

pride when they look back on fifty years of fine tradition. I hope our Association will grow closer as the years go by. The facilities which McGill can offer to your graduate students are better today than ever before. Finally, I look back with considerable pleasure to the visit I paid to Stanstead College some few years ago. Perhaps on another occasion you will let me come to see you. Professor Clarke, Chairman of the Department of Education, will represent McGill at your Banquet to-morrow night and will convey personally the best wishes of this University and myself.

With kindest personal regards,

I am,

Ever yours faithfully,

Principal.
