Ottawa, 22nd August, 1919.

Dear Madam,

Allow me to thank you most cordially for the exceedingly kind words of your letter received a day or two ago. It is deeply gratifying to have such a generous expression of opinion from one who has followed politics so closely as yourself.

I regret that the pressure of work at the present moment prevents me from sending more than a letter of acknowledgement. It carries to you, however, my most grateful thanks for your helpful and inspiring words.

I hope your plans to visit Ottawa will mature and that I shall have the pleasure of a talk with you when you come.

Believe me, Madam,

Yours respectfully,

Mrs. R.L.Colbert
