THE RESULT OF THE POLLING WEDNESDAY

Returns to Date Give Government Candidate a Majority of Eighty-Night.

Vancouver, Feb. 5.—Robert G. Macpherson is elected successor to the late Mr. Maxwell by a certain majority of over one hundred. The exact figure of the plurality stands at eight-eight, and returns from Howe Sound, expected to be a small number, should make it over one hundred for the Liberal candidate.

The poll in Howe Sound is next Monday, and majorities are expected there and in Simpson, Essington and other places up the coast.

There is the usual talk of a protest today by the Foley people, but no action has been taken or is likely to be. There was a great celebration last night, enthusiastic speeches being made by Messrs. Macpherson, Senkler, Macdonell and other party leaders.

WOMAN DROWNED.

Sloop Dashed to Pieces at Fulford Harbor in Last Week's Storm.

During the storm of Thursday of last week Mrs. Ryneburger, the wife of a fisherman near Fulford Harbor, lost her life. With her husband and daughter, of twelve, she was on board a sloop off Portland Island. The little vessel was anchored, but when the storm arose dragged anchor and was driven on Russell Island.

Before the boat went to pieces Ryneburger managed to work his way up the rocky beach to a place of safety. From that point he attempted to save the lives of the other occupants of the sloop. A rope was thrown as the vessel drifted in, and the daughter secured it and was helped to safety. A similar attempt was made to save his wife. She fastened the rope about herself, but was knocked insensible upon the rocks before she was enabled to get secure footing.

Going to the other side of the island he attracted the attention of some of the opposite shore after a considerable time. They went to his assistance, and after a search of the vicinity found the woman's body. The sloop had been dashed to pieces. An inquest was held on Friday at Fulford Harbor.

YOUNG LIFE SAVER
FITTINGLY HONORED

The Medal of the Royal Humane Society Presented to Master Nason.

At the high school Wednesday afternoon Edward Francis Nason was presented with the Royal Humane Society's medal for life saving.

The presentation was connected with the life saving event for the month of January. Life saving events are familiar to all. At Port Bay last summer Mary McInnes got beyond her depth, and sunk to the bottom. Young Nason swam out, and after a struggle succeeded in rescuing her life.

There was present Wednesday a large number, including His Honor the Lieutenant Governor, to whom was entrusted the presentation of the medal. Trustees Mrs. Jenkins and Boggs, Principal Paul and his assistants, members of the teaching staff, and Ian St. Clair, the instructor, under whom Edward Nason learned the method to be employed in saving life under such circumstances.

Principal Paul presided. Ian St. Clair, being introduced paid a tribute to the manliness of the boys, who had been trained by the school. He was confident that the other boys would acquire themselves with equal honor should the occasion present itself.

His Honor Sir Henri Joly de Lotbiniere said:

"Mr. Principal, Ladies and Gentlemen: I think that by rights this medal ought to have been given to young Nason by Mr. St. Clair, and not by me. As the medal is the property of the Royal Humane Society, I have the honor to present it to him. I think this presentation, though by rights it ought to be made by Mr. St. Clair, is more meaningful attached to these words of commendation. We ought all to be grateful to Mr. St. Clair for the good he has been doing in teaching his students in order to teach the boys and girls to swim, that in case of accidents they may be able to save their fellow creatures. I think that every honor is connected with this work. I think we should be grateful to Mr. St. Clair for teaching you how to swim, and also in making you all of those who are drowning. This is not the first time I have been able to present a medal. I presented one to a lady some time ago, and as I was coming out of the building a little boy called out, 'Oh, mother, the Governor has a medal, too.' I wish it was a life-saving medal. I would have been proud of a life-saving medal from the one I have on. I am glad to give you this medal. It is the medal of the Royal Humane Society, and it is the honor of the Governor to give it to you. It is impossible not to feel any enjoyment of which is greater than that. But when we see that in this case, not a man, but a mere boy, who risked his life in the way he did, I think this is one of the occasions he will never forget. He did his duty, and would lead us to suppose he would do his duty on all occasions. I see an honorable man before him, and I hope that God will grant it."

He suggested that the young lady whose life had been saved should bring the medal to Master Nason. She, however, was absent. His Honor then asked the privilege for his grand-daughter Miss Boswell. This was accordingly done, and the medal pinned on.

After a few remarks by Trustee Boggs, who introduced the interest which His Honor always took in the schools, the singing of "God Save the King" brought the gathering to a close.

No! No! No! No!

This word is used four times by Prof. W. Hodgson Ellis, Official Analyst to the Dominion Government, in reporting the result of his analyses of Sunlight Soap.

"No unsaponified fat"; that means no waste.
"No free alkali"; that means no damage to clothes or hands.
"No loading mixture"; that means every atom is pure soap.
"No adulteration whatever"; that means pure ingredients.
Try Sunlight Soap—Octagon Brand—and you will see Prof. Ellis is right. He should know.

PIN BRIDGE IS AGAIN SELECTED

COUNCIL REVERT TO THE OLD ARRANGEMENT
Decision Reached Regarding Point Ellice Structure at Session of Streets and Bridges Committee.

The Point Ellice bridge will now almost assuredly be a pin structure. The streets, bridges and sewers committee, embracing the whole council met on Wednesday and unanimously decided on recommending such to the council. It is therefore certain that the recommendation will be accepted on Monday night.

This course was taken Wednesday after discussing the situation with the city engineer and H. F. Bell, C.E. The report of the expert engineer in Montreal, to whom the plans for the riveted bridge agreed upon by the city were submitted by the Tramway Company, was to have taken place last night. The recommended modifications in the plans which it was believed would not be agreed to by Mr. Bell. It was therefore thought wise to go back to the plans to which all parties were agreeable, namely, those for a pin structure.

The fears entertained by several of the aldermen at the time when ex-Mayor Hayward urged so strongly the entering into the contract for the riveted bridge, then urged that there was no occasion for any undue haste at that particular time, inasmuch as it was absolutely uncertain that the engineer in Montreal would be able to produce the plans for the riveted bridge, which would be agreeable to the plans submitted by him.

This led to a tentative contract being entered into by which in case of the council not being agreeable to any modifications suggested by the street railway company's expert they should go back to the original plans. In keeping with this alternative feature in the contract entered into the present council sitting as a streets, bridges and sewers committee has gone back to the pin structure. No delay will be occasioned by this course as the plans for the riveted bridge, already agreed to by all parties concerned. The contract goes to the Victoria Machinery Depot, who were willing to accept the alternative contract, agreeing to erect the bridge either as a riveted or as a pin structure at the uniform price of 6% cents a pound.

The acceptance of the report of the streets, bridges and sewers committee by the council on Monday evening removes any cause for further delay in the building of this bridge, which for so many years has been constantly before the public.

The present plans are those which were prepared before tenders were called for the last time. Upon these the various firms tendered, and it was accordingly agreed to enter into the contract with the Victoria Machinery Depot, the lowest bidder.

The riveted structure was an afterthought, and was urged upon the council for various reasons, which it was expected would be to the advantage of the city. It is the opinion of the council that with this style of bridge were drawn up after a great deal of labor. These have now in all likelihood been put aside and the contract will be let as it might have been several months ago.

MANUAL TRAINING.

H. Dunnell on Condition of Schools in Province—Another Branch in Vancouver.

The question of accommodation is becoming one of pressing importance in connection with the Manual Training schools both in Victoria and Vancouver. H. Dunnell, who has been appointed director of these schools, states that there is now accommodation for 600 boys per week in this and the Terminal City, but that it is already proving too small for those qualified to receive instruction, and at least one more centre in both cities could be successfully worked. The last branch to be opened in this province was inaugurated on February 1st at Mount Pleasant, Vancouver, and has been placed in charge of Mr. McKewen. This gentleman is one of twenty teachers who have had a special month's training at Ottawa. His assistant will be Mr. Moffatt.

Mr. Dunnell also reports that the movement started last summer in giving Victoria teachers instruction in brush drawing and clay modelling is having excellent results. These teachers who attended the summer holiday course have, by the aid of the manual training introduced either brush drawing or clay modelling into their class work, and the pupils were making satisfactory progress.

In conclusion Mr. Dunnell says: "In every part of Canada manual training in its various branches, from the kindergarten upwards, is taking a strong hold, and next June when the schools are handed over to the various cities, Sir Wm. Macdonell will have the satisfaction of knowing that this money, in the hands of Prof. Robertson, has been well spent."

The present staff of the schools in British Columbia follows: H. Dunnell, director, Victoria; Mr. Binn, instructor; Mr. Waddington, first assistant; Mr. Campbell, second assistant. Vancouver: Mr. Northrop, instructor; Mr. Moffatt, first assistant; Mr. McKewen, second assistant.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS.
Remains of Miss Mallette Laid to Rest Tuesday.—Death of Mrs. E. Raitt.

The remains of the late Florence Nellie Mallette were laid to rest Tuesday afternoon. The funeral took place from the family residence, No. 3 Queen's avenue, at 2:15 o'clock, and later at the Metropolitan Methodist church, where impressive services were conducted.

There was a large attendance at the residence, and the eulogies were delivered with flowers and floral emblems and designs. After holding brief services by Rev. Dr. Rowe, the cortege wended its way to the church, where a large number of these friends gathered to pay their last respects to the dead.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Elliott S. Rowe. The choir of the church sang "The Imperial hymn," and the only one taken before her death. In conversation with a Times reporter to-day, he explained clearly the object of his visit and the league, making the remark attributed to him in the opening paragraph of this article. Continuing, he said: "My object is to show to the British people how this question affects them—why it is important to Canada. The whole expansion and development of this country depends upon its access to over-sea markets. Without the protection of the navy its commerce will be wholly at the mercy of an enemy. What is wanted is a fleet adequate to defeat any fleet or fleets, and the only one then able to afford her protection is the Imperial navy. It is therefore urgent in the interests of Canada that that navy shall be adequate."

SPECIAL ENVOY OF NAVY LEAGUE

H. F. WYATT ARRIVED HERE WEDNESDAY

Explains His Mission and Results of His Visit to Date—Will Address Meetings.

"The education of public opinion on the question of command of the sea is the general object of the Navy League," remarked H. F. Wyatt, special envoy of the parent organization of London, England, to a Times representative at the Drifted Thursday. Mr. Wyatt arrived in the city Wednesday after a very successful tour of the Dominion, having organized branches in all the principal cities. He was met at the wharf by Jos. Pearson and other officials of the Navy League and escorted to the hotel.

On Wednesday morning he met a committee of the local branch to discuss matters in connection with his visit. At 1:30 this afternoon he called on the Lieutenant Governor, and an hour later interviewed the members of the provincial committee now in the city. Tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock he will address the board of trade and general public at the board rooms, and may possibly be present at the meeting of the chamber of commerce to-morrow evening and the lecture in the Victoria theatre. On Saturday night he will address a public gathering in the city hall.

Mr. Wyatt is described by the British press as the most capable man in giving the League could possibly have selected to represent it in the colonies as special envoy. Experienced with the details of his subject at his finger tips, earnest and able, he has proved throughout his Canadian tour that the description was accurate. He is said to be an excellent platform speaker, and his addresses will therefore be awaited with no little interest. In conversation with a Times reporter to-day, he explained clearly the object of his visit and the league, making the remark attributed to him in the opening paragraph of this article. Continuing, he said: "My object is to show to the British people how this question affects them—why it is important to Canada. ## WORKINGMEN MEET.

The Trades and Labor Council Held Their Regular Gathering Wednesday Evening.

The Trades and Labor Council met last evening. The organizing committee reported that the charter for the new union of Leather Workers had arrived. Efforts, it was also reported, were being made to reorganize the Teamsters' Union, and that a meeting would be held for that purpose on Sunday afternoon. To the organizing committee was also referred the matter of dealing with the Bricklayers' Union. This organization, by letter, withdrew from the council, and the organizing committee will seek to have them affiliate with the International Union and continue with the council. R. Ryan and E. C. Knight were added to the committee.

The special committee on the eight-hour day reported that they had found it futile to have the law apply to contract work as well as to day labor. The council decided to elect representatives to the meeting of the Provincial Mining Association on February 25th.

A circular letter from President John Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers, asked support for a new labor paper to be called Boyce's weekly and issued from Chicago.

President Bolden suggested that a committee be appointed to take up and advocate the establishment in the city of an institution for technical training along the lines contained in the platform of the Labor candidates for school trustees at the recent municipal election. This suggestion will be acted upon.

C. Silvert was elected to the executive in the place of T. H. Twigg, resigned.
