THE CANADIAN MAGAZINE OF EDUCATION AND LITERATURE.

THE CANADA EDUCATIONAL MONTHLY.

IN 1890 THE CANADA EDUCATIONAL MONTHLY will enter its twelfth year. Its position has now become established as the chief authority in Canada on general educational questions and on matters relating to the interests of Teachers, Schools and Colleges throughout the land; as such it is frequently referred to and quoted by the Press and public men of the country.

THE MONTHLY AIMS at advocating and assisting every movement that is in the best interests of the country, particularly those connected with education, and concerning those who are entrusted with the important duty of instructing the youth of the country, and preparing them for the discharge of their duties in after life as individuals and citizens.

THE EDITORIALS are written by educational workers, and are thoroughly independent in tone.

THE CORRESPONDENCE DEPARTMENT is open to all interested in educational and literary affairs, and affords a valuable medium for the expression of opinion.

THE SCHOOL WORK DEPARTMENT is divided into the sub-departments of CLASSICS, MATHEMATICS, MODERN LANGUAGES, SCIENCE, THE CLASS-ROOM, under the charge of able men. Among the Editors of Departments may be mentioned Professor Fletcher of Queen's University; Professor Fraser of University College, Toronto; Principal Strang of Goderich High School.

In THE DEPARTMENT OF CONTEMPORARY LITERATURE, reviews and criticisms are given of the chief English and American magazines, and of new books issued, particular attention being paid to all works likely to interest the readers of THE MONTHLY, either in connection with their profession or with general subjects. Books suitable for school prizes are also frequently reviewed.

The original articles, and those selected from the best educational and other magazines and journals of England and the United States, have frequently been spoken of by high authority as the very best of reading, and worth more than ten times the subscription price.

THE DEPARTMENTS OF NOTES FOR TEACHERS and PUBLIC OPINION are always interesting, and furnish teachers with material for making their lessons fresh and attractive.

The Editor would take this opportunity of thanking all the friends of THE MONTHLY for their cordial support and valuable assistance.

Among many letters and press notices received, the following is one of the most valuable as being the (unsolicited) opinion of one of the most experienced and highly respected of Canadian teachers:

To the Treasurer of The Canada Educational Monthly;

"Enclosed you will find P. O. Order. I have been extraordinarily pleased with THE CANADA EDUCATIONAL MONTHLY. I think it is the best educational journal that has yet come under my notice. Almost every article attains to first rate excellence, and is well worth the most careful perusal. The Editor seems to understand where the precious ore is to be found, and the remarks on books, etc., I esteem highly valuable and judicious. They have often been a guide to myself in the selection or recommendation of a work to the students. May it long continue to inform and instruct."
