

We are not content, now-a-days, to limit the action of the State to the protection of its citizens against harmful experiences. The State endeavors more than this. It strives to secure that the citizens shall not merely negatively suffer harm but shall positively be benefited.—

CHARLES MERCER, M.D., F.R.S.P., F.R.C.S.