"MAZZINI in his day saw clearly that the man who thinks to solve the riddle of the time by solving its political or economic problem has got but a little way beneath the surface," says Edwin D. Mead in the August New England Magazine. "The new synthesis which alone can satisfy must take account of every capacity of man and every hunger of his heart. The paid attorney for the defence and the paid preacher will not succeed by any poor minimising of material things to blunt the shafts of the industrial reformer or blind the eyes of the poor man to the vision of the freedom which comfort gives and opportunity. But if we were all comfortable to-morrow, all well
