HYSTERICAL SCENES AT WELSH REVIVAL

Converts Write in Agony or Give Way to Peals of Insane Laughter.

CARLEIGH, May 6.—A "revival" scene is being witnessed at a mission which is proceeding this week at the Park Hotel.

At yesterday's meeting a few Welshmen were present, but most of the people came from places as far away as Nottingham and London. The leader was Smith Wigglesworth, who thundered forth the following welcome: "Come on, brethren, come on, come on, Ha! ha! ha! Glory, glory, glory! Blood, blood, blood, Amen."

A middle-aged man writhed in apparently agonized emotion and cried and sobbed like a heartbroken child. One man's body was fearfully contorted. When physical collapse seemed inevitable the pontiff burst forth in wild laughter. "Are you coming on, brother," said Mr. Wigglesworth, "Persevere, brethren." Then, pulling an empty bottle from his waistcoat pocket, he poured the liquid contents on the kneeling man's head. The effect was magical, and the man became subdued.

A disheveled crimson-faced woman looked with haggard stare into vacancy and then threw herself on the floor, where she screamed and groaned and laughed, agony and joy alternating. Another woman, on her knees in an obscure corner, gave vent to sounds resembling the cry of a lamb.

A woman rose in the hall to say that for three years she had suffered from cancer and had been in continual pain, but she had that day "received the blood" and had been healed and was now whole. This announcement was received with cries of praise and hysterical laughter.

Several women converts advanced to the table making pitiable manifestations of emotion and bursting into laughter, while one rolled over on the floor shrieking wildly. As if by command others began to utter most unbecoming noises. Mr. Wigglesworth had a screen drawn across the room to hide the supplicants.

The scene continued for three hours, relieved occasionally by hymns and the sobering advice of one leader. The prayer that brethren should not overstep the mark.

At the close of the service the converts were dismissed, and the meeting adjourned.

THAT CAN KILL HORSE
Experimenters Find Electricity Fatal to Roaches, But Not Common House Pest.

WEST CHESTER, Pa., May 5.—A West Chester young man who is interested in electrical study has made some curious experiments. He tried a strong current in killing roaches and the experiment was successful. The situation in which he was placed in water as a conductor. Other bugs went just as easily, but he met with a surprise when he tried it on a common house fly.

Placed in a pool of water charged with all the power from an electric light wire the fly gave no sign of being even troubled by the current, and the experimenter was endeavoring to figure out the reason. The fly took a current which would have killed a dog, cat or horse.

The experimenter killed five cats in one night by a contrivance he placed on his front porch to get rid of these nuisances.
