Our Sabbath.

"I shall keep the Sabbath therefore; for it is holy unto you." Six days may work be done; but in the seventh, is the Sabbath rest, holy to the Lord.—Exod. 31: 14-15.

Yosemite Valley was almost as grandly beautiful in the depths, as the heights.
On all sides the cliffs towered above majestically, always changing in coloring; at times the rocks were just plain grey; in the sunshine, they were gleaming snow; in the moonlight, shining silver; at sunrise, burnished gold; in the shadow, deepest blue.

This was our church for one Sunday evening service. The minister was that grand old man from New Zealand. The congregation was gathered around a great camp fire. Familiar hymns were chosen, most heartily were they sung by that great congregation. Simple, but very helpful was the whole service.

Throughout my long trip I was much impressed with how Sunday was observed on land, on ship-board, on the train. Bishop Stringer conducted a ship service, as the boat wound its way between awful forest fires, raging on island mountains. On the train, at another time, soldiers gave a sacred concert.

But at this time particularly, a warning note must be sounded, as under the name of recruiting meetings, Red Cross work, Patriotic Funds and so forth, much is allowed that would never have been tolerated before the war.

In deciding the question viewed from so many different standpoints, as to how our Sunday should be spent, it seems to me that this word is overused. All that we can be conscientiously consider as "Holy unto God, and holy unto ourselves" must be right. That would form a standard to judge by when undecided.

To keep Sunday right, one should really begin Monday morning, so as to plan work and save strength, that one will not be so exhausted Saturday evening, that Sunday is simply a day of recuperation.

One friend, who had asked another what she thought of writing letters on that day, received the answer: "It is too much like saving week-time." One may even break the Sabbath with too much of God's work, with worn-out nerves.

Put as much as possible, the weekday out of thoughts and actions. Put into the day that which will increase our knowledge of God, bring us in closer touch with Him, help us in our human life, strengthen us and enable us to begin the new week with fresh courage and strength. It should be a day, happy and joyous, yet sacred and holy.—J.H.N.

Canning

LITTLE Dorothy, whose father owned a canning factory, went to Sunday school for the first time, but soon came home screaming at the top of her voice.

"O, daddy, she cried. 'Don't let them do it, will you?'"

"Do what, my child?"

"Don't let them can me!" she sobbed.

"Can you? What do you mean?"

"Why, the teacher said for everybody to sing, 'Can a little child like me, and I ran away 'fore they did it.

PEERLESS ORNAMENTAL FENCING

Always Looks Good

Almost any ornamental fence will look good when first put up. It's the years of service that count. These years of service —the future satisfaction rendered by our fencing—has ever formed the goal toward which we are striving. You know that an ornamental fence will beautify your property. You know it will protect it. Peerless Fence is Made of Good Materials

It is made of open hearth steel wire. This wire has all the impurities burned out and all the toughness left in. It is strong, stiff, well galvanized and every strand is given a coating of zinc enamel paint, thus forming the best possible insurance against rust.
Peerless Ornamental Fence is made in several styles. All are fully shown in our free catalog. Agents nearly everywhere. Agents wanted in open territory.

Cheaper than Plain Macadam—TARVIA is always cheaper in the long run to bond a macadam road with than water.

Sometimes Tarvia as a binder does not add anything to the first cost.

The York County Highway Board, York County, Ontario, built about five miles of Tarvia macadam in 1915 and found it two cents a square yard cheaper than waterbond macadam—cost them in 1914.

Tarvia

Preserves Roads
Prevents Dust—

Such figures are not unfamiliar.
The Tarvia dis-places a certain amount of stone and reduces the amount of rolling required. The excessive use of water, often difficult to provide, is done away with. The Tarvia often makes possible the use of cheaper stones which may not make a good road by itself but will give excellent results when there is a Tarvia matrix to prevent internal attrition.

Plain macadam is not fitted to stand the stresses of modern traffic but a tarvified road is self-mobile-proof. The swiftly driven wheels which disrupt a plain macadam surface, merely roll down a tarvified macadam and make it smoother. The tarvified surface is waterproof and frost-proof, and will not ravel when rain torrents sweep down steep hills.

There are three kinds of Tarvia—"Tarvia-A" is very heavy dense, used as a binder in road building as in this instance, and the most thorough and permanent of the Tarvia treatments.

"Tarvia-A" is a lighter grade, used for hot surfacing applications. "Tar-via-B," which is build enough to be applied cold with modern spraying apparatus, is for dust prevention and road preservation.

In addition to the five miles of above, the York County Highway Board in 1914 coated six and one-half miles of the Kingston Road with "Tarvia-B," this is one of the best roads leading out of Toronto.

THIS WASHER MUST PAY FOR ITSELF

A MAN tried to sell a house once. He said it was a fine home and had nothing the matter with it.
I wanted a fine home, but I didn't know anything about houses, so I asked him to show me the house in the picture.

Well, I didn't like it. I was afraid the house was "single" and that I might have to divide my money if I ever came with it.
So I didn't buy the house, though I wanted it badly.
Now this one is my thinking.
You see I bought Machines—see "1900 Grevy" Washer.

And I said to myself, I don't want to think about my Washing Machine as I thought about the house, and about the man who owned it.

But I'd never know, because they wouldn't write and tell me. You see, I will my Washing Machine by mail. I have sold over half a million that way. So, thought, it is only fair to say that I have sold my Washing Machine for a month, before any other there, just as I would have done.

Now, I know that my "1900 Grevy" Washer will wash it. I know it will wash the clothes, without wringing them, in less than half the time they can be washed by hand or by any other machine.
I know it will wash a full load of very dirty clothes in ten minutes. I know an other machine ever invented on this without wringing the clothes. Our washed out the work as ever that a "1900 Grevy" Washer does the work as ever that a child can do it almost as well as a strong woman, and it doesn't wear the clothes, dry the clothes out more, the way all other machines do.

It just seems every time I think of the three of the clothes like a fine new night.
I said to myself, I will do with my "1900 Grevy" Washer what I wanted the man to do with the house. Only I won't wait for people to ask me. I'll offer him, and I'll make good the offer every time.
Let me send you a "1900 Grevy" Washer on a month's free trial. I'll pay the freight out of my own pocket, and if you don't want the machine after you've used it a month, I'll take it back and pay the freight, too. Surely that is fair enough, isn't it?
Doesn't it prove that the "1900 Grevy" Washer must be all that I say?

And you can pay me out of what it saves for you.
It will save in whole cost in a few months to wear and tear on the clothes alone. And then it will save in its to clean a week over on washwoman's wages. If you keep the machine after the month's trial, I'll pay you for it out of what it saves you. If it saves you 10 cents a week, send me 10 cents a week, and I'll take that cheerfully, and I'll sell for my money, and the machine itself saves the money.

Drop me a line to-day, and let me send you a book about the "1900 Grevy" Washer that washes clothes in six minutes.
