SUMMARY OF CHAPTER I - THE C.C.F. SOCIALISTIC BLUEPRINT

Part Four - The Regina Manifesto
(Cont'd.)

Proposition 12: Are we to be so childish as to assume that the CCF, once possessed of such power, would cheerfully admit other political parties to contest its rule? Isn't it more likely that, as European socialists discovered, the CCF's socialism would be found operable only under a one-party dictatorship?

Proposition 13: To strip a people of economic freedom, of the right to acquire, to retain, and to bequeath productive property, is to destroy all freedom.
