

viz., the regular payment of Class-money into the hands of the Steward; directing or sanctioning the disbursements; an examination of the Class Books, with special inquiry after the sick, that they may be visited; filling up vacancies or electing new officers; determining on notices for the pulpit, and the times of such announcements; and superintending all other matters which appertain to the Society. It shall also be the duty of the Leaders to consider what plans of usefulness may be devised; zealously and prayerfully carrying them out into actual and continued operation.

7. The Leaders' Meeting shall co-operate with the Preachers, in carrying into effect the Rules of the Connexion and the Resolutions of Conference; so that proper discipline may be maintained, and the hands of our Preachers be strengthened in the duties with which they are intrusted.

SOCIETY STEWARDS.

8. To each Society there shall be two Stewards chosen from its members, one of whom shall act as Treasurer, and the other as Secretary, agreeably to their appointment; they shall be persons of stability; acquainted with our Rules, and attached to our system; men of order and diligence; discreet in the management of their own affairs, and able to manage the temporal concerns of the Society. Providing other suitable brethren can be found to undertake the office, neither Local Preachers nor Leaders shall be chosen for Society Stewards.

9. The Society Stewards shall be nominated by the Leaders' Meeting, (but where there is no