in the work, and who has just completed a course of teaching at Fredericton summer school.

His rapid and comprehensive review of Ontario's wonderful work in this line was a revelation, and should be an inspiration in St. John.

Caesa Armstrong gave a delightful five minute talk on the international convention, and F. A. Dykeman also briefly responded.

J. D. O'Connell, was given a very cordial reception and the Rotarians with cars pledged him their use a week from tomorrow at his children's picnic.

OTY J. Fraser gave a very interesting two-minute talk on the ethics of Rotary. On request of Mayor Schofield the club pledged itself to take part in the procession in welcome to Hilton Belyea.

Rotarian English presided, and there was a large attendance, though a number of members hit by the Westfield fire were unable to be present.

The police are still working on the case but have learned nothing definite. JAIL "ANGLE-FACED BOY."
Jamaica Youth and His Chum Are Sent to Reformatory.
(N. Y. Times).

Thomas Jefferson Carroll, alias Thomas Stanley, 17 years old, of 133 Bandman Avenue, Jamaica, known as the "angle-faced boy" and his chum, Joseph J. Wochowski, also 17, were sentenced to the Elmira Reformatory yesterday by Judge Burt J. Humphrey in Queens County Court.

The two boys were caught on the night of June 19 last in the cellar of a grocery store at 14,609 Jamaica Avenue, Jamaica, by Patrolman Martin Gill. Carroll had a memorandum book in which were the addresses of five stores in the Elmhurst section that had been broken into only a week or so before.

At 12 years of age Carroll was arrested charged with stealing a box of groceries from a store in Jamaica. He received a suspended sentence in the Children's Court because of his innocent appearance a year later was sent to the New York Juvenile Asylum for stealing groceries from the Adickes store in Jamaica.

In July, 1920, he was sent to the Catholic Reformatory for stealing clothes from a store on Staten Island. He escaped from that institution within a week. A week later he was again arrested for breaking into a candy store on Wyckoff Avenue, Jamaica. He was then sent back to the Catholic Reformatory and was released from that institution on May 12, 1921.

Carroll appears to be an ambitious, clean-cut schoolboy and under the supervision of his father and mother, he had followed many men and women. His father holds a responsible position as a construction engineer.

Wochowski had been arrested three times previously for burglarizing a grocery store, a candy store and a notion store in Jamaica.

Didn't Discuss.

"Now, Marjory," said her mother, "how many times have I told you not to eat Mrs. Brown's chocolates?"

"I didn't ask her," returned the child calmly. "I don't have to. I know where she keeps them."

Nason is said to have been 25 years of age, of 673 Scully street, Fredericton. The identification, however, is not absolute, the only thing found on him being an hotel key.

WHEAT PRICES TAKE AN UPWARD TURN
Chicago, Aug. 8.—Wheat took an upturn in price today owing more or less to prospects that the government crop report would be bullish. An advance in sterling exchange, accounted also as a strengthening factor.
Opening prices, which ranged from 1-4 to 1-2 cent, with Sept. at $1.20 1-4 to $1.21 and December, $1.24 to $1.24 1-4, were followed by moderate further gains and then something of a reaction.
Liberal receipts tended to keep the corn market easy.
After opening 1-8 to 1-2 cent high, including Sept. at 97 to 97 1-8, prices showed a disposition to sag.
Oats were held down by large arrivals, starting 1-8 off to 3-4 cent up, September, 36 1-2 to 36 1-4, and then hardening. Provisions rose with hogs.
