wance. The stocks of woolen goods have been considerably reduced, and the feeling in wholescale drygoods ciccises is hopeful. In groceries there is an increase demand for sugars and teas. Prices of the former are higher. Dried fruits scarce and firm. The hardware trade is quiet, witcout change in quotations. There has been a good trade in wheat, with considerable the properties of Manitoba grades exported. Barly and peas are firmer, while flour is dull bateady in prices. Provisions are not quotably changed. Payments are not liberal, although some improvement is reported in certain lines.

Have You Neuralgia?

If you are suffering the agonies of neuralgia, and have failed to get a remedy that will afford relief, we want you to try Polson's Nerviline. No remedy in the market has given anything like the same degree of satisfaction. Its action on nerve pain is simply marvelous, and as it is put up in 25 cent bottles no great expense is involved in giving it a trial. Polson's Nerviline is the most pleasant, powerful, and certain pain remedy in the world. Sold by all druggists and all dealers in medicine, 25 cents a bottle.

It is stated officially that the results of placing ticket collectors on the Big Four between Cincinnati and Cleveland have been even more satisfactory than on the Chicago division the first 60 days, but there is said to be a division of opinion as to the wisdom of placing ticket collectors on some other divisions of the Big Four.

It is reported that cars of an entirely new style will shortly be placed by the New York and New England on its limited trains between New York and Boston. These coaches are to be perfectly white, with gold lettering and decorations, something like those of a road that a former Buffalonian was to manage in the West about seven years ago.

It is reported that Mr. D. W. Johnson, passenger agent of the Union Pacific at Detroit, is to be hereafter stationed at Chicago. Harry Purcell, freight agent of the same line at the same place, has resigned and taken service elsewhere. Mr. R. C. From seventy up to ninety-six.
She hung her head, she blushed, she sighed,
She laughed: or possibly she cried.
Just take your choice and have her do
Precisely as you wish her to.

Horse Sense.

The term "horse sense" is often used to indicate the natural tendency that some men have to do the right thing at the right time—to go into the house when it rains, to keep their mouths shut on "washing day," or to advertise their wares when they want to sell them. But sense and sagacity alone will not account for the wonderful feats that are being performed daily and nightly by Bristol's "boys and girls" at the Grand Opera House. These graduates of the colt college go through their allotted tasks with such marvelous intelligence and skill as to almost compel one to believe that they possess the faculties of reason and reflection. At the same time the tact, perseverance and patience which the trainer of these super banimals must have exercised in their education is almost as marvelous as the aptness and docility displayed by his fourfooted pupils. The balancing feats of Comanche, Harry and Naomi, the trapeze acts of the pony Tony, the ciphering done by Sultan, the comicalities of the clown mule Denver, and the magnificent military drill of the entire troupe, besides the numerous other elever acts presented, must be seen to be appreciated. The unanimous verdict of the large audiences who have witnessed these performances is that they are without a parallel. Last evening's show, which was no exception to the rule, drew a good house and elicited almost continuous applause. This is the last opportunity that London's citizens will have of seeing this unique exhibition for a long time, as the troupe will shortly leave for a tour of Europe, and will be away for several years. Besides the evening performances there will be matinees this and Saturday afternoons. Those who fail to see Prof. Bristol's trained horses, ponies and mules will miss one of the most interesting, instructive and amusing exhibitions ever presented to an intelligent public.

Strained Relations.

London, Jan. 22.—Relations between Italy and France are again becoming strained, chiefly owing to Airican rivalry. France is reaching both for Tripoli and Abyssinia, and would have attacked Tripoli before but for the fact that any movement means war with Turkey, the Sultan having resolved that Tripoli shall remain a part of his empire, if he has to fight for it. Italy claims a protectorate over Abyssinia, but French agents have been trying to win the Abyssinians over to France, and there is evidence that they have partly succeeded.
