

FEET MAN—he falls short; it is the doom of natural humanity, no matter how high and boastingly it may lift itself.

3 is, also, the number of repetition.

We make an effort once, we try again, and make a final effort.

In spite of every effort this man fails at the last.

The end of Christ, and man in Christ, is the throne of the universe. The end of Antichrist, and man in union with Antichrist, is the Lake of fire.

Man out of Christ is a present failure and a final ruin.

Man in Christ is a present Son of God and—a future king and priest—in associated glory with Christ.
