MANCHESTER LINERS WILL LEAVE ST. JOHN.

Summer Service to be Abandoned---Last Boat Till Winter Port Opens---Too Much Business at Philadelphia.

The sailing of the steamer Manchester, Commerce this evening will mark the closing of the regular sailings of the Manchester line from this port until the opening of the winter port season, about the last of November. During the past season the steamer Manchester Corporation and the Manchester Commerce have been making regular trips between Manchester and Philadelphia, with St. John as a port of call. The steamships would bring considerable freight here from Manchester for local merchants and points east and west, and on her outward manifest the cargo averaged about one thousand tons of cargo for Philadelphia and Manchester. The cargo consisted chiefly of lumber and pulp, and while a good quantity went to Philadelphia, the greater

KING'S DAUGHTERS.

Officers Elected This Morning---Miss Barker Chosen as Provincial Secretary---Yesterday's Meetings.

Yesterday afternoon's meeting of the King's Daughters' convention opened with devotional exercises conducted by Miss Thorne, of Fredericton. Miss Brown, the Dominion secretary, conducted the symposium of circle work which followed. Little Miss Edna Gale was then called and sang delightfully "Sleep Little Baby Sleep." Miss Edna Golding, Fredericton, read a most interesting paper on "Our Badge and Our Mottoes." Miss Brown then gave a Bible reading.

In the evening Mrs. Dean read the opening service at 7.30. The symposium of circle work was continued. Miss Crockett then sang, very beautifully, "Come to Me." The following paper, "Failure," was next illustrated by Mrs. Fiske. A number of questions were then discussed. The following paper, "The Closing Prayer was read by Mrs. P. Thompson, of Fredericton, and about what took place at the international conference which was held at Memphis. The closing prayer was read by Mrs. P. Thompson, of Fredericton, and about what took place at the international conference which was held at Memphis.

At the informal balloting for nominations the following results were reached: Provincial secretary, Miss Barker, of St. John. Recording secretary, Miss Purvis, of St. John. Executive committee---Mrs. Ellis, of St. John; Mrs. Thorne, of Fredericton; Mrs. Thompson, of Fredericton; Miss Sherman, of Fredericton; Miss Armstrong, of St. John; Mrs. Dean, of St. John.

At eleven o'clock the questions of amendments to the constitution came up. Next followed reports from committees on next convention, unfinished business and final minutes. The meeting adjourned shortly after twelve. The finance committee showed a balance of $15.34. This is very unusual.

FOTIS STORIES IN ALMS HOUSE.

After spending a month in a police station cell on the charge of vagrancy Fotis Storis, the demoted Greek boot-black has been given a comfortable place of abode. For some time past the authorities have been trying to have the Greek placed in the provincial asylum, while his friends have been endeavoring to have him sent to Liverpool. At eleven o'clock this morning the proper course to pursue in his case was decided on and Storis was taken from his cell and sent to the alms house.

VATICAN CONFINEMENT

INJURES POPE'S HEALTH

(Special cable to the Star.) LONDON, Sept. 16.—The Italian correspondent of the "Lancet" writes as follows regarding the health of the Pope:—"Just before the Supreme Pontiff was about to commence a second analysis of his promotion to the Holy See he had one of those recurrent attacks of gout which, if not secreted in themselves, are sufficient to cause a flutter in the ecclesiastical devotees. There ensued a considerable swelling and pain in the left knee. Dr. Lapponi was called in, and having with local and general treatment induced the welcome relief, he left his august patient to the seclusion of his private apartments, with strict injunctions to spare himself the least exertion, and to abstain from any transaction of all but the least necessary business. Punctually carried out, the physician's prescriptions, within forty-eight hours enabled his holiness to give more than one audience, and to receive a deputation of some forty persons.

"The incident derives its importance from the fact that the Pope's health has been so seriously affected by the gout, and for a salutary change of scene and air transfer. His quarters from the palace and the garden of the Vatican to his summer residence at Castel Gandolfo, which for thirty-five years has not known the tread of pontifical foot. It is an open secret that no one would welcome this new departure more cordially than Pius X., who, not much beyond the meridian of life and accustomed to exercise in the open air, almost misses the 'sea-pulse' of the still lagoon, and the breath of the Julian Alps, particularly when the thermometer registers 104 degrees in the shade.

"First in his case, as in that of Leo XIII. and of Pius IX., the traditional policy of the Curia interposes its veto.

TRAIN CHANGES.

Commencing with Monday, a new time table goes into effect on the Canadian Pacific. This, however, is only provisional and will last only to the regular winter arrangement, which comes in on the 8th of October. Under the new arrangement commencing Monday all the suburban trains will be taken off with the exception of that which arrives at 7.10 a.m. and the one leaving the city at 5.05 p.m. All the other trains will be run the same as hitherto. Considerable changes will be made by the arrangement which comes into effect in October. It is probable, however, that the two noon trains from Boston and Montreal will still be run separately.

The I. C. R. also bring their new provisional time table into effect on Monday, by which the Ocean Limited, the Point de Chene express and the 10.40 suburban will be taken off. The regular winter schedule will come into effect on the 8th of the 15th of October and it is probable that then the "Sunrise Flyer" will be dropped.

WAS THE UMPIRE RIGHT OR WRONG?

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Harry Pullen, President of the National League, has decided against the Brooklyn baseball club in regard to the ruling of umpire Klem against fielder Lammy in the second game played with Chicago on August 22. Tinker in this game sent a long fly to deep right which Lammy apparently caught but then bumped against a pole dropping the ball. Lammy declared the batter out and then ruled that he was safe. Brooklyn protested the game on the ground that Lammy had the ball momentarily as prescribed by the rules. Pullen decides the umpire is the sole arbiter.

LOVE FOR CIRCUS GIRL KILLS BARON.

Empress and His Family Forbade Their Marriage. He Shot Himself and Girl Attempted Suicide---Tragic End of a High Life Romance.

(Special cable to the Star.) BUDAPEST, Sept. 16.—A tragic story of the love affair of a young German nobleman and a lady circus rider has just been brought to light through the attempt of the young lady to commit suicide.

Mile Fedora, as she is known, though her real name is Fraulein Weissenbach, while performing in Dusseldorf so charmed young Baron von Leyden, an officer in the German army, by her beauty and horsemanship, that when the circus left Dusseldorf the baron obtained leave of absence in order to accompany her to Budapest, and there he promised to marry her.

He returned to his home to make the necessary arrangements, but met with the strongest opposition, both from his family, who wished him to marry the daughter of a deceased millionaire, and from the military authorities, who were refused to allow him to resign his commission.

Baron von Leyden then appealed to the emperor direct, but only to be informed that if he married Mile Fedora he would be cashiered and disgraced. In despair the young man resolved to take his own life.

A day or two ago Mile Fedora received from him a letter, in which he said that he had resolved to shoot himself while out hunting, and the same day she read in the newspapers that the baron had accidentally shot himself with his own gun.

Mile Fedora then threw herself in front of an electric tram at Budapest, but the presence of mind of the driver frustrated her attempt to commit suicide, and she was picked up only slightly injured.

Mile Fedora was the daughter of a German officer of high rank, but eloped with a student in Paris when only seventeen years of age. On her return to Germany her family would have nothing to do with her, and she was forced to join a circus in order to make a living.

SEARCH FOR KELLY PROVES UNAVAILING.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—No trace has yet been found of Paul Kelly, motor-man of the "L" train wrecked on Monday morning with a loss of twelve lives. The police have kept up their search, but have been able to obtain no information of his movements since he left the house of a friend in East 124th street soon after the accident.

All concerned agree that Kelly was to blame in running past the signals showing that the switches were set for the Fifty-third street curve. Cornelius A. Jackson, towerman, admittedly had the switches wrong for Kelly's train, whether he was at his post of duty or not.

GENERAL BOOTH'S OFFER.

MONTREAL, Sept. 15.—A London cable says: General Booth has asked Alfred Deakin, Australian premier, by cable, whether he can place in Australia 5,000 families not destitute and who are expected to be available during the coming winter.

Interviewed by the Daily Chronicle, regarding the scheme, General Booth said that the Salvation Army was now engaged in reducing emigration to a system by which, on a large scale, able bodied men with their wives and families may be fitted to earn a living in another country. Last year he sent 1,000 to Canada, and only four or five turned out failures. Canada can swallow up people by the thousands, but there are other countries besides Canada open for the purpose.

Mrs. John McAvity and the Misses Mabel and Catherine McAvity have returned from Toronto.

GREAT FAMINE IN SPAIN ; THOUSANDS STARVING.

Hardships Unparalleled in Nation's History---40,000 Emaciated Victims Storm Houses of Rich.

(Special cable to the Star.) MADRID, Sept. 16.—The famine in Spain is believed to be the worst in the history of the kingdom.

Telegrams are arriving from all parts of Andalusia giving most alarming accounts of the disorders arising from the famine. Great excitement has followed the despatch of the troops to Osona, where anarchy is reported to prevail.

Starving men and women are roaming over the country sacking the farms and carrying off sheep and cattle. The wealthier families are docking into Seville and Cordova for protection. At Ecija, Utrera and Carmona, the prisons are crowded. In spite of the efforts of the police new bands of hungry peasants have forced their way into Malaga.

The minister of finance has accorded a credit of $20,000,000 for public works in Andalusia to relieve the distress of the peasants, but money is slow in coming. Meanwhile immense throngs of emaciated men and women are camped in the open around all of the towns, and at Osona a crowd of 40,000 strong threatens to storm the houses of the richer classes. The proprietors accompanied by deputies of the province, have visited the prefect of Seville demanding protection.

Troops are being sent to every town but the prefect hesitates to issue rigorous orders in view of the desperate condition of the peasants.

The minister of agriculture has issued an appeal managers of railways and other industrial concerns in Andalusia urging them to give as much work as possible to the starving population. He will ask for still further government credits to relieve the distress.

A telegram from Malaga states that riots are occurring at Tetua where the employers and land owners have suspended the assistance they have been giving to the inhabitants.

According to one estimate there are 200,000 men out of work in Andalusia alone, and $10,000,000 will not be sufficient to relieve the terrible situation caused by the famine.
