

Moncton Transcript: Mr. J. H. Corcoran, of the I. C. R. general passenger agent's office, made quite a catch on the Athletic grounds Thursday afternoon. Mr. Corcoran, who was present with others viewing the flooded grounds noticed a salmon dart by him. Mr. Corcoran started in hot pursuit and hit the salmon with a stick, putting it completely out of business. Although Mr. Corcoran was completely covered with mud and thoroughly soaked with water, he was satisfied on apprehending his prey, which weighed over eight pounds.

The mystery attending Chinese names disappears when they are translated. In this way Tung means east; si, west; nan, south; pei, north; while tsin, kin or king stands for capital or metropolis, as in Peking (northern capital) and Nankin (southern capital). Tien means heaven, so Tien-Tsin signifies heavenly metropolis. Ho or king means river, so Pei-ho is north river; Si-kiang, west river. Che means seven, so Chekiang is seven rivers. Shan is mountain, and Shan-tung, east mountain, and Shan-si, west mountain. Pai is white, and Pai-shan, white mountain. Hai is sea, and kwan stands for gate, so Hai-kwan (the maritime customs) is gate of the sea, and Shan-hai-kwan, mountain and sea gate. Shang is a city, and Shang-hai, city by the sea. Hoang is yellow, Hoang-Ho, Yellow River, and Hoang-Hai, Yellow Sea. Yang means ocean, and Tse, son; hence the Yang-tse River is son of the ocean, and Tien-Tse, son of heaven (the Emperor).

Ku or kow is a mouth or pass, and Ta, big or great, so Ta-ku means big mouth (of Pei-Ho), while Nan-kow stands for south pass (from Mongolia). Hu is a lake; ling, a hill; hsiang, a village; hsien, a tax district. So, too, fu is a prefecture; tai, a Governor; tao, a circuit or group of administrative departments; so tao-si is a Governor of a circuit, and fu-tai is a Governor of a prefecture. Chao or kiao is a bridge; li, a Chinese mile; pa, eight, and thus Pa-li-kiao is the eight-mile bridge. Cho or chow is a depot or stopping place; hence Tung-chow, eastern (depot of Peking). Shen is a province, and Shen-si is the western province. Yamen is a police station or official residence, and Hui, a secret society or club. Ts'ing means pure or clear, so Ts'ing-kiang is clear river, while Ta-Ts'ing means great pure (name of present dynasty), and Kwo being a kingdom or empire, Ta-Ts'ing-Kwo signifies the empire of the great pure (China).

"I Will Not Be Afraid."

Some years ago I stood at the mouth of one of the Chicago tunnels, showing my little son the dark passageways under the river. As he peered into the darkness he seemed frightened and held my hand with a firmer grasp. I said to him, "You would not dare go through that dark, gloomy place, would you?" Looking into my face confidently, he replied, "Papa, if you would go with me, and I could hold your hand, I would not be afraid." His childish faith and confidence that he was safe while clinging to his father's hand was a lesson to me that I have never forgotten. It has taught me that no matter how dark and rayless a pathway I may be called to pass through, or what doubts, trials and difficulties confront me, there is one who says, "Fear thou not, for I am with thee: be not dismayed, for I am thy God. I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of My righteousness" (Isa. xli: 19). The Saviour will dispel all fear, and lighten every burden, and enable me to say with the psalmist, "Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for Thou art with me; Thy rod and Thy staff they comfort me" (Psalm xxiii: 4). There are many dark places in life through which you must pass. Is Jesus your guide and pilot?—Dr. O. F. Presbury.

Coffee Toppers as Bad as Others.

"A friend of our family who lived with us a short time was a great coffee drinker and a continual sufferer with dyspepsia. He admitted that coffee disagreed with him, but you know how the coffee drinker will hold onto his coffee, even if he knows it causes dyspepsia.

"One day he said to me that Postum Food Coffee had been recommended and suggested that he would like very much to try it. I secured a package and made it strictly according to directions. He was delighted with the new beverage, as was every one of our family. He became very fond of it and in a short time his dyspepsia disappeared. He continued using the Postum and in about three months gained twelve pounds.

"My husband is a practicing physician and regards Postum as the healthiest of all beverages. He never drinks coffee, but is very fond of Postum. In fact, all of our family are, and we never think of drinking coffee any more." Mrs. Mary E. Brown, Waterford, Va.

Statistics showing the rapid increase and vast proportions of the electric street railway system in New England are very interesting, for whereas ten years or so ago electric transit was a dream, now it is a practical reality. Of the 19,000 miles of street railways in the country only 500 miles yet use horses as a power; while of the nearly three thousand miles of street railways in New England but eight miles use horses as a motor. Massachusetts now has over 1,600 miles of electric street railway Connecticut has nearly 500 miles, Maine about 300, Rhode Island not quite 200, Vermont 71, and New Hampshire 57. Of the nearly 59,000 cars employed in the country, more than one-sixth are in use in New England, and New England holds one-fifth of the $18,000,000 of total capital stock and funded debt devoted to the street railway business of the country.

Portuguese Fritters.—Thoroughly pick over and wash one-half pound of rice and place it in a large stew-pan with one-fourth pound of sugar, one quart of milk, two ounces of fresh butter and a small stick of cinnamon; simmer gently until the milk has been absorbed by the rice, when, if the process has been slow, the rice should be sufficiently cooked for the purpose; now add one-pound jar of orange marmalade and the yolks of six eggs, and stir over a thick fire until the eggs are set firmly in the mixture; turn out into a clean, large flat dish, and spread equally over the surface to about one-fourth inch in thickness; when this has become cold cut into oblong shapes, dip in light batter and fry well. The fritters may be glazed or not, as you prefer.
