I have come by way of Europe and India and Pakistan. When I leave you I shall go on to Indonesia, to the Philippines and from there to Korea and Japan. Atthis mid-way point of and from there to Korea and Japan. Atthis mid-way point of and from there to Korea and Japan. Atthis mid-way point of and from there to Korea and Japan. Atthis mid-way point of and to make this trip. I came to see for myself something of the to make this trip. I came to see for myself something of the to make this trip. I came to see for myself something of the to make this trip. I came to see for myself something of the to make this trip. I came to see for myself something of the to make this trip. I came to see for myself something of the to make this trip. I came to see for myself something of the to make this trip. I came to see for myself something of the to make this trip. I came to see for myself something of the to make this trip. I came to see for myself something of the to make this trip. I came to see for myself something of the to make this trip. I came to see for myself something of the to make this trip. I came to see for myself something of the to make this trip. I came to see for myself something of the to make this trip. I came to see for myself something of the to make this trip. I came to see for myself something of the to make this mid-way point of the total trip.

I regret that there are many important countries in Southeast Asia which time will not allow me to visit, but the welcome I have received in Ceylon and in the other countries I have so far visited has strengthened my conviction that there is a very real and abiding basis for mutual ion that there is a very real and western peoples. I help and co-operation between Asian and Western peoples. I help and co-operation between Asian and western peoples. I have naturally been struck by the many differences between have naturally been struck by the meany differences in the climate your part of the world and mine, differences in the climate your part of the world and in the great undertakings of the of life of the people, and in the great undertakings of the of life of the people, and in the great undertakings of the past and those of our own times. But what has impressed me past and those of our own times. But what has impressed me had aspirations of Asian peoples are the same as those of our and aspirations of Asian peoples are the same as those of our and aspirations of Asian peoples are the same as those of our and aspirations of Asian peoples are the same as those of our and does still transcend all those differences. Man's artistic and does still transcend all those differences. Man's artistic and technical processes have varied throughout the ages and and technical processes have varied throughout they have always in the various lands where he has lived but they have always in the various lands where he has lived but they have always in the various lands where he has lived but they have always in the various lands where he has lived but they have always in the physical needs and higher aspirations of his immater-both his physical needs and higher aspirations of his immater-

I am very happy to have been able to spend these few short days in your dountry and, in departing, I pray that fortune may continue to smile upon you and upon Ceylon! Sri Lanka!
