

RIVER DRIVER POND CUTS ANOTHER ONE OF AMERICAN BOOMS

Says He Went Through Van Buren Boom at St. Leonards Sunday

NO ONE THERE AT TIME TO PROTEST

Hauled Over Coming Down, But Cut on the Way Up—Could Have Done More, and Says He Will Follow a Different Course Next Year.

L. W. Pond, of Fort Fairfield, Me., "Togo" of the St. John river, who was mentioned in despatches as a prominent figure in the Van Buren lumber boom this year, arrived in the city Wednesday and is registered at the Victoria. When asked by a Telegraph reporter if there was anything new in connection with the river operations, he replied: "Nothing except that I cut another one of the Van Buren Company's booms on Sunday last."

Mr. Pond says that on Thursday he came down river to take up some booms on the way down St. Leonards. It was found necessary, he said, to haul two big tow boats and a horse boat over the side bank. "It occasioned me a lot of trouble," said the veteran river driver, "and I don't know why I didn't cut the whole business then and save a lot of more trouble coming back."

On returning Sunday the same difficulty was encountered. "We hauled over three booms first," continued Mr. Pond. "The third was a boom of railroad sleepers. It took four pairs of horses and twenty-four men to get over it, then we came to a sheer boom that had nothing in it and was there for nothing else but an obstruction and that one I cut."

Asked if there was anyone near by at the time to make a protest, he replied: "No, the masses were in church at that time." Mr. Pond says that no one has the slightest idea what trouble he has had with the Van Buren boom. "I could have cut the boom of sleepers and let the whole lot of them go down river and been in the right tow, as by the treaty in the river, and furthermore," he added, "I will do things a mighty sight different next year, and if the courts decide against my contention I will navigate the river according to the treaty."

Mr. Pond says nothing special occasioned his visit to St. John this week.

COUNSEL ARGUE PART OF SHIP CASE

Points in Loggie vs. Montgomery and O'Leary Brought Out in the Equity Court.

Argument in the suit of Loggie vs. Montgomery and O'Leary was heard on Friday by Judge Baker in the equity court. Judge Baker presided in the case. Among those present in court during the afternoon was Lieut. Governor Snowball, who occupied a seat near the judge.

George Watt, collector of customs at Chatham, was called by Premier Tveddie to the case. Mr. Watt's evidence was that the cargo of the ship was not damaged by the fire. He contended that the cargo was not damaged by the fire. He contended that the cargo was not damaged by the fire.

When Mr. Watt had concluded his testimony Attorney-General Pugsley presented the grounds on which the plaintiff's case rested. He said the case revolved itself into two branches, the first concerning the question of the plaintiff's claim against the defendant, and the second regarding the trespass which the plaintiff alleged the defendant made in excavating on the plaintiff's property.

On the question of trespass the plaintiff's case rested on documentary title and unimpaired use for upwards of twenty years. He is the second branch, the real boundary line, or the point from which the line is to be taken, is on the southern side of the highway, which, according to the highway act, must be four feet wide unless otherwise marked out, and a four foot highway would make the defendant's encroachment on the plaintiff's property.

The defendant's case rested on the fact that the plaintiff's title was not established. He contended that the plaintiff's title was not established. He contended that the plaintiff's title was not established.

Mr. G. Teed, K. C., opened argument for the defendant. He claimed that the right of the land in question, the case of Ackroyd vs. Smith, 10 C. 184, lay down that the easement in question is in appurtenance to the land for which it is originally granted, and is restricted to the use of the land.

The easement is either appurtenant to the land, or it is in appurtenance to the land. The easement is either appurtenant to the land, or it is in appurtenance to the land.

Again, he said, it is not sufficient to show that some right of way would result to the plaintiff if the injunction were not granted. The damage must be serious.

PROPOSE TO HAVE VENEER MILL IN OPERATION HERE

Canadian Men Interested in Mexican Lumber Lands

GEORGE W. FOWLER EN ROUTE TO THE SOUTH

He is President of Company Owning the Property—Proposed to Make St. John a Distributing Centre of Canada.

It is proposed to establish a veneer mill in St. John in the near future for handling the woods grown on the property of the Chemalapa Land Company of Mexico, and to make this city the distributing point for the district.

George W. Fowler, M. P., of Sussex, and president of the company, passed through the city yesterday on his way to Toronto. He said he would visit the property, which he said he had bought from the firm of F. H. Hale, ex-M. P. for Carleton county, and Thomas Wright, of Toronto, directors of the company.

The firm of F. H. Hale, ex-M. P. for Carleton county, and Thomas Wright, of Toronto, directors of the company, passed through the city yesterday on his way to Toronto. He said he would visit the property, which he said he had bought from the firm of F. H. Hale, ex-M. P. for Carleton county, and Thomas Wright, of Toronto, directors of the company.

Wills would take samples of his firm and it was the intention of the firm to handle the lumber in all parts of Canada except British Columbia and the maritime provinces. As yet there had been no development, but F. C. Baker, formerly of Mount Whately, Westmorland county, had been on the spot for the last three months and they expected soon to commence operations.

It was the present intention of the directors to establish a veneer mill in St. John and to make this city a distributing centre for the province. The lumber on the property consisted of some twenty-five different varieties of woods, including hogan and spruce, and it was the opinion of the directors that there would be a good demand especially as the supply of Canadian hardwood was growing scanty.

The property was being sold in an entirety and is close to the isthmian railway which has been built for the Mexican government by Pearson & Son, and it will be a serious rival to the Panama canal.

The travelers will be seven days on their journey and Mr. Fowler said he expected to be absent about five weeks. R. G. Holey, of this city, is a director of the company, having been recently appointed in the place of Judge G. C. Thompson, of Watley (Ont.), who resigned.

INJUNCTION GRANTED

Application of Assignee in the Matter of Abdallah Sayre.

There are court developments in the suit of Abdallah Sayre vs. the assignee of the property of the late Judge Barker, after hearing a statement relative to the case, granted an injunction to restrain disposal of certain goods.

The statements made before Judge Barker recited that Abdallah Sayre carried on business in Beersville and claimed a store at Beersville which he claimed he owned, but which was insured in the name of his wife Jessie for $1,200; that he had there $8,000 worth of goods, and that he had purchased a short time previous to the fire. It was intended that the goods were to be insured in the name of the late Mrs. Sayre, but the insurance was taken out in the name of the late Mrs. Sayre, and the insurance was taken out in the name of the late Mrs. Sayre.

Proceedings were taken against Mr. Sayre under a writ of sequestration, and the first meeting of creditors was held in Sussex on Sept. 5, when Augustus Leeger, sheriff of Kent, was substituted as assignee.

About Aug. 30 notice of the intention of the assignee to incorporate was published and since then they filed their petition for such incorporation by which the assignee, six in number—wife, mother, brothers and sister of Abdallah, stated their intention to pay for their shares partly by the stock of goods at Sussex and partly in cash.

The assignee brings a suit against the Sayres for an injunction to restrain the disposal of any insurance moneys in their hands, and also of goods which they might have, having formerly belonged to the late Mrs. Sayre, and a declaration that they belong to the assignee.

On Thursday Mr. Justice Barker granted an injunction and ordered the appointment of a receiver to take possession and hold any of the goods formerly belonging to the late Mrs. Sayre, which he found in the Sussex store. A. C. Fairweather, referee for Kings county, was appointed receiver.

A number of St. John merchants, including Messrs. Fairweather and A. H. Hamington, K. C., representing the assignee, went to Sussex yesterday to see if any goods were in the store. They were in the Sussex store. They were in the Sussex store.

The bank's stock of clothing of Meis Goldman was disposed of at public auction on Thursday by Auctioneer J. A. Pellerin. Robert Tingley being the purchaser. Auctioneer Pellerin also disposed of the grocery stock of Mrs. Wm. L. Peck. Mrs. Peck leaves for Vancouver this week where she will join her husband.

Thos. W. Peck leaves for Vancouver this week where he intends building a house this winter. Miss Odessa McConell, of L. Tang, is visiting relatives here.

Albert Notes. Albert, N. B., Oct. 16.—Allen Fullerton and bride, of Sackville, who have been spending a week here with relatives left for their home on Friday.

W. Alder Trueman, barrister, went to St. John Friday on business.

Arin A. Reid, bookkeeper with I. C. Proulx, went to St. John Saturday. M. M. Tingley, merchant of Amherst, was here on Thursday and sold at auction Mrs. Howe W. Tingley house and lot to Chas. McAnally for $9,000.

Federicton Baptist Dissenters.

When the congregation of the Federicton Free Baptist Church took a vote upon the question of Church union there were 10 members who voted in the negative or against the union. These members who were opposed to union are still against it, notwithstanding the fact that the union has been consummated.

What steps these persons will take is not known and one of them said today that he had no plans, although he felt that the members who were opposed to union would ask for their dismissal from the church now the union has been consummated. It has been stated quite openly that the members who were opposed to union would ask for their dismissal from the church now the union has been consummated.

Today this gentleman made the following statement: "I am not in favor of the union for the simple reason that we were getting along spiritually and financially all right without the union, and I can not see why we should want it. I am not in favor of the union for the simple reason that we were getting along spiritually and financially all right without the union, and I can not see why we should want it."

Regarding the Gibson pastorate a meeting of the Baptist committees of Gibson and Marsville will be held on Tuesday evening next at the residence of the late Mr. Gibson. Rev. Mr. Riddout, pastor of the Free Baptist church, is of the opinion that the less said about the matter the better, except that it will work out all right.—Federicton Gleaner.
