

BOARD OF WORKS NAMES ARE A FOR CLEANING OF SIDEWALKS

Business and Residential District Included in the Proposed Snow Bylaw.

At the meeting of the board of works held last evening the limits of the snow bylaw were defined by Ald. Blandford, and recommended to the council for acceptance.

The area for compulsory shovelling of sidewalks is practically the business and residential district in the central portion of the city. One district in South London is included, but none in West London, and few in East London.

The area is as follows:
Grosvenor street to Waterloo.
Waterloo street to St. James.
St. James street to Colborne.
Colborne street to Dufferin.
Dufferin street to Adelaide.
Adelaide street to Queen's.
Queen's street to English.
English street to Dundas.
Dundas street to Glebe.
Glebe street to King.
King street to Colborne.
Colborne street to York.

York street to Wellington.
Wellington street to Simcoe.
Simcoe street to York.
York street to Ridout.
Ridout street to Central avenue.
Central avenue to Talbot.
Talbot street to Mill.
Mill street to St. George.
St. George street to Grosvenor.
Grosvenor street to South London.
Ridout, from York to Elmwood, both sides of the street.

York street, west to the bridge.
Stanley and Becher streets, and the Ridgeway. Both sides of these streets.

Ald. Blandford pointed out that both sides of the streets named as boundaries must be shovelled. "I think this is a reasonable area," he stated. "No objection can be made to it. I would have liked to have enlarged the district, but I realize that this is about as much as we can enforce this year. The ratepayers will have to be educated to it, to a certain degree, and this is about all we can handle now. Next year the area, I hope, will be extended."

The committee agreed with the report of Ald. Blandford, and recommended that a bylaw be prepared along the lines suggested.

day on $500 bail.

Justice Mendenhall, of the high court of justice, at Toronto, signed the order for his release, and just about dinner-time he was brought down from the county jail to the police court, where, before Magistrate Gorman, Rev. Walter Rigsby and Rev. Mr. Morrison signed the necessary sureties.

Crown Attorney Bucke and Attorney LeSueur, the counsel for the defence, were the only ones present, with the exception of those previously mentioned.

Kyoshk appeared very happy, and a contented smile played over his face. He was taken to Mr. Rigsby's home at the reservation, where he will reside until his retrial for the murder of John at the spring assizes.

Kyoshk was released at noon yesterday.

Skin Diseases

ARE PAINFUL AND UNSIGHTLY.

Among the most prevalent are Salt Rheum, Eczema, Tetter, Rash, Boils, Pimples and Itching Skin Eruptions.

These troubles always arise from the blood being in a bad condition and it is absolutely impossible to eradicate them from the system unless you put your blood into good shape. This you can do without the slightest trouble by using Burdock Blood Bitters.

It drives out all the humor from the blood, and makes it pure and rich. Thousands of people have used it during the last thirty-five years and have been cured. Mr. Robert Gamble, Jones Falls, Ont., says: "I write with the greatest of pleasure to recommend your great blood purifier, Burdock Blood Bitters. My wife and I had itching sores on our face and ears, and tried everything to help them, but found no relief. We saw your B.B.B. advertised and got a bottle, and before it was half gone we both were getting better, and when it was all gone we were cured."

Wake Up! You Lazy Stomach!

Make Your Stomach Cheerfully Do Its Work Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Digest Your Food and Assist the Stomach.

People who complain they are worn to a frazzle are nearly always dyspeptic and are recommended to use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. The stomach gets lazy, food ferments and sours, gas belches up, there are symptoms of bloating, the blood becomes thick and sluggish, the liver is strained, the head is heavy, the mind is blank, and the dining-room is a chamber of horrors.

One of the greatest evils of our modern life is the quick lunch. To this evil, as much or more, than any other, may be traced the preponderance of the stomach troubles of our times. Instead of taking time to thoroughly masticate the food before swallowing it, the average person rushes through the meal, bolting the food, deglutition taking place while it is only partially mixed with saliva, and only half masticated, thus leaving the stomach to do the work the teeth should have done.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain digestive elements, a single grain being capable of digesting 3,000 grains of food, including meats, eggs, grain, vegetables, starches and mineral matters. They prepare every article of food by thorough digestion for ready absorption and assimilation by the lacteal glands, which pass it into the blood, whence it is conducted to all parts of the system, rebuilding and vitalizing it.

Every druggist has Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in stock, and sells them at 50 cents a box.

New Story By Mrs. Burnett.

A new serial novel by Frances Hodgson Burnett will be one of the leading features of the Century for 1913. The story has to do with a New York newspaper boy, who, just as he attains the proud position of "Harlem society reporter" for a great newspaper and is learning how to find out what is going on in society through the confectionery shop and the florists, is informed that he is heir to a great English estate. The scene is then changed to England and introduces an aged duke who adds zest and complication to the story. And, of course, there is a girl in it. Mrs. Burnett is here engaged in covering her familiar international ground—she being pre-eminently the international novelist—but she has found new paths for each country and all who have read "The Shuttle" and "Little Lord Fauntleroy" will follow her new story with keen interest. Writers of short fiction whose best work will be found in the Century during the coming year include among many, Owen Johnson, Eddie Phillips, Ruth McEnery Stuart, and Ellis Parker Butler.

The New Year of St. Nicholas.

St. Nicholas will continue through the new magazine year Hildegard Hawthorne's inspiring department of "Books and Readings." Progress, Ed-ward P. Blood's horizon-widening "Nature and Science," and the St. Nicholas League of the world-wide membership.

Red Book.

That talented Englishman, Owen Oliver, has a clever little love story in the December Red Book Magazine. It is called, "Calling in the Doctor." It tells of the efforts to get married of a young woman who is heirless to a tremendous fortune.

Scribner's.

The Christmas story by Thomas Nelson Page which leads the December number of Scribner's is called "The Stable of the Inn," and tells the story of the Nativity. N. C. Wyeth has for it two beautiful illustrations in color.

RIGID PROBE INTO BIG FACTORY FIRE

Underwriters May Now Enforce Demands to Improve Conditions.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Sarnia, Nov. 29.—The police force here is coming in for much censure in connection with the big fire which destroyed the hub and spoke factory. The report that the alarm was turned in from Port Huron has been absolutely confirmed, and it is said that the underwriters will demand an investigation.

It has been suggested that instead of throwing the brunt of the blame on the police, that the investigators go after the council, or that committee of the council which allowed such conditions to exist.

"Take, for instance, the water pressure," said one citizen to The Advertiser. "It was at least 20 minutes after the fire department got there before the water was turned on the fire. The hydrant at that point is said to be defective. Then the blame must rest on those whose duty it is to look after such matters."

The Canadian underwriters have warned the town time and again that the fire protection system here is far from being adequate, and in most cases the communications have been received and filed.

LITERARY NOTES

The December Century is itself a Christmas tree—laden with fine gifts for all that approach it. Pictures, of the kind for which the Century is famous; short fiction of unusual interest, reflecting the tenderness of the Christmas thought; Christmas verse, illustrated in color articles of substantial interest—all combine to give this number a peculiar richness to befit the season. Lucy Furman's story, "The Christmas Tree on Clinch," shows how the Christmas idea ended a Kentucky feud. Virginia Youniss Remick's "The Miracle of Little Noel" is the Christ-

Well-Dressed Men With Slim Pocket Books

It is a great mistake to assume that all the well-dressed men you see on the streets have large pocket books. That they can afford to pay thirty or forty dollars for a suit or overcoat. Now-a-days it is not really necessary to pay so much, for we can make in our shops for fifteen dollars a suit or overcoat to your measure that for quality and style is equal to any thirty to forty dollar article, and if you are not satisfied we will cheerfully refund any money you have paid.

A Choice of Any Material Made-to-Order Suit or Overcoat

Only a few years ago we founded the first $15-made-to-order-suit-or-overcoat establishment in Canada, and we made good with a vengeance. We imported our materials direct from the mills in Scotland, where the best wools in the world are manufactured. We employed workmen who know their business and satisfied customers did the rest. The result is plainly to be seen. We opened branches in several of the larger cities in Canada, and in Detroit and Cleveland. In time other concerns flattered us by imitating our price $15—but have tried in vain to imitate our quality. Old customers come back—new ones come in every day—and every one is satisfied. If you have never realized that you can get as good as you need for fifteen dollars—come in and see us. Leave your measure, and we will do the rest to your satisfaction.

TRAMPS SLEEP AMID FINE ART

London, Nov. 28.—Collectors of antique carved wood and panelling have a rare opportunity of obtaining some fine specimens from an old Southwark house, which was once the home of earls, but has now deteriorated into a dwelling for tramps. The house is situated in a grimy alley off Lamb street, where Dickens lived as a boy. From a flagged pit opens a tall dark door always ajar for the lodgers seeking a five-cent bed.

On each half of the paneled door hangs a sound old knocker, and above the door richly carved cornices, such as could not be matched in some of the finest of the old Westminster houses, once supported a canopy, but now only a few deal boards laid across.

WINTER TOURS TO THE LAND OF SUNSHINE AND SUMMER DAYS.

At this season of the year a great many are planning their winter tour, some to the Sunny South, others to California, where a considerable number prefer the flowers and sunshine of Florida, together with the very even climate.

Owing to modern railway facilities, an extensive trip, both interesting and educational, can now be made in speed and comfort at comparatively small expense.

The Canadian Pacific Railway offers particularly good service to Detroit, where direct connection is made for Florida, via Cincinnati, Ohio, and Atlanta, Ga. Jacksonville, Fla., is reached second morning after leaving Detroit. Excellent connection can also be made to Florida via Buffalo.

The Canadian Pacific—Wabash Route will be found the ideal line to Chicago, where direct connection is made for the Southern States. New Orleans, La., is reached second morning after leaving Toronto.

Direct connection is also made at Chicago for points in California, Mexico, Texas, Arizona, etc.

The dining, parlor and sleeping car service between Toronto, Detroit and Chicago, is up-to-date in every particular. Connecting lines also operate through sleeping and dining cars.
