of it. I do not recognize a different girl for men and women. Physical qualifications were taken from thousands of letters, each girl being asked to submit the measurements of what she considered her ideal man. Some liked giants, and some liked fellows. The usually tall girl short men, while the plump girls tall, attenuated fellows. The contrasts were followed, invariably in every case, where the girl who made her choice of an man was small or large compared with the average girl. Mental and moral requirements were a great deal too. Some girls ability to cook ahead of all other girls. A surprising feature, says The graph is that the girls canvassed to prefer men of good appearance, who could put up a good front, and handsome men.

from our own correspondent, the friends of Mr. J. H. Woolley regret to learn that he is very ill at home in Hamilton. Mr. A. E. Brown of the 4th company went out to milk. When he got return in the usual time his went out to investigate and found lying unconscious behind one of the cows. He was immediately taken to the house and medical aid was summoned. Mr. Brown was taken to the house at about noon. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved. Mr. White has resigned his position as baker at the Burford Bakery. A baker is on hand to take his place. Mr. Baker who recently purchased the farm north of the village, confined to his bed the result of a cold taken a short time ago. Mrs. B. McWebb of Hamilton, returned Sunday at her parental home. Mr. Wm. Irwin and family are going west in a few weeks. Mr. H. Stuart received a large consignment of cherry trees which he is going on the property he purchased in Mr. Wm. Creighton. Mrs. Creighton, Sr., is on the sick bed. Mrs. Turk of Toronto, is visiting George Ausleybrook. Mrs. L. Carter has returned from spending the winter with relatives in Michigan.

HARTFORD.

From our own correspondent, the farmers have done considerable damage, but the rain on Sunday has helped them for a few days. The grass is coming up nicely, and he have turned out their young stock to pasture. Will Viles has commenced working George Mann, drawing mail. Next Sunday is the regular meeting of the Sabbath school, and we would like to see everybody come early. Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Higgins were visiting at S. Osborne's Sunday. Mrs. Selma Thomas spent a few days at Mrs. G. Swift's. Mrs. F. Hayes returned Saturday on a visit to Brantford. Mrs. I. R. Moore has gone to Hartford for a visit.

Your Furs are Safe in our Vaults!

Why send them out of town when they can be stored just well in Brantford? Furs are so highly prized by everyone, it follows that great care must be taken to protect them from the ravages of moths. It is a fact that more furs are ruined by these pests than by actual wear. The cold, dry air system of storage is a positive safeguard against moths. Much work and worry can be avoided by simply telephoning us at 819, and we will call for your furs and other winter apparel. You place your own valuation on each article, and we are responsible to you for that amount in case of loss by fire or moths. Our charge for storage and insurance is 3 per cent. of the value—a moderate charge when it is remembered that we carefully dust each article, and hang them in a vault that is intensely cold. Nothing is packed or folded. Everything is kept on hangers, so that the most delicate article will not become creased or mussed, and will carry no odor of moth preventatives.

Lady Marjorie's Love

"Think as hardly of me as you can and I shall deserve it." Loftus broke in loudly and steadily. "All the blame that there is mine—don't forget that I should be a worse poltroon than I have shown myself to be if I tried to palliate. Her fault has been that she has cared too much for a fellow like me—that's all! Well, the cowardly secrecy is over and I am glad with all my heart that it is that the truth has been forced out of me!" He took his wife into his arms and kissed her. "North, my poor girl I only wish you had a husband a little more worthy of such a woman and such a wife as you are."

feet. Then as a door was opened came a sensation of cold air blowing upon her, of rain pattering down. She saw vaguely before her the outline of something dark, knew that she was gently lifted into it and then knew no more. All the buzzing sounds that rang distractedly in her ears, all the dazzling lights that danced before her eyes swelled together into one tremendous flash and roar, and she lost her senses completely. Big Race

At Newmarket—A Long Shot Won Out.

NEWMARKET, Eng., April 30.—The 4000 Guinea Stakes was won today by W. Raeburn's Louvois. Craganour was second, and H. P. Whitney's Meeting House third. Fifteen horses ran. The winner was ridden by Johnny Reiff. The race was for three year olds, the colts carrying 126 pounds and the fillies 121 pounds over a mile course. Louvois won an exciting race by a head. The betting was 25 to 1 against Louvois, 3 to 1 against Craganour, and 50 to 1 against Meeting House. Danny Maher, the American jockey, who has become a naturalized British subject, rode Sangular, who ran third. H. P. Whitney's Cabaret won the Brethby handicap, of $1,500 for three year olds and upwards over a six furlong course.

"It's Mine"

By RUTH CAMERON

ONCE upon a time a very self-centered, cold-hearted, wicked old woman died and went straight to the place, call it what you will, to which such people go. Now, in the midst of her suffering, this woman looked up and seeing an angel in Heaven (I don't personally understand how the architecture of the place to which such people go would make that possible, but I am simply relating an old, old story as it was told to me), cried out to him and begged him to get her out somehow. Evidently the angel had a tender heart, for he told her he would see what he could do. Then he asked her if she had ever done any kind act. This was a poser for the self-centered old woman, but after racking her memory for a long time, she remembered triumphantly that she had once given away a carrot to some poor starving creature. At this the angel disappeared and came back a few minutes later with a huge carrot which he let down to the woman. "Take hold of it," he said to her, "and I will lift you out by it." The woman did so, and the carrot did not break, but by this time a crowd of other miserable creatures had gathered about her, and as they saw her being lifted up toward Heaven, they frantically seized hold of her skirts, hoping to be lifted up too. And they were. Up towards Heaven went the carrot, and the selfish old woman with a long train of miserable creatures clinging to her skirts and to each other. And the carrot did not break. But the old woman looked down, and seeing all the people who were clinging to her became frightened. "Let go," she cried, "it's mine." And as she spoke, lo! the carrot broke and she and all the rest tumbled back again into darkness and the angel disappeared. Perhaps you have heard that story before. It's a very old tale. But I have recalled it to you to-day because a little incident recalled it to me. I heard a settlement worker ask a young woman who had had the benefit of a splendid education to devote an evening a week to teaching in a settlement house. She refused emphatically. "You know I can't bear those dirty foreigners," she said, "besides, I hate to teach." And then, "I'm terribly busy. Get someone else."

In refusing to share her splendid education with those who asked help to climb out of the darkness of ignorance that girl was saying, "It's mine" just as plainly as if she had screamed it out. In refusing to share any particular blessing, whether it be money or leisure, talent or education, or any other good thing—with those who lack it, she was saying "It's mine." We probably will not lose our treasure immediately as the woman of the fable did, but I thoroughly believe that we bring down upon ourselves some loss of power to enjoy, some sure deprivation, either in this existence or in other existences to come.

MOTHER OF LARGE FAMILY

Tells How She Keeps Her Health—Happiness For Those Who Take Her Advice.

Scottville, Mich.—"I want to tell you how much good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me. I live on a farm and have worked very hard. I am forty-five years old, and am the mother of thirteen children. Many people think it strange that I am not broken down with hard work and care of my family. But I tell them of my good friend, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and that there will be no backache and bearing down pains for them if they will take it as I have. This remedy never without it in the home. "I will say also that I find there is no better medicine to be found for young girls. My eldest daughter has taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for painful periods and irregularity, and it has helped her. "I am always ready and willing to speak a good word for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I tell every one I meet that I owe my health and happiness to your wonderful medicine." —Mrs. J. G. Johnson, Scottville, Mich., R.F.D. 3.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and today holds the record of being the most successful remedy for woman's ill health.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS QUICKLY CURED HIS KIDNEY DISEASE

How Hudson Marchbank, After Suffering for Five Years, Found Quick Relief and Permanent Cure in the Greatest of Canadian Remedies. MARCHBANK, Kinross County, N. B., Apr. 28 (special).—After suffering for five years from kidney disease, brought on by a strain, Hudson Marchbank, Esq., the well-known farmer of this place, is again a strong healthy man, and another grand cure for Dodd's Kidney Pills has been put on record. In an interview, Mr. Marchbank: "About five years ago I hurt my back from lifting, and it developed into kidney disease. My back pained me all the time, and I was very much troubled with headaches. My appetite was lifted; I had a bitter taste in my mouth in the mornings; I perspired freely, and my perspiration had a disagreeable odor. "I used liniments and plasters, but they did not do me any good, and as there were other symptoms that my kidneys were affected, I decided to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. After using two boxes, my back was completely cured, and my kidneys have not troubled me since. "When Mr. Marchbank decided that his kidneys were the cause of his troubles, the rest was easy. Almost any of his neighbors could tell him that Dodd's Kidney Pills always cured diseased kidneys.
