"THE ACQUITTAL" DRAWS FULL HOUSE.

The gripping drama "The Acquittal," which was staged on Monday night by the Harkins' Players, continues to attract full houses. There were two shows yesterday, and both the afternoon and night performances were attended by delighted audiences. "The "Acquinta" will be the bill for the remainder of the week, with a matinee on Saturday. Next week patrons will have an opportunity of seeing the entire Company, when "So This Is London" will be staged. This comedy is one of the cleverest ever written, and has been running in the Hudson, N.Y., for over a year. It also ran for a year at the Prince of Wales, Theatre, in London. Two of the ladies of the Harkins' Players were in the cast during its run in New York.

"So This Is London" will be followed by other successes, notably "The Bat" and "Spring Cleaning." The latter is now being played in London and has met with a phenomenal success. "The Bat" ran for two weeks in the Strand Theatre in London. Mr. Selman announced last night, the Company aims to produce nothing but the best, and they anticipate that patrons would give them that support which would assure a run of one week for each play. Lovers of drama who have not seen "The Acquittal," should avail of the opportunity as it is one of the best dramas produced here for years.

Underworld Weapons

A London magistrate recently commented on the numerous razor assaults committed by hooligans. He said the razor is a distinctly un-English weapon, and that it belongs really to the American Negro, who specializes in throwing it.

Criminals are known by their weapons and their methods of attack. In London the metal knuckle-duster is a fairly common weapon. The Paris apaches use a knife, and generally carries a revolver as well.

The desperadoes of Italy and Spain favour the stiletto and knife respectively. The knife of the Spaniard is a deadly implement; it consists of a sharp, broad blade that folds into the handle and can be drawn and opened in one movement.

Weighted belts are sometimes used by the London "tough." A gang at Lambeth was known as the "New Girdle Gang" because its members were armed with this type of weapon.

The mystery ship with a crew of Lascars put into Dover for repairs and coal, but after receiving these is understood to have become involved in a dispute about payment.

The port officials thereupon declined to let the vessel clear, and gave warning to United States authorities to watch for the liquor ship should she subsequently be released.
