[Procession is for sale in Malind by James Urquhart.]

Sept. 4th.—In my last letter I neglected telling of the Bachelors' club ball, which took place in the town hall on Monday evening. The old hall was converted for the time being into a bower of loveliness, tastefully decorated with huge mirrors and beautiful ferns. The "sitting-out" rooms were all prettily gotten up too; much taste being displayed in the carrying out of arrangements necessary to make the dance a pleasant one. This in a large measure is due to Mr. E. C. Johnson, Mr. Ernest Douglas and Mr. H. V. Eaton. Oatley's orchestra, hidden behind a huge bank of mosses, cut flowers and ferns, dispersed beautiful music. All who remember what a perfect deluge we had on that night will see how typical the opening and closing dances were, viz., "The Blue Danube" and "Slide Gondola Glide." The ladies were all charmingly dressed and special mention must be made of Miss McCumber, who was in pale blue, her brocaded bodice being trimmed with silver threads.

New Murphy, S. C. Johnson, Mrs. A. B. Poirer, Wassner Putnam, Frank Putnam, Dr. O. F. Mc-Callum, Josie Putnam, Frank McCumber, Miss Many pretty gowns were worn and the guests did not separate until a late hour.

Owing to the illness of Mrs. Ruth Darrt Sanderson, the concert which was to have been given on

A day with the clouds and wind on the charming "Green Hill" was made up by a merry party of picnic lovers last Thursday. As usual the young man element was too scarce but those who were there, were of course, all that could be desired.

The drive up the river side is itself a treat, but when one reaches the top of the hill and looks down upon the beautiful scenery, the scenery, the climate of scenery is capped. The return drive was made as the sun set and the moon rose, all the while the hours had been so short. With Mrs. E.
Johnstone, the hostess, the party included Mrs. Snow, in Calais at O. P. Treat's.]

Sept. 6.—The marriage of Miss Edith B. Hannah and Mr. Herbert Dow, on Wednesday evening last, was one of the happy events of the week. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Penna, at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo.
Hannah. The bride looked extremely pretty in a handsome bridal costume of cream-colored henrietta cloth, richly trimmed with lace and moire ribbon, she carried a beautiful bouquet of white carnations and maiden hair fern. The bridesmaid, Miss Sara Porter, wore a lovely gown of blue and white silk, with trimmings of blue velvet; she also carried a bouquet of white flowers. The groom was supported by his friend, Mr. W. A. Mills. There were about forty guests present. Immediately after the congratulations, supper was served, and as there was to be no wedding tour, the bride and groom

One of the most delightful outings since my last letter was the rally to ride and picnicking dinner giving by Mr. Edward Boyd of Boston to several young friends in Calais and St. Stephen. Mr.
Boyd came from Boston last week in his handsome yacht "Magnolia." He was accompanied by his friend Mr. Treat. The yacht has been anchored at the Lodge, and to that place some six miles down the river the merry tally ho party rode. Here they embarked on the "Magnolia" and enjoyed a delicious sail about the river and Oak Bay until six o'clock when a most sumptuous dinner was served. It was most charming day, and with such a jolly and generous host, nothing was needed to complete the pleasure of the occasion and it will long be remembered by the guests who were Mrs. Frank Woods who so gracefully chaperoned the party, Miss Julia Kelly, Miss Josephine Moore, the Misses Washburn, Miss Foster and Miss Nellie Smith, Messrs and today have as usual been the centre of attraction. All the elite of the towns were present and although there were no familiar and well known horses in the race, they gave them the usual interest and enthusiasm, yet everyone seemed to enjoy it and there was a large crowd in attendance.

The ladies of Christ-church congregation, held a meeting on Monday to decide the best way to entertain the clergymen who will visit their parish the

Mr. Stroude, of Montreal, is in town and registering at the Windsor.
Miss Alice Pike gave a most novel entertainment to twenty lady friends on Thursday, at her residence. Invitations were given for a breakfast at eleven o'clock, and whilst until seven o'clock, in the evening. The rooms were beautifully adorned with flowers and ferns, and the guests found their places at the breakfast table by means of cards, each with the guest's name, and a line of poetry. It was a most jolly affair, as all Miss Pike's entertainments are, and the ladies, even after their long day of pleasure, found it hard to bid their hostess adieu.

Orris! Orris!
Tender, most painful, almost unbearable, bleeding, hard, corns, corns of all kinds and of all sizes, are the result of a low class of shoe. The "Fis-hawk" is a low class shoe. It is a shoe that never fails to cause pain, never leaves a foot without aching, never fails to cause a trial. Because it is a shoe that never fails to cause pain,
