THE SITUATION.

The fighting in the Balkans is proceeding satisfactorily. The Allied advance into Albania, a south-west ern province of European Turkey continues without abatement and the Austrians in retreating are destroying their depots. It is stated that the port of Durazzo is the present objective and at the existing present objective and at the existing blue, and lumps are raised on his Progress are requested to quote rate of progress should soon by head, through the severity of your their pension number in all comreached. As an illustration of the bitter feeling against Germany which exists in the dual monarchy it is recorded that rioting which occurred after the breakdown of the Austrian offensive culminated in an attack on the German embassy in Vienna. In the latter city the food shortage is such that horse flesh is now selling at $3.50 per pound.

On the Western front the French pressure is continuing to yield results and the Australians are also striking out to excellent effect.

From Washington the order has been issued that harvesting operations cannot be allowed to interfere with drafts for the army.

BRANTFORD'S WATER SUPPLY

For a great many years Brantford has depended upon its water supply on the filtering gallery basis, but a plan good enough for a smaller place has long since become superceded. There is no use blinking that fact and it might as well be faced. Und ? existing circumstances residents are getting river water which is freely chlorinated and although this method is intended to eliminate danger this cannot by any means be regard ed as a satisfactory service. A firm of experts has now been engaged by the Water Commissioners to look nto the whole matter of a better supply, but it is the general belief that none other offers except the present source. It takes a very large volume indeed to furnish the millions of gallens needed daily, and Galt, Vice-President; H. A. Filbrick, the Grand would still appear to be Paris, Sec. Treasurer. the one available opportunity. This being the case it would appear that a comprehensive system of purification and filtration would have to be introduced at a very large outlay. If that determination is reached, and there would seem to be no other, citizens should not fail to authorize the expenditure when their votes are asked upon the question.
