A Peculiar Fog.
A phenomenon was witnessed last evening in the form of a heavy vapor which like a pall hung over different sections of the city. While the people of St. John are accustomed to dense fogs at times, last night's was something unusual, inasmuch as it seemed like a combination of thick fog and with the nauseating odor of smoke. For a time on King street the vapor was exceptionally dense and made it difficult for pedestrians crossing the street to distinguish at more than fifteen or twenty feet apart, and the mist lifted at times and settled down again marring an otherwise beautiful evening.

War Interferes With Missions.
One of the effects of the war in the Balkans between the allies and the Turks has been the termination of the negotiations that were pending to bring the Baptist missions in the Macedonian peninsula under the jurisdiction of the Baptist Foreign Mission Board. Letters were passing back and forth with the unity object in view. The few missions that had their origins through the efforts of missionaries in Bulgaria expressed their willingness to consider the proposition and the details were worked out favorably when the war started and engaged the entire attention of the small mission. It is expected, however, that with the termination of hostilities the work of the missions will be taken over by the parent body.

WOMAN CHASER ARRESTED FOR TRES PASSING IN CELL

John Campbell Attempts to Hang Himself with His Suspenders -- Arrested by Night Detective Lucas for Following Women

During the last few days a number of women have been badly frightened by a man wearing a long light coat and a pair of woolen mittens, who has followed them about the streets and in some cases caught hold of them. The man has followed women on Newmarket, Westworth, Lamb, Orange and other streets and last evening Detective Fred Lucas arrested John Campbell at the foot of King street east and believes that he has captured the woman chaser.

Campbell was caught following a woman and was then arrested. He wore a light coat and the mittens and talked with the description of the man who has been complained of on previous occasions.

The prisoner is thought by the officers to be mentally unbalanced and shortly after he was locked up in a cell in the central police station he attempted suicide. When the police officer visited the cell he found that

Campbell has removed his suspenders had wound them around his neck and was striving hard to strangle himself. The leather mitts and straps which are used for insane persons were procured and placed on the prisoner to save him from further injuring himself. Campbell is a local man and has been engaged about the city by persons to look after their turn-outs. He has a police record for in August, 1904, he was arrested in Fairville on the charge of assaulting Nellie Maxwell and was found guilty and sentenced by Judge Carleton to a term of two years in the Dorchester Penitentiary. About a month ago a woman was chased by a man on Canby street and Campbell is suspected of being the man. He was chased by a colored man and made good his escape. The police officials would like to learn the identity of the colored man who chased the "woman chaser" at that time.

NEW MARINE DEPOT TO BE AN IMPORTANT CONTRACT

Aspect of Water Front in Vicinity of Nelson Street, West End, will be Completely Changed when New Facilities are Constructed.

The construction and equipment of the new marine depot on the West side will be an important contribution to the big construction works at present in progress and should give a material boost to the boom here. It is understood that the contract price of the new wharf alone is $135,000, and this does not represent all the money the department of marine will spend over there. A number of large buildings are to be erected for the storage of supplies, buoys, etc., and there will be a blacksmith shop, a machine shop and everything necessary for carrying on the work of the local marine agency. When the depot is completed it will be one of the best equipped on the coast.

Frank L. Boone, of St. Mary's Ferry, York county, who has been awarded the contract for the construction of the wharf, will, it is understood, do considerable work on the wharf this winter, at the wharf is to be completed next summer.

The wharf which will be built out in front of Nelson street, will have an outer face of 160 feet. The upper side will have a length of 270 feet and the lower of 240 feet. Altogether the wharf will cover an area of about 40,000 square feet. The wharf will be used for the work of the agency formed of cribs which will be sunk along the face and sides to the low water level, and the top will be of concrete raised to the desired height. The foundation of the cribs is to be dredged out by the contractor to assure a solid bottom for the cribs to rest on. The cribs are to be four in number, the barge used for filling the cribs is to be of hard stone of a durable quality.

After the cribs have been sunk, the space behind them is to be filled in to form a yard level with the top of the concrete superstructure. According to the terms of the contract the contractor shall not employ or suffer to be employed, on the work any person who is not a British subject or a bona fide resident of Canada, or who is not certified to by an immigrant of the immigration department of Canada as having come to Canada as an immigrant intending to settle in this country unless by special permission on the ground that such men to do the work are not available.

The wage schedule is attached to the contract, and the contractor is under obligation to pay wages current here.

The government has acquired a considerable area of land adjoining Nelson street which will be used in connection with the work of the agency

SOFT COAL AT $10 PER TON IN ST. JOHN

People who Buy by Paper Bag Full Pay Very High Price.

Standard Reporter Investigates and Finds it Figures Out at More than $10 per Ton.

While the city commissioners and well-to-do people generally have been complaining because they have had to pay more than $7.00 per ton for hard coal this winter, a large number of the people of the city have been patiently paying at the rate of $16.00 and over for soft coal, and that not always of the best quality.

In most of the grocery stores in the working-class districts of the city soft coal is being sold in paper bags, the price per bag being ten cents. Yesterday a member of The Standard staff purchased two of these bags and weighed them. One bag weighed 21.4 pounds and the other tipped the scale at 22 pounds. On the basis of the prices paid for these bags a long ton of soft coal in one case would cost $16.00, and in the other a little over $10.00. The poorer people are, at this rate, paying a little over half a cent per pound for soft coal.

This practice of selling soft coal in paper bags has been in vogue in St. John some time, and the Standard, standing the relative high prices, is said to be a blessing to many poor people, who would have great difficulty saving up enough money to buy coal by the ton. The practice was instituted by some of the coal companies, and one grocer said that when the bags of coal were first put on the market they contained 24 pounds, and were supposed to contain that weight now, but that in many cases they seemed to be a little shy. Really there is not much profit in putting up coal to sell in paper bags, but that does not effect the fact that many people are paying a price per ton for soft coal.

TO PURCHASE FARMS

Farm Settlement Board Officials Arrange to Buy Additional Farms in Kings Co.—Applications Received.

A. W. Hay and James Gilchrist of the Farm Settlement Board related last evening from a trip to Kings County. They arranged for the purchase of four farms near Havelock, and will probably acquire half a dozen more farms at Havelock or Butterfield Ridge. The board so far has purchased seventeen farms and ten of these have already been sold and occupied. Quite a number of applications for farms are awaiting the consideration of the board and the secretary said last evening that the board would have difficulty in finding farms for all the applicants. Yesterday an application was received for a farm from Percy Thompson of the Norton Grimsby Company who is interested in placing old country farmers in this province. Mr. Thompson, a provincial representative in London, also sent in an application on behalf of an English farmer who wants to come out here in the spring.

Most of the applications for farms so far have been received from old countrymen who have been in the province for a year or so. The members of the Farm Settlement Board consider an excellent testimony to the advantage of the province as a field for settlers. It shows that the old countrymen are not only the best of the government are satisfied with conditions here and have faith in the future of the province. It shows too that men working on farms for others can save enough money in a short time to put themselves in the way of acquiring a farm of their own. One Scotchman who came out here a year and a half ago has saved enough money to make the first payment required on a farm and has also managed to bring his family out. An Englishman who came out here less than three years ago has saved enough to pay back the money borrowed to pay his passage and to bring out his family and pay the first instalment on the purchase of a large farm.

Speaking of the Havelock district where the board will locate a number of new settlers both Mr. Gilchrist and Mr. Hay said it was one of the finest parts of the province, and that they were surprised at the excellence of the apples and other fruit raised there. Within a radius of four miles of Havelock there are seven cheese and butter factories, and the farmers are raising the dairy herds. Potatoes there are selling for $1.10 per barrel, though in Havelock, Maine, the price recently has only been $5 cents.
