FOOD JAG HAS REPLACED WHISKEY

Doctor Says that Heavy Drinkers Consume Too Much Sugar

"Food drunkards," who appease their craving for alcohol by eating rich foods containing a great amount of sugar, have replaced the heavy drinkers of pre-Volstead days, and as a result, diabetes is claiming hundreds of new victims, Dr. Richard F. Tomlin, San Francisco, said in an address Friday before the convention of the California State Homeopathic Medical society.

"These people love the flesh pots but try to convince their physicians that they are light eaters," he asserted. "They are just as much drunkards as the man who drinks liquor to excess and the consequences are equally serious. The Volstead law has lured the dissipation to the sugar containing products, and diabetes is on the increase."

In an address on plastic surgery, Dr. George Warren Pierce, San Francisco, surgeon declared that science delivered the knockout punch which ended the ring career of Jack Dempsey heavyweight champion, when he underwent an operation for the remodeling of his nose.

"I was fully convinced that Dempsey never would fight again when the news was published that he had undergone an operation for the reshaping of his nose," Dr. Pierce said. One punch would completely shatter Dempsey's false nose.

Dr. Pierce denounced "beauty specialists" who attempt face lifting and nose remodeling by the injection of paraffin, asserting that "these people constitute one of the worst type of criminals in the country."

SPRING FLOWERS.

(Experimental Farm Note.) Great is the pleasure of the gardener when the first snowdrop appears. This is the first flower in most gardens, and it would be worthy of a place for that reason alone, but its dainty white bells are very appealing and attractive to most people.

Another very early flower is called Bulbocodium vernum and it makes a splash of color immediately after the snow is gone. The flowers are much like crocuses in appearance though botanically they differ. They are light reddish purple in color and remain in bloom for about two weeks.

Scilla sibirica, a small bell shaped blue flower, and alba, which is a creamy white variety, come next and are in bloom with the crocuses. Some of the best of these showy bulbs are Cloth of Gold yellow, the earliest of all. Mont Blanc, white, purpurea grandiflora dark purple, Madame Mina pale lilac with darker stripes.

Of the perennial other than bulbs, one of the earliest to bloom is Arabis alba (Rock Cress) which makes the sheets of white in borders and rock gardens so familiar in Springtime. The single varieties is the earliest, but the double form is a much finer flower and remains longer in bloom.

Another white flower which follows Arabis is Iberis sempervirens (perennial candytuft). This plant is of a shrubby nature and the clusters of flowers stand up above the ground and make handsome clumps. The foliage is dark grey green, very different from the greyish green leaves of Arabis.

Alyssum saxatile, though not quite so hardy as the plants just mentioned is well worth trying. It makes clumps of bright yellow which are very effective in the spring garden.

Aubretia, a dwarf growing plant with flowers of various shades of mauve, needs protection in the Ottawa district.

Myosotis (Forget-me-not), a well known old favorite should be in every garden. Its seeds itself freely, but can be easily destroyed when it encroaches on other plants.

Narcissi are among the most beautiful of spring flowers, and should be mixed in the perennial border in clumps of ten or fifteen of the same variety. The varieties vary in hardiness and the following are among the best: Sir Watkin, Emperor Empress, Mrs. Gray, Seagull, White Lady and Barrii conspicuus.

Tulips. Early flowering varieties can be planted among the Arabis and Forget-me-nots and beautiful effects obtained by careful arrangement of the colours, or they can be put in clumps as suggested for the narcissi. Varieties: Cottage Maid pink and white, Couleur Cardinal deep crimson, Chrysolora yellow, Keizerkroon scarlet and gold, Fred Moore ruddy apricot, Darwin and cottage tulips bloom later and are more satisfactory for the perennial border. There are a large number of varieties and it is difficult to make a selection, but the following are beautiful:

Darwins.
Bartigon, crimson.
Clara Butt, pale pink.
King Harold, deep purple.
Pride of Haarlem, bright red.
Princess Elisabeth, deep pink.
Valentin, bluish violet.
Cottage

Gemeieriana spatulata, bright scarlet.
Inglescombe, pink.
Moonlight, pale yellow.
Mrs. Moon, deeper yellow.
Floote, white edged crimson.

Protection Sans Obstruction.
An old New York farmer attended to the protection of his property and was over to watch the dancing at night says "I'll tell you. He hadn't been out in the world much, and so he was very inquisitive, and the girls' clothes at the dance.

"Some of the ladies' clothes I see here," he said puts me in mind of a barbed wire fence.
"Well," said he, "it's this way, they appear to protect the property without obstructing the view."

SEND PICTURES OF ALL KINDS BY WIRE

Most Delicate Detail Now Transmitted by Wire to District Points

Anything that can be photographed from fingerprints of criminals to elaborate interior decoration is now being accepted as a "message" by the American Telephone & Telegraph Company. The most delicate detail, according to the company officials, has been transmitted as distinctly as words.

One commercial use made of the new process was the sending of an advertisement layout, photographed from a plate of type from a New York firm to a Chicago newspaper, in which it appeared the same day.

An X-Ray picture of a human hand was another message sent yesterday demonstrating possibilities for medical purposes.

News pictures were among the first sent over the wires. President and Mrs. Coolidge leaving the capital in Washington after the inauguration ceremony, were seen the same day in Chicago. Photographs of the effects of the recent tornado in Southern Illinois also were transmitted.

Company officials declared that photostatic copies of signed wills, checks and the like, acceptable as evidence, would be a valuable part of the new business.

HAVE DOGS A SIXTH SENSE? A friend of mine who lives in a detached house overlooking a road on the outskirts of London has a terrier whose conduct tends to the belief that dogs possess some sixth sense of which we know nothing.

The windows of his flat are much too high above the floor for any dog to be able to see out of them. All day long a stream of motor and horse-drawn traffic passes along the road below the windows, and the dog pays not the slightest attention. But now and again a horse and cart goes by which, though apparently he can only hear it, start him into a paroxysm of fury which lasts until the cart is once more out of hearing.

There may be some reason for his fury which we know nothing about but how does the dog know, even when the windows are shut, that that particular cart is passing? For invariably it is the same horse and cart which has this effect upon him.

The canine problem arises: in the case of a dog of my own which lives in the front rooms of my house. At the back there is a garden which cannot be seen from the front; yet the moment a cat or dog comes into the garden my dog, in the front rooms knows that the strange cat or dog is there, for he sets up a loud, angry barking which continues until he is let out, when he rushes into the garden to drive away the intruder.

How did he know?
Another friend of mine owns a bull dog. If anybody who he does not know pushes a latchkey into the lock of the front door at any time of the day or night he does back instantly bristles and he prepares for attack with threatening growls. But if his master or anybody whom the dog does know pushes in the latchkey the animals attitude is entirely different. Yet obviously the dog cannot tell by the sound of the key being pushed into the lock whether the person outside is a stranger or a friend.

It would be interesting if somebody could throw light on the mystery of advance some plausible theory to account for the singular power which dogs alone seem to possess of becoming aware of what is happening out of their sight.

Some People Have Funny Ideas

What do you think Carnation Milk is like? Do you think it is "thick as molasses in January"? It isn't. Do you think it is "syrupy sweet"? It isn't. Do you think it has a funny taste? It hasn't. Do you think something is "put in" to make it keep? There isn't. Do you think some of the food value is taken out? It isn't.

Pure Milk in a modern package—that's all Carnation Milk is just pure milk with part of the natural water content taken out by evaporation. All the food value of full-cream milk is left in. No artificial sweetening or other preservative is added. Each can is hermetically sealed and sterilized to keep its contents pure, sweet, and utterly safe.

Carnation Milk is a great aid to better baking because of its convenience, safety and richness. Always ready for use on your pantry shelf—none is wasted because it keeps sweet for several days when opened. Sold by grocers everywhere—order several tall (16 oz.) cans or by the case of 48 cans. Send for copy of Mary Blake's Cook Book—address: Carnation Milk Products Company, Limited, Aylmer, Ontario.
