EASTMOUNT FIRE; APPARATUS FROM CITY GOES OUT

Fire this morning about nine o'clock destroyed the house of Howard Shortliff at Eastmount. Fortunately the furniture and other household effects were saved. The chimney had been burning from the time the early morning fire was lighted in the kitchen stove. Sparks caught on the roof and soon the house was in the grip of a serious blaze. A call was sent to the city for assistance. The chemical engine responded, and after emptying its tanks on the flames returned to the city. Later the horse drawn engine proceeded to the scene and did much good work in preventing the fire from spreading. It was, the house immediately next door to the Shortliff home caught but the fire was extinguished after some hard work. It is understood that the loss was fairly well covered by insurance.

APPLE TREES AT WESTFIELD IN BLOSSOM ANEW

Nature never ceases to develop its freaks, which is the wonder of many a man to wonder in terms of why and wherefore. This morning when E. R. Machum came to the city he brought with him a sprig from an apple tree at Westfield, bearing perfectly formed blooms. Mr. Machum said that the tree from which he picked the blossoms is not an isolated case, but that the phenomenon is apparent in others. These trees are in the fire district. The fruit on the side of the trees farthest away from the fire was unaffected by the heat while on the near side the apples were baked. It is also on the side next the fire that the blossoms are now appearing.

TOT OF SIX HERE, TICKETED ON A LONE JOURNEY

A bright eyed girl of six years of age came in on the Boston train today at noon in charge of the conductor. The little tot was travelling from Toronto to Sydney, N. S. unaccompanied. TO WED ON SEPT. 28.

A notice of interest to a great many people in the city and vicinity was published in the Toronto Globe on Friday, as follows: "Mrs. W. W. Ireland announces the engagement of her daughter, Edith Isabel, to Arthur Norwood Carter of St. John, N. B. The wedding will take place quietly on September 28."

Mr. Carter is a son of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Carter, of Fair Vale, and is a well known young man in the city. In 1913 he won the Rhodes scholarship in the University of New Brunswick, as well as the alumni gold medal. He was in attendance at Oxford University when the war broke out in 1914, and enlisted in the ranks. He received rapid and well merited promotion, so that on the cessation of hostilities he had attained the rank of captain and was decorated with the Military Cross. Returning to Oxford, he received his M. A. and B. C. L. certificates in the spring of 1920. After a short trip, Mr. and Mrs. Carter will return to St. John, where they will reside in the McArthur apartments, Germain street.

MULATTO NOT ASKED TO PLEAD

Smiles as He is Arraigned in Police Court.

Held on Suspicion in McAuley Girl Murder Case—Is Handed Over to the Detective Department.

Smiling a good natured smile and apparently unconcerned, John Paris, a mulatto, was arraigned in police court this morning facing a charge of murdering little Sadie McAuley. This is the first tangible result of six weeks of diligent search in many cases of fruitless labor on the part of the detective department. Since the revolting tragedy, which occurred in Riverview Park on Tuesday, August 2, no stone has been left unturned in a search which has spread across the whole continent to bring to justice the perpetrator of the awful deed. Paris was not asked to plead this morning, but given a formal remand and handed over to the detective department.

He had been held for some time on a charge of theft by the Truro police, but it was decided to bring him back to St. John.

It is of interest to note that at the time the little Levine girl was at the police station, whether she had been called to establish the identity or not of a suspect in the McAuley case, Paris was being held there for the Truro police, who saw him, but did not say that he was the man who had lured away and murdered her little companion.

THEY GO THE CITY BOYS ONE BETTER

Use Kite and Make Parachute Drop from Lofly Height.

While the boys of the city were responsible for the development of the miniature parachute which has been much in evidence during the last few days, it remained for some of the suburban lads to go one better and conduct regular descents, the drop being made from a kite which was flown at one of the C. N. R. summer colonies during the week-end.

The city youngsters delighted themselves by throwing the home-made parachutes into the air and watching them sail gracefully to the ground. The altitude attained apparently did not suit the boys in the open spaces, so they started to set a record for height.

A kite was flown, and after it had reached a good height, a parachute was made in the regulation way, the cloth part being about the size of a man's handkerchief. The string of the kite was passed through two holes near the centre of the cloth and so close together that when the parachute passed along the string its fabric was torn by friction and it was allowed to drop. The parachute was carried from the ground skywards along the string by the wind in the same manner as boys are in the habit of sending paper messages.

ALONG THE RIVER

Those who spent the summer along the river are very reluctant to say good-bye to its pleasures. The Ocopee on Saturday afternoon had a large number of passengers, and these went ashore at Sand Point, Crystal Beach, Carter's Point, Public Landing, and points beyond. There have been more people at Sand Point this season than ever before, and quite a number are still lingering in the cottages. In addition to the Ocopee, the late Saturday evening and early Monday morning trips of the Dream enable people to get up and down.

Yesterday was like a summer day in Long Beach. The thermometer at Public Landing went above seventy in the afternoon, and showers of very heavy rain in the night did not dampen and bracing, and the clearness of the atmosphere made the view of river and hills even more than ordinarily beautiful. People were able to sit in comfort on their verandahs in the glorious moonlight until late last evening.

The apple crop in orchards along the reach is large this year, and of good quality, but there are no proper marketing facilities. The ground under the trees is littered with fruit that goes to the live stock or decays where it is.

A resident near Morrisdale fired at a mouse on Saturday and hit him, but was unable to bring him down.

The Ocopee arrived at Indian town this morning a few minutes after ten o'clock. Lighter traffic enables her to make better time.

A SPORTSMAN'S TALE

Howard R. Garnett of Cannon street is responsible for the following story of real sport. He was spending a few days in the country with his brother, Clifford D. Garnett, who is fish warden in the Black River district. On last Thursday, being caught by the tide, they were forced to mount a cliff some 300 feet high. When they were near the top Clifford turned to direct Howard in his course and stepped on an old log, which caved in. It proved to be a raccoon's den, with five occupants. One of them started to climb up Clifford's leg, inside his trousers, and had to be shot. He stunned another with the butt of his gun. The others attacked a spaniel pup, and in making a blow at them with the gun Clifford hit the pup and knocked it into a bunch of bushes, which proved to contain a hornet's nest, about eighteen inches in diameter. Seizing the two raccoons and the dog, the men moved for the top of the cliff. The stunned coon revived and was put in a bag and brought to Rockwood Park. About a week before this, Clifford Garnett, while eating lunch on the shore of Black River, was attacked by a wild cat, which he shot. A few days ago a bear walked out of the woods in a farm house, frightened away some children who were playing around a swing, and ate the cake they had left. Afterwards the bear killed a cow belonging to another farmer, and is still at large.
