ST. PATRICK'S DAY

The celebration of St. Patrick's day this year was in every way befitting the occasion. The flags on the Custom House and Post Office were thrown to the breeze in honor of the event, and almost every person met on the street wore a sprig of green, and indeed very many of our nation's patriots also donned the Irish color, in token of regard for the occasion.

The Rev. M. J. Tierney, Rev. Father McCormack, Rev. Father Brennan, C.S.B., of Toronto, was the preacher of the day. He briefly reviewed the life and labors of St. Patrick, drawing many practical lessons from his life which might with profit be applied to our habits of life.

The parade of the Irish societies took place as usual this year on St. Patrick's Day. Fortunately the weather was favorable, and made one think that the saint obtained it particularly for his feast.

ORDER OF THE PARADE. Platoon of Mounted Police. Grand Marshal—John Falby. Assistant Marshals. I. C. B. U. No. 1, Patrick Shea, President. 75 strong. Banner. I. C. B. U. No. 2, William Emery, President. 40 strong. Banner. I. C. B. U. No. 3, Daniel Flynn, President. 70 strong. Banner. I. C. B. U. No. 4, John Kane, President. 120 strong. Deputy Marshals.

The marshals of the day were: John Falby, Grand Marshal; C. B. U. Assistant Marshals A. O. H., James Fleming, John Hurst, T. Judge, James Hannon, James Maloney, Michael O'Donnell, Patrick McDonnell; Assistant Marshals I. C. B. U., Patrick Riley, John Brennan and John Callahan.

The Union Jack was prominently displayed by an old gentleman who had fought to protect the old flag, as he wore three British war medals on his breast.

High Mass was celebrated at 10:30. Mrs. Dr. Green of Hamilton, organist and leader, presided at the organ. The choir sang Farmer's Mass in D. The children, with Carrie O'Connell as soloist, sang some appropriate hymns.

Father Crinion preached the sermon on Ireland's preservation of the Faith St. Patrick taught her. Several gentlemen of the congregation stepped forward to the altar rails and gave Father Crinion a beautiful bouquet in the shape of the following address, accompanied by a well-filled purse in gold:

To Rev. James Eugene Crinion, Parish Priest of Dunsinane, Ont. REVEREND FATHER—The undersigned, in behalf of the Catholics of the parish of Dunsinane, and your many friends therein, come to convey to you the expression of the highest esteem, sincere affection and lasting gratitude in which you are justly held.

Several gentlemen of the congregation stepped forward to the altar rails and gave Father Crinion a beautiful bouquet in the shape of the following address, accompanied by a well-filled purse in gold:

From the moment I first heard of your intention to accompany your address with the presentation of a bouquet of flowers, I felt the strenuous and persistent opposition consistent with my unwillingness to give offence. Many and bold reasons were advanced to dissuade me from this course, but I was determined to refer to only one—my conviction resting upon personal knowledge that any extra duty which you would be called upon to perform would involve considerable sacrifice to many.

IN ST. THOMAS. St. Patrick's day was celebrated in St. Thomas in the morning, with a religious and patriotic celebration of Mass in the morning, with a concert to follow in the evening at the Opera House.

of the Scotch and Welsh. Ireland, he said, would soon be what all true Irishmen feel the world over, and all patriots of every country would wish her to be.

Mr. C. Macdonald, in the course of a short, but interesting address, referred to the fact that the Scotch and Irish were the same race, both Celtic, and also referred in very complimentary terms to Rev. Dr. Flannery.

The programme was one of unusual excellence. The singing by Misses Bessie and Minnie Murphy brought down the house, and they were rapturously applauded. The drill and chorus singing of the little school children was very pretty and certainly delightful.

life was to me. One day I read in the Journal of a remarkable cure by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I sent for a supply and before the first box was entirely gone I could notice that they were helping me; so you may be sure I continued their use.

When I began using the Pink Pills there was such a numbness in my feet that I could not feel the floor when I stepped on it. As I continued the use of the pills, this numbness disappeared, and my limbs, the cramps I felt as though new blood were coursing through my veins, and I began to be able to sleep soundly all night.
