Houses of Glass

By Wallace Lloyd (Dr. Jas. Algie)

"That the book is interesting from cover to cover is proved by the old time test that the reader who begins it will sacrifice hours of sleep to finish it."—Hamilton (Camden) Times.

Paper, 50c. Cloth, $1.00.

The Crown of Life

By Geo. Gissing.

"Some authors are like wine, they improve with age. Mr. Gissing is evidently one of this class. This is by all odds the best thing he has produced. He has put good, honest work into it and has produced a book of which very few, if any, of the living writers of fiction would have cause to be ashamed."—Mail and Empire.

Paper, 50c. Cloth, $1.00.

The Vizier of the Two-Horned Alexander

By Frank R. Stockton.

One of the most original and entertaining of all of Mr. Stockton's books.

Paper, 50c. Cloth, $1.00.

Terence

By Mrs. B. M. Croker.

"Told with a full measure of Mrs. Croker's vivacity and humor."—Spectator

"Mrs. Croker can draw very attractive heroines, and Maureen D'Arcy is quite worthy to rank among that attractive company."—Morning Leader.

Paper, 50c. Cloth, $1.00.
