

After we smashed the Hindenburg line a little before Armistice was signed, we knew it was our victory so we wrote our name on the Hunns' line. Showing red cross cars waiting for wounded

