WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 14, 1907.

The Western fever, which has raged more or less intermittently the past few years, appears to be abating somewhat. While many of the voyagers will always find "fresh fields and pastures new" alluring, the more mature are becoming observant, of the many returned wanderers who, after a trial of the West, conclude the old home is best after all. The young man unhampered by family responsibilities may be excused for taking a trip which will broaden his experience and furnish him a valuable storehouse of comparison by which he may better appreciate the merits and demerits of his own country, but the man with a family dependent upon him, or a man whose habits and tastes are fixed, is in almost every case better off at home.

The usual demand for western laborers to harvest the western crop is not unabated this fall, but never was there a better demand for laborers to harvest the home crops, and the man staying at home will put as much money in his pocket and save the price of his ticket. The hardships of last winter in the western lands and the scarcity of fuel have not been forgotten, nor does there appear to have been any material provision made to prevent a similar condition of affairs the coming season.

ENGLISH APPLE CROP

WILL BE A SHORT ONE.

British fruit buyers are gradually adopting the method of purchasing fruit by weight instead of by measure, and this, says Mr. Jackson, Canadian Agent at Leeds, in his report to the Department, will be to the benefit of Canadian shippers, as apples from this country are heavier in proportion to bulk, than are those imported from other countries. Mr. Jackson predicts a serious shortage in the English apple crops, and a bumper market for Canadian fruit.

LOWE-WALKER.

On August the 1st, Harry W. Lowe, of Clementsport, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lowe, formerly keepers of the Alms House, Bridgetown, was married to Miss Annie Walker, daughter of Captain Andrew Walker, of the same place. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. William McNeil, of Annapolis Royal, pastor of the Methodist Church, where the happy couple were married.

On their return a delightful reception was given at the home of the guests. The bride looked charming and the groom happy. They were the recipients of a number of handsome and useful presents given by their many friends. After enjoying a very pleasant evening and wishing the happy couple success in their married life, the reception terminated, truly enjoyed by all.

Obituary.

WALTER HEALEY.

At Outram, on August 5th, there passed to his eternal rest Mr. Walter Healey, at the ripe age of eighty-one years, leaving a wife and eight children to mourn the loss of a kind husband and loving father, besides a host of friends. Fifty-six years ago, Mr. Healey was baptized by the Rev. William Ridout, and from that time he has ever been found at his post in God's house. He was ever ready in all good work to use his money freely, giving liberally toward the support of the Gospel. His family are all settled in homes of their own. Gilbert, Esq., of St. John's, Charles in California, and Alfred M., who owns and occupies the homestead, are the sons. Mrs. William Hall, of St. Croix, Mrs. Charles Brown, of Lynn, Mrs. Eliza Rietzen, of Hampton, and Mrs. James Brown, of Digby, are the daughters. The family have the true sympathy of all in their bereavement.—COM.

MRS. DELANCY HARRIS.

The death occurred at her home, Granville Street, on Wednesday night last of Mrs. Delancy Harris, for many years a well-known resident of our town.

Mrs. Harris had passed her three score years and ten and had outlived all her immediate family, her husband having predeceased her eight years ago. She had no children but a number of Mr. Harris' children are living.

Of a retiring disposition Mrs. Harris' circle of friends was not extended to those who knew her best appreciated her true worth. During her illness, which covered a period of some months, she was attended by Miss Edith Crosskill.

Among her bequests was $300 to the Church of England and $500 to Providence Methodist Church, having been an attendant at the services of both churches.

The funeral was held from her late residence on Saturday afternoon and was conducted by Rev. E. Underwood G. F. Johnson and C. Jost.

HOW TO TEST FLOUR.

How to know when food stuffs are "good," is a puzzle that faces the inexperienced housekeeper at every turn. From market to butcher, from butcher to grocer, the same perplexity awaits her, but she can escape many mistakes by keeping a pad to jot down things she has proved, and has reason to know will be good.

Good flour should be creamy, not dead white, nor yet have that bluish cast that some flours have. It should not feel damp, sticky nor clammy. It should not form into lumps when pressed in the hand; it should have some elasticity, some "life," as the millers express it. When made into dough it will be elastic, easy to knead, staying in round, pull shape with a springiness that is quite noticeable.

Ontario fall wheat flour, with its rich, mellow flavor, provides that beautiful brown crust in well made bread. Manitoba flour provides the gluten. The two combined and blended in just the right proportions, give the good qualities of both, with their faults eliminated.

This Blended Flour stands every test. It has already gained a deservedly popular place in the esteem of good housekeepers, and in fact they declare the Blended Flour is far ahead of any other that can be bought today.

The best way to assure yourself of the quality of flour is to buy a little and try it. You will save yourself some trouble, however, if you begin by using Blended Flour, then you won't want to use any other. Blended Flour is certainly best for bread, and best for pastry.
