

tionship of understanding and co-operation between peoples of the world is still possible — founded, as the Commonwealth is, on an attitude of equality, friendship and mutual self-respect. Canada's active support for the Commonwealth association is designed to ensure that this possibility does not disappear.