TUESDAY, NOV. 19th, 1918.

THE SAME CELEBRATION.

It is to be congratulated in every manner in which the anniversary of the signing of the armistice was observed here on Tuesday. Every place of business was closed for the day, and there was a marked absence of drunkenness which generally marks such a celebration, and which, according to press reports, was in evidence in almost every other town in the province, and due, no doubt, to the absence of liquor, there was no rowdiness of any kind practiced, and the festivities were greatly enjoyed by all.

BLACKVILLE CELEBRATED ALLIED VICTORY

Torchlight Procession, Huge Bonfires and Speeches on Wednesday Last.

The village of Blackville was entirely last week in honor of the defeat of the German troops and the signing of the armistice. There was general rejoicing by the ringing of bells and blowing of whistles, when the news was first received on Monday, while Tuesday services of thanksgiving were held in all the churches, and Wednesday the main celebration was held. A grand torchlight procession was held, followed by a huge bonfire, upwards of thirty feet in height, over which the effigy of the Kaiser was burned, much to the delight of the large crowd that had gathered. This was preceded by a public meeting in the hall, where patriotic speeches were given.

THE AFTER EFFECTS OF DREADED LA GRIPPE

Worse Than the Disease Itself—Victims Left Weak, Nervous and Worn Out.

La Grippe, or Spanish influenza as the epidemic now sweeping over all America, is called, in some of the most dangerous diseases known to mankind. Anyone who has felt its pangs is not likely to forget the trouble. La Grippe, or influenza, starts with a slight cold and ends with a complication of troubles. It lays the victim on his back, it tortures him with fever and chills, headache and backache, it leaves him a prey to pneumonia, bronchitis, consumption and other deadly diseases. Its after effects are often more serious than the disease itself. It is quite possible to avoid la grippe by keeping the blood rich and red by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—a tonic medicine which enriches the blood and strengthens the nerves. If, however, the disease attacks you, the patient should at once go to bed and call a doctor before complications set in. That is the only safe thing to do. To recover your strength after the severity of the attack has passed, you will find Dr. Williams' Pink Pills an unsurpassed tonic. Through the use of this medicine all the evil after effects of this trouble will be banished. This has been proved in thousands of cases throughout Canada, where in previous seasons la grippe has attacked them. Among the many thus restored to full health is Miss Irene Boston, Portsmouth, Ont., who says: "I take much pleasure in recommending Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, because I have proved their worth in my own case. Last winter I had a severe attack of la grippe and it left me weak and all run down. I had severe pains in the chest and under the arms, palpitation of the heart and attacks of neuralgia which left me with the feeling that life was scarcely worth living. I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and began their use only on the principle that I would try anything that might better my condition. I had only been using the pills a couple of weeks when the pain began to leave me. Gradually my strength returned, my appetite improved, and in a little more than a month I felt all my old vigor back. I am now in the best of health and I was persuaded to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I shall always have a good word to say for them." Dr. Williams' Pink Pills not only cure the disastrous after effects of la grippe but are also a specific for all ailments due to poor blood, such as rheumatism, indigestion, nervous ailments, and the generally poor condition that affects so many people. For a full and complete list of ailments cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, send for a free copy of the book, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," by mail at 25 cents a box or six boxes for $1.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

SAD DEATH AT SUNNY CORNER

Mrs. Albert McTavish Dies After a Short Illness of Influenza.

Sunny Corner, Nov. 10.—Mrs. Ernest Masterson, Nelson, is spending a few weeks with her mother, Mrs. Allan Nowlan.

Miss Mae Johnston, who has been visiting here for the summer, left for Melrose, Mass., last Wednesday.

Mrs. Frank McFarlane, of Chatham, spent the week end at the Corner.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. George Leach on the arrival of a baby boy.

The anguish of death came to Sunny Corner Thursday morning and carried away Jane, the beloved wife of Mr. Albert Tozer, who had been ailing for some months, seemed bright and cheerful until she took the influenza, the latter which made her weaker and weaker until she finally threw off these earthly cares and went to her God. She leaves behind to miss her loving care the following children: Edith, Harold, Ruby, Will, Mary, Norman and Lawrence, the latter being only about ten months old.

Mrs. Tozer had many friends scattered near and far who will be sorry to hear she was taken so quickly. Deepest sympathy is extended to the sorrowing father and loved ones, who shall not forget her though she sleeps away from home. Interment took place at 2 p. m. Friday in the Presbyterian cemetery, Red Bank.

NEWCASTLE BOY OFF FOR RUSSIA

Gunner Alex. MacDonald, Who Enlisted at Sixteen in Siberian Expedition.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence MacDonald have received word from their son, Gunner Alex. MacDonald, who has just been discharged from a hospital in England, where he has been undergoing treatment for gas which he received at the front. In a letter written on October 14th, Gunner MacDonald says that he is leaving the next day for Russia. The letter in part says: "I am going to a country that is some cold and would be glad to have some socks and tobacco sent me, as I understand that it is harder to get things there than in France. Don't worry about me, as I think I can stand the cold better than the mud, and anyway a fellow is not going to die until his time comes, and I have seen through thick and thin and am still on the top side. I often wonder how it is some lads get off so lucky to others. I will have a fine time watching the Subs on the way over Russia will be a new place and the change will be as good as a rest."

Gunner MacDonald enlisted in the 28th Battery when he was sixteen years of age, and has seen almost four years of service. He has been once wounded and also gassed.

WHEN PEACE WAS MADE IN 1871

Interesting Account Taken From the Old Files of the Union Advocate.

In connection with the signing of the armistice by Germany last week the following account of the Peace Terms of 1871—made between Germany and France is most interesting. The account was clipped from a copy of the Union Advocate of March 2nd, 1871:

PEACE.

Late telegrams say that the war between France and Germany is now over, and that Thiers, Favre, and the Consultative Commission have accepted the conditions, which are as follows: The cessation of Alsace and the fortress of Metz, and the payment to Germany, as a War indemnity, $200,000,000. Let us thank God for Peace, and may it be a permanent one. We may read of the terrible devastations occasioned by the late war, but words cannot express all the terrible results. The sacrifice of life has been on an awful scale, and how many thousands of loving hearts are now mourning over the loss of dear ones, who have shed their life's blood for their country. May God grant that we on this Continent may be preserved from the terrible scourge—War—and may the whole of Europe have rest for many years to come, and unwrapped within the folds of the mantle of Peace, enjoy the sweet fruits of continued prosperity.

FRANCE DOES NOT FORGET ALLIES OR ENEMY IN VICTORY

Herve's Eloquent Tribute to England, Ally From the First Hour of Tragedy.

REMEMBER WAR'S HEROES Honor Living Fighters and Keep Dead in Memory—Noblesse Oblige to the Beaten Foe.

Paris, Nov. 17.—In this time of celebration when everybody is so much inclined to live completely in the present, Gustave Herve, the eloquent editor of La Victoire, who is known for his patriotic ardor, always to the point, addressed the Allies, and particularly his own countrymen, with an appeal to remember the debt we all owe the heroes of the war.

"Only the dead will not see again," he says. "Yesterday morning as my windows were being adorned with flags to the point, a voice marked with crepe in honor of two deaths in the family, a woman of the middle class, in mourning, who did not fear a pious hand had draped with emotion: 'Vive la France.'"

"How fine have been our French women during these four years. Without that we would not have held. Thanks to them, our politics have been so magnificent.

It can be acknowledged today that even children as well as adults, it is less difficult, you will say. No doubt, but a people as civilized as ours, that has had to combat flags, that is a great honor, a sign of humanity, in whom there is a grain of idealism, has some merit for holding our for years without weakness, without meeting foolish acts."

Continuing, M. Herve, claims full recognition for the services of the President and the right leaders; Millerand for organizing the workshops in 1914; Briand, in Salonica, and lastly, Clemenceau.

"Others must be remembered whom all France hails with enthusiasm despite faults which she unanimously recognizes."

Will Not Forget Allies

"France in joy," he adds, "will not forget our Allies, neither in mourning nor Belgium, whom henceforth we shall always hold in as great affection as our dear peoples east and north; nor England, our great ally of the first hour, without whom we would have been crushed despite the Marne; nor Italy, who came with help in the most difficult hours of the war; nor Portugal, who gave such a noble example to Spain; nor Roumania; nor the great American Republic, by whom our war was declared as a crusade against war."

"Let us get out the old Russian flags, no matter whether they be those of Czarist Russia. All know that the Russian people, who have been the first ally of the dark days, 4,000,000 of whose soldiers died for the common cause."

"Despots, the Austrians, notwithstanding the assassination of Cavelli, the ignominious treatment of the women of Lille, and our millions of soldiers, must be remembered as Noblesse Oblige. It is Clemenceau himself who today reminded us, amidst the wild joy of the nation, that the words of our fathers, or in those of today, a soldier of the ideals of humanity."

PLAYER LIMIT REDUCED

Recommendation Will be Sent to Major Leagues

Chicago, Nov. 16.—Eighteen players will be sufficient to win a major league pennant next year, if baseball is resumed, and the recommendations agreed on at a meeting of the National Baseball Commission here today are accepted by the American and National Leagues at their annual meetings next month.

President Johnson, of the American League, and August Herrmann, chairman of the commission, were participants in the conference which had to do with some left over commission cases in addition to a discussion of the methods necessary to restore baseball in 1919.

The suggestion of a player limit of eighteen men for the major leagues when their schedules are resumed, is in line with the retrenchment that is believed necessary during the process of reconstruction, both in the league and in the game.

Working the player limit from 25 to 18 men will mean the elimination of "specialists" and the employment of more all-around players.

The commission decided to inflict severe fines on three members of the world's championship team for playing exhibition games with the east after the world's series, with a team advertised as the Boston Red Sox. Amos Strunk, Jos Bush, and Walter Johnson, were the players. They immediately claimed to be players of the practice. The decision to withhold the usual world's series championship

PROUDEST MAN IN NEW BRUNSWICK

Mr. M. Schaffer, the Well Known Blackville Merchant, an Austrian by Birth, but True British Subject.

(Friday's Gleamer)

One of the "happiest" men to visit Fredericton in some months is M. Schaffer, a prominent merchant of Blackville, who was in the city yesterday, an Austrian by birth, forced to leave his country because of oppressions of the people by the autocrats, he came to this country 25 years ago and has since fought his way along to a position of prominence in New Brunswick. The war news of the week has made him happy and that happiness is shown in his eyes as he speaks of the great victory of Allied arms. For his own countrymen he sees deliverance from the bonds of oppression, light and freedom ahead. He says he is proud of the fact that he is a subject of King George and has been able to enjoy the privileges of a free people. Mr. Schaffer was too far advanced in years to fight against the common enemy, but it is recalled, he hired a man to fight for him and in paying that man a per diem wage in addition to what the military pays the soldier.

He is full of true patriotism and shown it in his large contributions to patriotic events. He says the happiest moment of his life was at a public demonstration in Blackville, Wednesday night, when he was invited to speak from the same platform with a number of leading speakers of that section. It proved that his loyalty to the cause of freedom was not questioned by his neighbors.

Dr. Kierstead, representing the Canada Food Board, paid Newcastle a visit on Wednesday last, and during the afternoon addressed a meeting of the grocers of the town.

Dr. Kierstead said that he did not believe that peace would ease up the food situation, but in the contrary would likely increase the tension as Great Britain had promised assistance to Turkey, Bulgaria, Rumania and Armenia, and would also like to assist the Central Powers in the way of food supplies. He urged the merchants to assist by the sale of substitutes, and asked that they play fair with one another. He knew of instances where a man went into one store and finding he could not obtain flour without substitutes, had gone to another store and by bluffing had been able to secure it. "It is the honest merchant that stands to lose," said Mr. Kierstead, "but if all lived up to the regulations of the food board, none would be the loser. It was up to the merchants to get behind the law and see that it was enforced. If any person would give him evidence of where the food laws had been violated, he would take the matter to the law and see that the merchant's license was cancelled or suspended."

The fact laws have now been changed so that anyone can get a 25 pound bag of flour, providing they take the substitutes, and any family that can use a barrel in ninety days is entitled to receive a barrel of flour, as is also a family living at least five miles from a licensed dealer.

The merchants have got to earn a living, but flour had been hoarded on a very small margin, and they should not substitute be handled likewise.

The Town Council now had power to investigate prices if they thought they were excessive.

In closing he asked for greater cooperation among the merchants, and Mr. Thomas M. Malby was chosen as the representative to receive the regulations of the Food Board and acquaint the merchants with the same.

Since the above was written the following ruling has been passed by the Food Board:

Following the action of the Allied food controllers, all orders and rulings requiring the sale, purchase, use or consumption of substitutes for wheat flour are repealed, from Thursday, whether in the trade or in private homes. The main factor enabling this to be done is the immediate release of
