LOCAL NEWS

POLICE COURT.
One man was before the police magistrate this morning on a charge of drunkenness. He was sent below.

THE BANK CLEARINGS.
St. John bank clearings for the week ended today were $2,781,718, corresponding week last year, $2,171,874, corresponding week 1916, $2,148,691.

LOST FIVE COWS BY LIGHTNING.
A farmer named Jones at Shannon Settlement, Queens county, suffered a severe loss in the last lightning storm. One of his barns was struck and five head of fine milk cows destroyed.

REASSURING WORD THIS MORNING.
Herbert S. Miles of West St. John has received further cabled news of his son Fred's injuries. The message gives the cause of disability as shell concussion. The patient is doing well and has been removed from France to an English hospital.

GOING TO DALHOUSIE.
J. Allan LeBlanc, a graduate of the St. John law school, who has been a student in the office of J. B. M. Baxter, in this city, left for Dalhousie, where he will open an office and practice his profession. Mr. LeBlanc is a native of Dalhousie, his father being the postmaster of that town, and his wide acquaintance in the county makes the opening an attractive one for him.

HORATIO E. WRIGHT.
Horatio E. Wright of Head of Millstream died early this morning in Sussex, where he had gone for medical treatment. He was sixty-six years old and a highly respected resident of Millstream. He is survived by his wife, two sons, Hiram W. of Sussex and Thomas A. at home, and two daughters, Mrs. F. M. M. of St. John and Mrs. Walter Kirk of Carletonville, besides three brothers, two sisters and a wide circle of mourning friends.

PRESENTATION TO ORGANIST.
In appreciation of her services as organist for the church and Sunday school, members and adherents of the Centralville Methodist church gathered on Saturday evening at the parsonage and presented to Miss Mollie Gody a handsome music cabinet. The presentation was made by the pastor, Rev. J. B. Champion, who briefly but adequately expressed the feelings of the gathering. A pleasant social evening was held and light refreshments were served.

KHAKI BOY TURNED BACK.
A returned soldier, fresh from the trenches and having a wounded Boston bulldog mascot on a leash—both were somewhat inviolable—was turned back by the American immigration authorities at Vancouver this forenoon. Asked about the incident an American officer on the train said that the soldier would have to go through a few routine technicalities before he could be allowed to proceed to his home in New York city. The man enlisted in the Canadian army in 1915 out of New York and took an oath of allegiance, which expatriated him as an American citizen. It is now required of him that he repatriate himself. "But what the hell," the big sturdy chap said with a wink, "we're all one now, aren't we?"

HERE FROM ONTARIO.
An interesting visitor to the province at present is Albert Edward Donovan, of Brockville, Ont., a member of the Ontario legislature for the last eleven years, one of the prominent citizens of Brockville and outstanding in the public affairs of the province. Mr. Donovan, accompanied by his son, is making a leisurely tour of the province, renewing old friendships and, in his genial way, making new friends wherever he goes. Mr. Donovan, who is in the life insurance business, formerly represented one of the largest Canadian companies in England for several years; later he was located at Halifax and was general manager for Ontario for one of the large New York companies. He was elected to the legislative assembly in 1907 to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Hon. G. P. Graham to enter the dominion cabinet and was re-elected in 1908, 1911 and 1914.

ST. JOHN SOLDIER'S TRIBUTE TO Y.M.C.A.
Sergt. Charles Wannamaker Writes Glowingly of the Good Done the Soldiers

H. S. Wannamaker of this city has received the following letter from his brother, Sergeant Charles Wannamaker, who went overseas as a member of the 280th Battalion, and later transferred to another unit, and last week was reported gassed. He writes of the magnificent work that the Military Y. M. C. A. is doing overseas. He writes:—
Dear Brother—
Your letter of June 9 received a few days ago. I am feeling fine and we are having some lovely long days and very warm ones, at that, over here now. I am glad to hear that they got enough single men to do under the Y. M. C. A., and that you married men will not have to come. We had a big day of sports recently and Sir R. L. Borden, General Currie and the Duke of Connaught were present. There were about 50,000 Canadians present. The first man I met was Billy Fowler from St. John. The next I met was Peter Cosman. I was coming out of the Y. M. C. A. tent and who was going in but he. On the following day we had an inspection by General Currie and Sir R. L. Borden and Sir R. L. gave us a good address, which we all enjoyed. Sir R. L. told us that the people of Canada were going to stand by us to a man.
Regarding the work of the Y. M. C. A., let me say that I have seen their workings from the front lines back and if it were not for the Y. M. C. A. we would not have any place to go over here. The places where we were in the line the Y. M. C. A. was away down in a cellar and we could go over and get a good hot cup of cocoa or coffee free of charge. You can buy crackers, canned goods and candy at the same price you pay for them in Canada. I have been reading what some of the people say about the Y. M. C. A. in France, but you will find very few of the men who have been in France talking against it. You can get paper and envelopes any time free of charge, and in some of the tents they run moving pictures where no admittance is charged. The picture tents are crowded all the time.

WOMAN FOUND DEAD; EMPTY LEMON EXTRACT BOTTLES NEAR
Also One in Which Had Been Alcohol Lay Near Body of Mrs. George Henderson of 57 Chapel Street

The authorities fear that the cause of drinking to excess and fatal consequences which may follow were exemplified this morning when Mrs. George Henderson of 57 Chapel street, was found lying dead by her bed with an empty bottle which had contained lemon extract and another in which had been alcohol lying near her on the floor.
About eight o'clock this morning Mr. Henderson, who is a returned soldier, went into his room and saw her lying on the floor. He called neighbors to assist him to place her on the bed, and while doing so they saw that she was dead. The North End police and Coroner F. L. Kenney were notified and in a short while the latter and Sergeant Smith were on the scene.
After making enquiries and an examination of the room, Coroner Kenney decided to hold an inquest and also made arrangements to have a post mortem taken in the afternoon to decide the direct cause of death.
An examination of a pint bottle showed that a label, which had been stuck on the side had been removed almost entirely off, but at the bottom the figures 711 Main street, were discernible.
Mrs. Henderson leaves four small children, two girls and two boys. All four were committed to the care of the Children's Aid Society on July 21, 1916. Subsequently, the girls were sent to the Good Shepherd's Home, where they still are. One boy was sent to the Industrial School at Silver Falls and the other to St. Vincent's orphanage, but both were returned to their mother later and were in the house at the time of their mother's death. Steps are being taken to provide for their care.

AWAY THIS MORNING TO HOME IN HONOLULU
Samuel and W. J. Ramsay Complete Visit to Native Province—Will Visit in States on Way to Pacific Island

Samuel Ramsay and W. J. Ramsay of Honolulu, formerly of this city, who have been visiting relatives in the province for the last month, left this morning for Boston en route to their home. They will visit friends in New York, Kansas City and San Francisco, and expect to arrive in Honolulu about January. They intended staying in their native province longer than they did, but Samuel Ramsay has been offered a remunerative position under the prohibition law in Honolulu. The Ramsay brothers, as they are known in Honolulu, are retired contractors and now heavily interested in the sugar cane business.
Speaking of Honolulu, "the paradise of the Pacific," Mr. Ramsay said that he has lived in practically all parts of America, but no climate can compare with that of Honolulu. The temperature ranges from 72 to 85 degrees and is tempered by a sea breeze. In mid-winter, he says, he often has gone out on his piazza in nothing but a very light suit of water supply on the island and hour gazing out on the boundless Pacific, and recalling in his memory his childhood days spent at Riverside, N. B. He says that he could picture the snowcapped hills of New Brunswick and would recall vividly a St. John winter. These reminiscences came to him on many a winter day in Honolulu, especially when the mercury would climb to about 85.
Honolulu, the capital of Hawaii, is situated on Cebu Island, which is about thirty miles long and seven miles wide, and Mr. Ramsay believes, for its size, it is the most prosperous spot in the world. On the island, he says, there are more than 800 automobiles. The chief industry is the production of cane sugar. Some of the plantations, he says, are as large as 4,000 acres and employ from 1,800 to 2,500 men. One plantation he spoke of, the nearest to Honolulu, will this year yield about 50,000 tons of raw sugar. There is an immense water supply on the island and sowing can be done any time during the year. The schools in Honolulu are of the very best and the natives in many cases are pretty well educated. The mining work on the island is done chiefly by the natives.
Samuel Ramsay left St. John about forty years ago. He says that while he still has a yearning in his heart for the land that gave him birth, yet Honolulu is home for him now. He is seventy years old and has two sons living, one in the United States and the other in British Columbia.

SPHAGNUM MOSS

Sphagnum Moss has been used from time immemorial as a field dressing for wounds. It is reported that great quantities of this moss were gathered and stored up by the Germans in preparation for this war. It is only recently that we, of New Brunswick, have appreciated the fact that this moss can be gathered right at our front doors.

The girls of the Natural History Society are making a big drive on our Moss Bogs this coming Saturday. Before going, however, it would be a wise precaution to call on Oak Hall for
