L. S. R. Ready To Fix Three Bridges-Ridout Street Remains Closed.

Extensive repairs will not be necessary for York street bridge, according to reports made at a session of the Ontario railway and municipal board in Toronto yesterday. City and London street railway officials reached an agreement to commence immediate repairs to the bridge. The work will be carried out by a bridge construction company at a comparatively small expense. By yesterday's agreement the stree railway company is now shown to be ready to repair Wellingt n. Dundas and York street bridges. Ridout street bridge will remain closed for street railway traffic, and the old route to South London will not be opened until a new bridge is built. Power Plant. Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, April 25.-Judgment for sums totalling $5,080.70 has been awarded by Mr. Justice Ross in favor of the Imperial Bank on promissory notes made by four London men. The judgments are as follows: Against E. R. Dennis for $1,053,69:1 against J. Cameron Wilson for $1,908.74; against T. H. Yull for $1,059.82, and against George A. Wenige for $1,058.45. The claims of the defendants against J. Hoidge and Bancroft Marbles, Limited, as third parties, are dismissed.

The defendants contended that the notes were given for the develop-ment of a power plant at Bancroft by the quarries, and that there was to be no liability upon them till tain amount of capital had been raised. In any event, it is alleged, the notes were only held as collateral for a loan of $85,000 by Hoidge to the marble company, upon which liability had not yet arisen.
