

The Island of Tea

The choicest tea in the world grows high up on the mountain-sides of Ceylon. The native purity and garden-freshness of this superb Ceylon Tea is preserved by the sealed lead packages used in packing.

"SATARA"

Black, Green or Mixed SEALLED LEAD PACKETS ONLY. MADE IN CANADA BORDEN'S Peerless Brand Evaporated Milk

All Grocers 5 and 10 cents per can. CORN FRITTERS—THE BORDEN WAY To two cups of cold, sweet corn cut from the cob, or canned corn, finely chopped, add one-fourth cup Peerless Brand Evaporated Milk, three-fourths cup water, the yolks of two eggs, a pinch of salt and one cup flour; beat well. Then add the beaten whites of two eggs and one teaspoonful baking powder. Drop by spoonfuls into deep hot fat and fry brown.

BORDEN'S CONDENSED MILK CO. Established 1857. "Leaders of Quality". WM. H. DUNN, SELLING REPRESENTATIVE. MONTREAL.

A WONDERFUL REMEDY

Orange Lily is daily curing the most obstinate cases of Female Dis-ease. Pains of the Womb, Leucorrhoea, Painful and Suppressed Menstruation, etc. It acts as a powerful tonic, and restores the system to its normal condition. It is a simple, safe, and effective remedy, and is sold in all drug stores.

SHIPPING

ALMANAC FOR ST. JOHN, MAY 4. CHARTERS. The following charters are reported through C. M. Kerrison's office: 30th May, 3rd, 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th, 8th, 9th, 10th, 11th, 12th, 13th, 14th, 15th, 16th, 17th, 18th, 19th, 20th, 21st, 22nd, 23rd, 24th, 25th, 26th, 27th, 28th, 29th, 30th, 31st.

GLORIOUS HAIR FOR WOMEN

Your Money Back says A. Chipman Smith if PARISIAN SAGE isn't the Most Delightful Hair Dressing, Grower, Beautifier and Dandruff Remover you ever saw.

Try it ladies on that fair and square head. Surely you don't want to experiment with common commercial tonics, when a large bottle of PARISIAN SAGE costs but 50 cents. There is a reason for the phenomenal sale of PARISIAN SAGE since it was first introduced into America, and the sales this year are breaking all records.

"Turn About Is Fair Play"

By RUTH CAMERON. I'M SHORT, if youth is not quite right in its opinions there is a strong probability that age is not much more so. It is often reminded of the difference which young people owe to their elders; we seldom hear anything about the courtesy which old people should show to their youngsters; and yet I think that such an obligation certainly exists, and that older people often make the mistake of ignoring it. It is both irritating and amusing to hear a certain elderly lady daily contradict her niece on subjects which the latter has been studying for the last ten years. Doubtless there are many things about which the older woman does know best; but in regard to this matter she has absolutely no claim to superior knowledge except "I've lived a good deal longer than you have, my dear." Consequently she makes her assumptions of superiority. Wisdom in youth deserves respect just as much as wisdom in old age, and whoever fails to give it falls in propriety, even if he is a hundred years old.

Again, young folks have a right to their privacy. An impatient question does not seem to be important when an elderly person asks it. A young woman tells me that an elderly cousin considers that her eighty years give her the right to say anything she likes, and that she often asks such questions as, "How much board do you pay your father?" "How much did your sister's wedding cost?" A good many like this who presume on their years to be inquisitive, and needless to say, we do not love them for it.

One more suggestion for the older folk. A short time ago I urged the young people to call on their lonely old friends more often. A letter-friend writes, "I wish you would also tell these lonely old people that the young folks will be more anxious to visit them if they meet their some-appearing like, and so glad to see you. Young folks have so many interests that it is very good of you to spare time for us lonely old people," instead of with some acid remark, "You have not been with me for long time." Well, you will be old yourself some time and then you'll know what it is to be lonely. It is an eternal law of the universe that he who sows to find courtesy and thoughtfulness and kindness in others must let others find these qualities in him, and old as well as young are subject to this law.

La MARQUISE de FONTENOY

Visit of Lord Osborne de Vere to New York Reveals the Story of Nell Gwyn. Lord Osborne de Vere Beauclerk, who has just arrived in New York on the S. S. Cronia, is the half-brother and next heir of the Duke of St. Albans, who he is, at the age of forty years, an invalid, and childless. The dukedom dates from the days of Charles II, who conferred the title upon Charles Beauclerk, one of his two sons, when the mother was Nell Gwyn. She was an orange girl, actress, friend of the poet Dryden, (who wrote parts adapted to her peculiar capabilities), and the admired one of the great old gossip Samuel Pepys, who said of one of her impersonations, "Pretty, witty, and exactly made for the performance of a comical part; never I believe, in the world before!" Even Evelyn, who hated women of her class, spoke of her with respect. She may be said to be the last descendant of the "Merry Widow" hat. It seems that an actor at the play-house known as The Duke's Theatre, wore a very large hat, which became the talk of the town. Not to be outdone, Nell Gwyn appeared on the stage in a hat of the same description of a timber coach-wheel, in such a merry fashion as to draw the theatre into convulsions of laughter, in which the actors themselves could not help joining. About the first thing heard of her was when she was an orange girl in Drury Lane Theatre. The orange girls stood in the pit, with their backs to the stage, on the watch for customers for their wares, exchanging witticisms with the audience during the waits between the acts. Nell was a great favorite with the people for her generosity, her invariable good temper, her ready wit and her infectious high spirits, all of which were irresistible to those who recognized in her the signs of an absolute contradiction of the Puritanism that had so recently weighed upon the spirits of the pleasure-loving element of the population. Her hair was well formed, handsome, red-haired and rather plump, airy, fantastic and sprightly, she sang, danced and was exactly made for acting light, airy characters. Moreover, she was, in her way, patriotic, never intruding in politics, and is known to have sometimes given excellent and disinterested advice to her royal, selfish, and frivolous lover. "Why don't you get rid of all us women," she said on one occasion, "and devote yourself to serious affairs, to the good of your kingdom?" Unlike the other favorites of the Merrie Monarch, she was faithful to him from the beginning to the end of his reign, until the end of his life, and after he died, to his memory. She was a general favorite of the people, and her royal lover to found Chelsea Hospital, an estimable charity, for the support and retirement, in their declining years, of old soldiers. It accommodates upwards of 500 besides having a large number of out-door pensioners. An amusing story is told of the origin of the dukedom of St. Albans. Nell Gwyn resented the fact that Charles II. showed her honors and titles upon the offering of his other favorites, Barbara Villiers, Louise de Querouaille, and others, whereas her children were discriminated against. He refused to respond to her appeals to confer nobiliary rank upon her two boys. She waited her opportunity, and one afternoon when Charles was riding through the street in his usual way, and one of her company of courtiers, she suddenly held her baby out of the window and, halting the king, threatened to let the child drop on to the stones below, unless he then and there bestowed a dukedom upon his and her offspring. Charles laughingly yielded, and pledged himself to comply with her demand. On reaching Whitehall, he created the child not only Duke of St. Albans, but likewise hereditary grand falconer to the crown. Thanks to this royal descent, the Duke of St. Albans are entitled to the use of the royal arms of England, braced together with a bar sinister. On his deathbed Charles II. entrusted his brother, the Duke of Devon, to look after Nell Gwyn, and not to let her starve; a request which that otherwise ungracious monarch faithfully fulfilled, giving her a substantial sum in cash, together with a life interest in a valuable estate, the reversion to the crown.

Daily Hints For the Cook

TAPIOCA PUDDING. Five tablespoons pearl tapioca, 4 cups scalded milk, 4 tablespoons Indian meal, 84 cup molasses, 3 tablespoons butter, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1 cup milk. Soak tapioca two hours in cold water to cover. Pour scalded milk on Indian meal, molasses, butter and salt. Cook in double boiler until mixture thickens, add tapioca drained from water, turn into buttered pudding dish and pour over remaining milk, but do not stir. Bake one and one-fourth hours in a slow oven. LEMON PIE. Two good-sized lemons, 1 1/2 cups granulated sugar, 1 large tablespoon butter; grate the outside rind of the lemons in a deep dish, add sugar, flour or cornstarch, stir well, then add yolks of eggs, well beaten, juice of the lemons, and the water; put into double boiler or saucepan, and cook until it thickens as a thick syrup or cold honey; add butter and take from the fire; when cool put in a deep pie plate, lined with tender pastry; bake, and when done frost top with beaten egg whites beaten stiff with 3 teaspoons of sugar; brown a little. A SIMPLE DESSERT. Break bread into cups or individual molds and pour fruit juice over it until every particle is moistened. Then press down slightly with a spoon and set away in a cool place. When ready to serve turn from the little cups and serve with cream, either plain or whipped, or custard sauce. Although very simple this dessert is delicious and can be made from the extra juice of any canned or preserved fruit.

SOMETHING YOU SHOULD NOT MISS

Is the dollar you spend here for men's wear. You get its full return in quality, service and style, should your purchase be something that demands style. Whether you buy Suits or Neckties, this is where you will find the best for the least money. Look at these prices if you want to be convinced. MEN'S PANTS, from $1.85 up. MEN'S NEGLIGEE SHIRTS, from 75c up. MEN'S WORSTED SUITS, from $10.00 up. MEN'S HARD HATS, from 2.00 up. MEN'S SOFT FELT HATS, from 75c up. MEN'S SUITS, (made to order), $15.50. MEN'S PANTS, (made to order), from 3.00 up. GLOVES, COLLARS, BRACE. CORBET'S, 196 Union St.

NO INDIGESTION, DYSPESIA OR A SICK STOMACH. Indigestion, Gas and all Stomach Distress Will go in Five Minutes. Every family here ought to keep some Diapasin in the house, as any one of you may have an attack of Indigestion or Stomach trouble at any time, day or night. The harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a distressed, out-of-order stomach five minutes at all seasons. If your meals don't tempt you, or what little you do eat seems to fill you, or lay like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion. Ask your Pharmacist for a 50-cent case of Diapasin, and take a little just as soon as you feel any of these symptoms, no belching of undigested food, mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, indigestion or heavy feeling in the stomach, Nausea, Dizziness, Headaches, Dizziness or intestinal griping. This will all go, and besides, there will be no more food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors. Diapasin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it prevents fermentation and takes all stomach acid and indigestible substances as if your stomach wasn't there. Relief in minutes from all stomach troubles. Diapasin is a certain cure for years of indigestion, dyspepsia, heartburn, gas, and all stomach troubles. Diapasin contains more than sufficient to cure any case of Dyspepsia, Indigestion or any other Stomach trouble. Duke of St. Albans. The other child of Nell Gwyn died in his boyhood. It may be added that no question has ever been raised as to the royal descent of the Duke of St. Albans. Missing For Two Years. But to return to Lord Osborne de Vere Beauclerk. His love of adventure was a source of great anxiety to his friends and relatives a few years ago. In July, 1907, he sailed to America on board the "Celtic" as a fellow passenger of Alfred Vanderbilt. After visiting Alaska, and spending some time in British Columbia, he started on a hunting trip, down the Colorado River. Then, nothing was heard of him for two years. Several expeditions were sent out, but the instance of his widowed mother, to ascertain what had become of him, for, of course, the worse was feared regarding his fate, especially as it was known that he had a large sum of money with him when last seen. But it turned out that there was really no cause for alarm. He was so delighted with the freedom of life in the west and was having such a good time roaming around, that he had actually forgotten to write home. Moreover he had been acquiring a large mining and lumber interests, and understood that his visit to the states was to look after them. He has mentioned that when he succeeded to the dukedom of St. Albans, he will also enjoy the hereditary dignity of grand falconer. He also has the privilege of driving in his carriage up and down the streets of London, being the only other personage who can do likewise, that exclusive thoroughfare, sacred exclusively to the aristocracy of the realm. George V. is doing a great deal to restore Rotten Row to its former prestige as a fashionable driving place. Although Edward VII. when prince of Wales, had been in the habit of taking a daily morning gallop in the row during the season, he abandoned the custom when he became king, and the row no longer attracted the brilliant throng of riders and pedestrians that it did of yore, while the rules established to prevent its being given up to riding schools and horsebreakers, fell into desuetude. While the name "Rotten Row" may sound queer to American ears, it is a very common one on the other side. There are scores of Rotten Rows in England, particularly in Yorkshire, and literally hundreds of them in Scotland. The common word "rotten," signifying decayed, has nothing to do with it. It is derived from "rotten," to master. A "rot" was a file of six or twelve soldiers. Rotten Row was the mustering place of the "rots" of pikemen, and twelve "rots" of musketeers should constitute one company, and it is well known that he assembled his men in Hyde Park, so that the Rotten Row of London is situated. MARQUISE DE FONTENOY. To Make Good Bread requires good yeast, and to have good yeast you should insist upon your grocer giving you White Swan Yeast Cakes. A 5c package contains 6 cakes. Free sample sent on request. White Swan Spices & Cereals, Limited, Toronto, Ont. The Credit Custom Clothing Co's NEW ADDRESS 68 Mecklenburg Street, City

IF A HIGH CLASS RANGE YOU ARE LOOKING FOR COME AND SEE THE CELEBRATED CABINET GLENWOOD. You can't help wanting a plain CABINET GLENWOOD. It is so smooth and easy to clean, no filigree or busy ornamentation to catch the dust or dirt, just the natural Black Iron Finish, "The Mission Style," applied to a range, a room saver too like the upright piano, every essential refined and improved upon. The BROAD SQUARE OVEN with perfectly square sides is very roomy, the GLENWOOD Oven Heat Indicator, the Improved Baking Damper, the Sectional top, the Revolving Grate, the Convenient oven cleanout, and the Celebrated GLENWOOD ASH CHUTE, are all worthy of special mention. The GLENWOOD GAS RANGE ATTACHMENT consists of an oven, a broiler and a three burner top, it is made to bolt neatly to the end of the GLENWOOD RANGE, both coal and gas ovens can be operated separately or together as may be desired. If you want a range to give excellent satisfaction for years to come then get the CELEBRATED CABINET GLENWOOD. McLEAN, HOLT & CO. 185 UNION STREET, ST. JOHN, N. B. Write or Call for our Latest GLENWOOD Catalogue.

A NEW ARRIVAL IN Brass Bedsteads. We have received a Brass Bedstead that for PRICE and finish will both surprise and please you. Surprise you because of its LOW PRICE, STYLE and DURABILITY. Please you because at our price you can enjoy the luxury of a Brass Bed at a remarkably low figure. $15.95 ONLY $15.95 for this Brass Bedstead—Pillars are 2 inch—Fringles are 1-2 inch has 6 pillars in head and 6 in foot piece—Finished in best grade lacquer, absolutely guaranteed not to peel or crack. Full Size $15.95. A Few Designs of Our Large Stock of Brass Bedsteads. We Carry an Excellent Variety of Enamel Bedsteads in White or Green—All Sizes. J. Marcus - - 30 Dock Street FURNITURE AND HOUSE FURNISHINGS Open Evenings Phone 1373

For A Soft Healthy Skin Use Baby's Own Soap. It's "Best for Baby—Best for You". Absolutely pure vegetable oils made fragrant by flower extracts, which help the skin, make Baby's Own Soap the best for toilet and nursery use. Its fragrant, creamy lather delights all. ALBERT SOAPS, LIMITED, Mrs. - MONTREAL.

Baby's Own Soap

SIXTY YEARS MARRIED Ontario Couple Celebrate Their Diamond Wedding—Five Generations at Dinner. Pictou, May 4—Mr. and Mrs. Richard S. Garratt, of Wellington, celebrated their diamond wedding this week with a dinner at the Hotel Alexandra, Wellington, over 600 guests being laid for fifty-two. The happy couple, still energetic despite their advancing years, took an active part in every detail of the celebration. Mr. and Mrs. Garratt tell many interesting stories in connection with this country's upbuilding. They were married in 1852 at Consonoc. Mr. Garratt is one of U. E. Loyalist parentage. They live today in the original homestead of his father. When the aged couple married there were no railways in Canada and only one steamboat, the Commodore, sailing on Lake Ontario. They have three sons, three grand-children, fourteen great-grandchildren, and one great-great-grandchild. An only daughter died in 1880. The five generations were represented at the celebration. CORRECTED. "Did you say I was a dead beat?" "None I never said you were dead!"—Houston Post. Only One "BROMO QUININE" that is Laxative Bromo Quinine. Cures a Cold in One Day, Cough in 2 Days. E. W. Johnson, 235