

Wall Paper Sale

Our Wall Paper Sale started off to-day with a whirl and no wonder. It is not a usual thing to have a bargain thrown out to you just exactly when you want it, but if you are papering this season, now is the time you want paper.

Now is when our offer comes.

A manufacturer made more of certain popular designs than were ordered. These overmakes he wanted to clear out at a price. That was where we came in.

Some of the designs are the same as we had before earlier in the season, so you can see the very great actual reduction on these.

We want you to see these special lines because we know you can save money on these.

THE KING'S DAUGHTERS

Annual Meeting Of Brooke Circle Was Great Success

Reports Of Last Year's Work Show Growth Of Interest

The annual meeting of the Brooke Circle of King's Daughters was held on Tuesday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. J. G. Kerr. There were present Mesdames J. C. Pritchard, M. Campbell, G. W. Sulman, J. M. Pike, C. C. Greening, W. Pringle, G. W. Cowan, S. Stone, D. S. Patterson, J. G. Kerr, A. Pilkey, C. Kellar and Miss Davis. Mrs. Pritchard, vice-president, conducted the business of the monthly meeting in the absence of Mrs. W. E. McKeough, president. Mrs. Kellar, the zealous and efficient secretary, read her report, which was as follows:

The April meeting of the King's Daughters has brought to a close another year for the society. We have missed our president, Mrs. McKeough, and treasurer, Mrs. Ball, very much during the latter part of the year, and trust they will be able to be with us in the future. We have a membership of about 35; nine regular meetings were held. Each member has tried to do her best "In His Name." At Christmas over 30 families were helped, and during the year each member has had one or more to look after. The Home committee were very faithful in giving what little pleasure they were able to the inmates, who were so pleased to see them. Our society gave them a Christmas tree, which all who were present enjoyed. Clothing has been distributed, money collected for the poor, and many kind letters of sympathy and beautiful flowers sent from our circle. These were highly appreciated. We have received several donations from kind outsiders and raised funds for our work by a "rummage sale" and sell denials fund. Several good papers were read, which helped us to keep in view that spiritual things as well as material aid are needed to carry on our work. Trusting in His Name we may work more faithfully next year.

A. M. KELLER, Secretary.

Mrs. Patterson, treasurer pro tem, submitted the following statement of receipts and expenditures during the year, ending May 1, 1907:

M. M. PATERSON, Treasurer.

The resignations of the president, Mrs. McKeough, and the treasurer, Mrs. E. Bell, were read and accepted, with regret. With Mrs. Pike in the chair, the following officers for the ensuing year were elected by ballot:

President—Mrs. Geo. W. Cowan.
Vice-President—Mrs. Spencer Stone.
Secretary—Mrs. C. Kellar.
Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. W. Pringle.

Treasurer—Mrs. D. S. Patterson.
Committee—Mrs. J. M. Pike and Mrs. G. W. Sulman.

Mrs. Cowan, the newly elected president, spoke in earnest and appropriate words of the work of the new year and encouraged the members to greater zeal and devotion in the blessed work of charity. Thinks Her Husband And Sister Eloped

Windsor, May 23.—Gordon Rushlow, 68 Arthur St., is the latest Windsor man to leave his happy home and go to parts unknown. Rushlow, who is a carpenter by trade, left Windsor a week ago last Monday to secure work in Chatham. He returned Wednesday and told his wife he had found employment and that he would come back to Windsor on the following Saturday and make arrangements for the family to move to Chatham.

He failed to return and inquiries in Chatham showed that he had never been at the place where he said he was working. The same day that Rushlow left for Chatham his wife's sister, Mrs. Albert Vokes, of Leamington, closed her house and informed her friends that she was going to Chatham to live. Mrs. Rushlow is of the opinion that her husband and sister have eloped.

One reason why Mrs. Rushlow holds that opinion is that the pair have been more familiar than she thought was proper, and it is said that Mrs. Rushlow informed her husband that if he wanted to go and live with her sister he could do so, but not to be getting the way he was around Windsor. Rushlow, however, denied thinking more of Mrs. Vokes than he did of his wife and stated that he intended to stay with his family.

The intimacy between Rushlow and Mrs. Vokes was noticed after Mrs. Vokes' husband, Albert Vokes, of Windsor, died at Hotel Dieu a few months ago. Mrs. Vokes received $1,000 insurance. Before moving from Windsor to Leamington she lived with the Rushlows. After her removal to Leamington, Rushlow continued to pay attentions to her, often going to Leamington.

The home on Arthur street that Rushlow has apparently abandoned is a neat little cottage that is at present in rather a disorderly condition, as Mrs. Rushlow has the furniture partially packed, expecting to move to Chatham. In addition to his wife, Rushlow has left behind a pretty daughter about fifteen years of age, a boy four years old and a baby seven months old.

Mrs. Rushlow is anxious that her husband should return and she has placed the matter in the hands of the police, who are attempting to locate him.

TRESPASSERS PAY COSTS

Barr Farm Episode Heard In County Courts This Morning

Little Sunday Jaunt Cost Each Young Man $2.45

The County Court Room was the centre of considerable interest this morning, when the five local young men, charged with trespassing on the Barr farm on Sunday last, came up for their hearing before Judge Houston. Ward Stanworth appeared for the defendants and O. L. Lewis prosecuted on behalf of Mrs. Richardson, the proprietress of the estate on which the trespass occurred.

Mrs. Richardson, who was the first witness called, stated that she did not give permission to any one to walk around on the property, but she had always allowed the Jordan boys to do so because they were neighbors. She said she had put up signs, forbidding trespassing, some years ago, but that they were torn down as fast as she put them up. She admitted, under cross-examination by Mr. Stanworth, that the property had always been more or less of a public resort, and crowds of people from the city had always been in the habit of walking over the grounds on Sunday. Officer McGregor had been asked to stop this trespassing, and, if necessary, make arrests; as she wanted it publicly known that the grounds are private.

Joe Jordan, who was also called, admitted asking the young men to go out with him to the Barr farm. He said that he had never seen any trespass signs on the place in the past five years, and it had always been frequented by the pleasure-loving public—at least as far back as he could remember.

Mr. Lewis said it was not Mrs. Richardson's desire that a heavy penalty should be inflicted on the young men. She just wanted it generally understood that prosecutions will follow all further trespassing. She would be willing to withdraw further proceedings in this instance, provided the defendants would agree to pay the costs of the court.

After consulting his clients, Mr. Stanworth announced that they were quite agreeable to Mrs. Richardson's offer.

The costs amounted to $12.25—$2.45 for each of the young men implicated.

EAST KENT TEACHERS HEAR CHILDREN SING

The East Kent Teachers' convention closed in this city yesterday afternoon. To-day the teachers divided up into three sections. One of these sections visited the Central School and the Business College, another visited the Glass Factory in Wallaceburg, and the other took a trip to the Indian Reserve and Algonac.

At the Central School this morning the teachers visited the different rooms, after which the thousand scholars of the school were called by Principal J. W. Plewes to the lower hall, where they sang several songs. The singing of the children is one of the most enjoyable and interesting parts of the work of the school. Mr. Plewes directed the whole school, and it was simply wonderful how he controlled every one of the thousand children with the simple stroke of the baton. The able manner in which Mr. Plewes measures up to the responsibility of so many little charges under his care was generally remarked upon by the visiting teachers.

It comes hard to lose a "soft berth."

A WORD FOR THE COUNTRY

Mr. Tilley Says Great Business Men Come From Rural Districts

Convention Of East Kent Teachers Held Yesterday In Christ Church

The annual convention of the East Kent teachers was held yesterday in the Sunday school of Christ church. The first session began at one o'clock and was decidedly interesting.

E. S. Stephenson, president, occupied the chair and gave a very instructive and interesting address, after which Prof. J. J. Tilley, Inspector of Model schools, gave a lengthy talk on Methods. Mr. Tilley began on discipline, speaking of its various aims. Discipline is the development of the higher senses, and powers of the faculties. The physical activities are developed, and thus the mental activities. He took as an example a lacrosse player, showing how thoroughly physically and mentally he was trained. Discipline trains the eye, ear, memory, and also gives to the blind man the sense of touch and strengthens their judgment. He spoke of the emotions, showing how they were as a ladder to a ship, guarding us aright. Discipline trains the will, and there is nothing of absolute value in the world but the will guided by the right. Kindness is a great incentive to make children do right, and thus is a great disciplinarian. The teacher should be willing at all times to help the slow or backward boy. The clever and smart will learn themselves, and a teacher gains honor by bringing the slow one to the front.

Assimilation was then brought up and a great many good and valuable lessons discussed. The similarity one thing bears upon another was first brought up. The new and the old are similar, but the old throws light on the new. Nothing is thoroughly learned until learned in connection with something else. "The more we bring to a thing the more we bring from it," is one of the most truthful sayings. He spoke of business men, stating that the majority of them came from the country. The country is the place where we all can form habits of industry, practice self denial and attain excellence by faithful labor. The children should be taught to have a noble worth aspiration and a desire to be something. It is the hungering and thirsting after knowledge that makes the scholar. He spoke in favor of having the children read good books, as they were always of value to a student. He expressed himself as being pleased to be present with the East Kent teachers, and hoped to again have the privilege of addressing them. A vote of thanks was moved and seconded and tendered Mr. Tilley for his splendid address.

Next were the reports of the delegates, which were read and favorably discussed. The election of officers for the incoming year was held and resulted as follows:

President—A. A. Merritt, of N. H. Hein.

Vice-President—Mrs. I. N. Wells, Dresden.

Secretary—W. H. G. Colles, I. P. S. Executive Committee—G. A. Miller, Dresden; Mr. Kelly, Bothwell; Miss Gregory, Kent Bridge; Miss McInnis and Mr. Brandon.

The convention is being continued to-day. The delegates have been separated into three sections, and each section are visiting the Canada Business College, the Central school, the Wallaceburg glass factory and sugar factory, and also a boat trip to Algonac, Mich., has been arranged. There were present in all about 80, and the convention was in all a very interesting and successful one.
