Police Magistrate Parke was confronted with an unusually long docket in the Carling street court this morning. Mrs.

Catherine Collins, of the Wharncliffe road, South London, was charged by her husband

Jeremiah with insanity. Evidence pro and con was given. Mrs. Collins, one witness said, had threatened to kill her husband because he had two women in the house with him. Another witness stated that Mrs. Collins had threatened the life of her husband when the latter was confined to bed through illness. She was committed for removal to the asylum.

George Henry Adams, whose wife accuses him of non-support, will have to stand his trial in a higher court. Fourteen awning

The Dairy Market.

LONDON, June 2.—There was a large attendance at the cheese market to-day—far larger than on any market day since the season opened. Before the sales were held a committee of buyers met a committee of sellers who were objecting to the half-pound up-beam weight recently introduced to allow for shrinkage during shipment to the old country. This system of weighing prevails in the Eastern Provinces, and the buyers refused to change the rule. All sales were made on that understanding. It was agreed, however, that private sales could be made off the market on any day but Saturday. More cheese was sold, but prices ranged lower than last week. Thirty-seven factories were represented, with a total of 5,305 boxes, mostly colored. There were sold 3,951 boxes at prices ranging from 9c, 91-16c, and 9c. Following are the factories The Dairy Market. 91-16c, and 93c. Following are the factories represented:

MIDDLESEX COUNTY COURT.

Mrs. Watson, Charged with Abduction, Leaves the City.

The Parkhill Arson and Local Highway Robbery Cases-Grand Jurors.

The County Court of Middlesex was opened at the court house at I o'clock this afternoon by Judge Wm. Elliot. Col. Macbeth, clerk of the court, called the list of grand jurors, the folcleared of sale stock. There were some very good heavy Western Ohio corn-fed wethers on offer, which were taken for export, and some choice handy weight yearlings also brought the top prices quoted. Choice to best export wethers, $4 50 to $475; good to choice handy, 90 to 100 lbs, $4 to $425; culls, common to good, $150 to $250; lambs, choice to fancy, $490 to $5; good to choice, $450 to $465; spring lambs, common to extra, $350 to $5.

Hogs-Receipts, 18 to 20 cars. Market opened with buyers and sellers apart, but the latter had to concede the point, and the early sales of the day were all of 10c lower than those of yesterday, the bulk of the sales being at one price for all grades; but by noon, with the arrival of four or five decks more and more favorable western reports, the market ruled stronger. Packers are still light purchasers and would not give over $490 for their sort, and the general quality of the hogs was fairly good. Pigs were in light supply and the pens were fairly well cleared at noon, with the exception of late arrivals. Yorkers, good, $190; good heavy, $490; roughs, $4 to $450; pigs, $490 to $5.

MRS. WATSON LEAVES TOWN. The case of the Queen vs. Mrs. Susannah Watson, abduction, was also entered, but will probably be struck off. Mrs. Watson lived on Ridout street next to a family named Doucette. The parties were not on the best of terms and after Tillie Doucette disappeared from home last fall Mrs. Watson was charged with abduction, Mr. McPhillips was acting for the accused, but was unaware that she had left town until a short time ago, when he sent word for her to be ready for trial. It then leaked out that Mrs. Watson, together with her husband and children, had removed to Michigan.

AN APPEAL CASE. Notice was given that A. H. Wesley, of Glencoe, would appeal against a conviction secured by W. J. McRenner for practicing medicine without a license. Wesley once, in preference to paying a heavy fine, served a term in jail.

Reports of a Deadly Landslide in Charlevoix, Quebec.

Great Loss of Life-Meagre Particulars

as Yet. MONTREAL, June 4 .- A special from Quebec states that news comes from Charlevoix county, 90 miles below here, that a terrible landslide has occurredthat ten houses were percipitated into the Red River, and that there has been a great loss of life. Details are lacking, but the occurrence is similar to the accident that happened at St. Alban about a month ago. Houses were carried away at Braa Noir, Red River. There is no telegraph communication with the point and particulars are meagre.

"Didn't Know It Was Loaded." LONDON, June 4 .- A party of excursionists near Trallee, Ireland, yesterday, picked up an old shell near an artillery camp and began rolling it along the ground. The shell exploded and killed three of the party and wounded a dezen others.

The War on the Lords. LONDON, June 4. - Sixty-one members of the House of Commons have now given assurances of their adherence to the anti-Lords platform of the National Reform Union. The progress of this movement will force the conference of the National Liberal Federation to be held at Leeds, to pass resolutions advocating more extreme measures. The speaker says the unity of the Liberals and their political future depend upon the result of the anti-Lords campaign.

The Queen's Denial. London, June 4 .- It very rarely happens that the Queen condescends to take any notice of published gossip respecting members of the royal family. The fact that this week she caused to be telegraphed from Balmoral in the daily Court Circular an emphatic contradiction of the report that the Princess Alix of Hesse, recently betrothed to the Czarewitch, was taking the waters at Harrogate in order to cure a long standing internal complaint, proves beyond question that her Majesty was deeply moved and highly incensed at the audacity of a newspaper scribe in daring to suggest that her to suggest that her granddaughter's constitution is unsound. The Queen's irritation as a grandmother and matchmaker is natural and understandable. The Czarewitch is himself a weakling, and if it should prove to be true that his affianced bride's health had been undermined, his big, burly father would beyond doubt break off the match. The probability is that there is nothing organically wrong with the young princess, but it is absurd for the Queen to delare that the report of her ailment is "absolutely without foundation." The Westminster Gazette, which gave prominence to the original report, flippantly remarks with regard to the contradiction that "any allusion to the indisposition of any Railroad in West Virginia by burning royal person appears to be considered at court as a species of treason, the court preferring that the ailments of such personages shall be ignored until the rattles are in their throats; and when the sovereign or prince or princess happens to be dangeroasly ill the public are always informed that the invalid is going on favorably, although, as a matter of fact, he or she is at that time going as fast as possible to the grave."

The Gazette then affirms that Princess Alix has been in delicate health for several years past and that she has undergone 'cures" at Badnauheim, Schwalbach, and other places. The Gazette suggestively adds that the Princess would not have buried herself at a small Yorkshire watering place at the height of the London season if she were in perfect health. This is certainly the popular view, and the prevailing skepticism is not likely to be removed until an authoritative statement shall have been made as to the nature of the Princess' malady.
