CONSUMING MORE LIQUOR IN FRANCE

Many of a gentleman named Louis Jorbat. Both were safely lodged at the police station.

Beating the Voters' Lists

To the extraordinary lengths the mania for vote-catching will lead men has often been exemplified before, but never better than in the case of a Corsican mayor. This gentleman had become unpopular during his term of office, and was well aware that at the next election 150 out of the 200 electors would vote against him. To establish the equilibrium, or rather to have a safe balance over, he resolved to create sixty electors. Now, any one who owns land in the commune has the right to have his name inscribed in the electoral list. Accordingly our mayor purchased sixty small parcels of ground, and distributed them among his relations, friends, and clients. The night before the election was to take place the mayor received a message, or rather found it affixed to his front door, to the effect that everyone of his newly created electors who ventured to approach the polling booth would be shot on the spot. The mayor was quite well enough acquainted with his countrymen to know that the threat would be carried out, but he did not intend to warn his voters. He only proceeded to the polling booth as according to his shot down before he could record his vote. His assailant was Louis Jorbat. Turning to the other fifty-nine, this heroic vote-catcher exclaimed, "Vote quickly, before they come back. We have only lost one vote so far!"

"On all sides one hears complaints that life in Paris is growing daily sadder. Perhaps it is not only that persons are going up, but that people are becoming more extravagant. For instance, the state has decided to abolish the one cent cigar, black and gnarled and strong, which cabmen used to puff with obvious satisfaction to themselves, if not to their fares. It is a true fact that it is to be replaced by a slimmer and sleeker cigar at the same price, and no doubt of the same quality of tobacco, but it is probable that the new cigar will prove, like its predecessor, a drug on the market, the fact being that no one smokes one more than ten cents each could be bought loose. Now there is not the smallest shop in the poorest quarter where the passerby cannot purchase an expensive Havana. It is a sign of the times, and perhaps a rather disquieting one.

CASCARETS SURELY STRAIGHTEN YOU OUT

No Headache, Bloating, Upset Stomach, Lazy Liver or Constipated Bowels by Morning

Are you keeping your bowels, liver and stomach clean, pure and fresh with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passage through these alimentary or drainage organs every few days with Salts, Cathartics, Pills, Castor Oil or Purgative Waters?

Stop having a bowel wash-day. Let Cascarets thoroughly cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the undigested, sour and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the decomposed waste matter and poisons in the intestines and bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never grip, sicken or cause any inconvenience, and cost only 10 cents a box from your druggist. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never have Headache, Bloating, upset stomach, indigestion, Sour Stomach or Constipated Bowels. Cascarets belong in every household. Children just love to take them.

THE FREIGHT HANDLERS.
At a meeting of the Freight Handlers' Union, held last evening in Temperance Hall, West St. John, an interesting address was given by the grand president, P. J. Flannery, and the organizer, Mr. C. J. Gyles, who are visitors to the city in connection with the further organization of the union. Messrs. McKean, McGilvery and Gible, of the Clerks' Protective Association, also addressed the meeting on matters pertaining to their association. Yesterday a committee of the local branch of the Freight Handlers' Union interviewed Wm. Downie, superintendent of the C. P. R., and asked an increase in pay, from 21 to 30 cents an hour. They will meet the superintendent again today.

BORDEN'S TROUBLES

Ottawa, Oct. 18.—Hon. F. D. Monk's "emergency" contribution to the cabinet's naval crisis has been the chief business before the government today, and the chief topic of discussion in political circles.

The final and public show down between the premier and his Nationalist ally in the cabinet has cleared the air a little and the further developments of the split in the ministerial support may now be fairly accurately gauged.

An first result the government has decided to call parliament for the 21st of November, there being nothing further to be gained by temporizing until January in the hope of smoothing over differences of opinion with Mr. Monk on fundamental principles.

The second result of a careful canvass of the situation today by the premier and his colleagues has been a decision to let Hon. George E. Peckay, minister without portfolio, take over for a time at least the portfolio of public works, when vacated by Mr. Monk.

Peace a Quebec Eye-Sight.
This action has the advantage, from the standpoint of present political exigency, of getting around the difficulty of opening up a Quebec constituency to provide a seat for a new minister, on the issue raised by Mr. Monk, namely a plebiscite before any decisive naval policy is embarked upon, the government fears.

Quebec, Oct. 18.—As soon as he learned of Mr. Monk's intended resignation, Armand Lavigne, the Nationalist leader of the district of Quebec, wrote a letter to Hon. Col. Sam Hughes, withdrawing his application to be sent by the department of militia as a military envoy to the war in the Balkans.

In his letter, he says that he stands by Mr. Monk and he stays in Canada to offer his services to the latter in his fight for Canadian autonomy.

MOST SUCCESSFUL PLAY OF WEEK

The Young Adams Company scored a triumph last evening in the play of the Sunny South at the Opera House. The special scenery carried for the production added materially to the performance, and credit must be given to the cast for their clever interpretation of this splendid southern comedy, which is a masterpiece of the role of James Kearney, was the predominant character, and through excellent acting, and the perfect command of his ability. The Girl of the Sunny South is easily the best play of the week, and will no doubt draw capacity attendance at the matinee today and again at the evening performance. The five vaudeville features are different from any given during the engagement.

THAT VERY NIGHT HE DIED

Milan, Oct. 19.—A remarkable case of mental telepathy is reported from San-dra, near Verona. The two-year-old child of a family named Barlini, in a great state of excitement, roused its uncle and exclaimed, "Our Kimo is dead!"

"Kimo" was the name of the child's elder brother, a soldier in the 6th Alpine Regiment, serving in the war. The family, who described the strange incident to several neighbors, have just received official information of the death of the young soldier in question, which took place from gastric fever on the very night that the child had announced it.

DRINK CURE A MIRACLE?

No, Just Sound Science

Many drunkards are sent to jail, when what they need is a medicine. Drink has undermined their constitutions, inflamed their stomach and nerves, until the craving must be satisfied if it is not removed by a scientific prescription like Samaria.

Samaria Prescription stops the craving, restores the shaking nerves, builds up the system and appetite, and it drives out the distasteful, even nauseous. It is odorless and tasteless, and dissolves instantly in tea, coffee or water. It can be given with or without the patient's knowledge.

Read what it did for Mrs. G., of Vancouver: "I was so anxious to get my husband cured that I went up to Harrison Drug Store, and got your remedy there. I had no trouble giving it without his knowledge. I greatly thank you for all the peace and happiness it has brought already into my home. The cost was not nothing, according to what he would spend in drinking. The cure of drink was putting me into my grave, but now I feel so happy, and everything seems so different and bright. May the Lord be with you and help you in curing the evil. I don't want my name published."

Now, if you know of any unfortunate needing Samaria Treatment, tell him of his family or friends about it. If you have any friend or relative who is forming the drink habit, help him to release himself from his clutches. Write today.

A NEW TUNNEL AND BRIDGE FOR THAMES

ready our asylums are full to overflowing, new ones are being built, and our streets are filled with prostitutes. Only the women known to the medical profession are taught from their infancy the things that concern the purity of their own bodies and the sanctity of the temple of the living God. Women must be rescued to the importance of these things.

There is said to be quite a boom at present in land speculation in British East Africa. Land which a few years ago was only bringing about one cent an acre a year, recently changed hands for $30 a acre. It is said that Captain Morrison

THE REPULSIVENESS OF MEDUSA!

Due, not to distorted features, but to her snaky hair.

Minerva knew that the surest way to ruin a woman's beauty was to destroy her hair. Hence she took a most terrible revenge when she turned Medusa's hair into serpents and thus robbed a feared and hated rival of all claim to loveliness.

Many a woman to-day is being robbed of her personal attractiveness by the loss of her hair just as surely as was Medusa. There is one sure way to check the loss of hair and add to its beauty and luxuriance, and that is by the use of the well known scalp prophylactic and hair dressing

NOTE: Medusa, one of the three Gorgones mentioned in Mythology, is described as being a fair maiden of rare and touching beauty. Because of the desecration of her temple, the goddess Minerva in revenge changed Medusa's hair to snakes and decreed that whosoever should look upon her face be turned to stone.

prohibited. It is the house-to-house distribution of circulars and "samples" of all kinds. Almost daily the careful housewife finds the entrance hall littered with these evidences of the enterprise of the local tradesmen or some of the big manufacturing firms. The warning notice found on many front gates in suburbs, "No hawkers or circulars allowed," is invariably ignored, and so is the other, "Beware of the dog," for the distributor knows that in most cases there is no dog to be wary of. The capacity of the royal aircraft factory is to be more than doubled during the next few months. A large tract of ground attached to the existing buildings is now being prepared, with new engineering required.
